SENATE VOTES TO PIGEONHOLE POLL TAX BILL

Follows Defeat of Cloture Motion.

Roll call vote which defeated a motion to limit senate debate on the poll tax measure is on page 7.

BY PHILIP DODD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 15.—The senate today ended a week's futile consideration of the anti-poll tax bill by voting down a motion for cloture—limitation of debate on the measure—and voting to take up other legislation, thus eliminating the poll tax proposal from the calendar.

The motion for cloture, which requires a two-thirds vote for passage, was defeated by a vote of 44 against and 36 in favor. Party lines split, 18 Republicans, 17 Democrats, and one Progressive favoring the motion and 14 Republicans and 30 Democrats voting against it. The petition for cloture was filed last Thursday by Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.]. It was signed by 29 senators, 13 more than the necessary one-sixth of the membership.

As soon as Vice President Wallace, presiding, announced the result of the cloture vote, Sen. Clark [D., Mo.] moved to consider routine veterans aid bills. Proponents of the poll tax bill attacked Clark's motion because its approval would automatically stop consideration of their bill.

Oppose Further Debate.

Sen. McCarran [D., Nev.], chairman of the judiciary committee, which brought the poll tax bill to the floor after its approval by the house, asserted he would not consent to the bill's being taken off the floor without a record vote.

Other senators protested further debate on the bill would be a waste of the senate's time. Sen. Barkley, majority leader, said he was convinced the bill could not be brought to a vote.

After Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.] said he was willing to keep the senate in session all summer to get a vote on poll tax legislation, Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.] suggested a vote to lay the bill on the table, in order to get a record vote. His proposal was ruled out of order.

Sen. Clark's motion was adopted 41 to 35, party lines being split again. Twelve Republicans and 29 Democrats voted for the motion, with 16 Republicans, 18 Democrats, and one Progressive opposing.

Council Blames Roosevelt.

The anti-poll tax bill provides that payment of a poll tax should not be a requirement for voting for Presidential and Vice Presidential electors, and members of congress. Eight southern states have poll tax laws.

The National Negro council tonight placed the blame for halting consideration of the anti-poll tax bill on President Roosevelt.

"President Roosevelt must accept the major responsibility for scuttling the bill and its abandonment by a tricky parliamentary maneuver," asserted Edgar G. Brown of Chicago, president of the council, in a statement.

"It [the maneuver] was engineered by Sen. Clark, a Democrat, and approved by Sen. Lucas [Ill.], a Democrat, and Sen. Barkley, a Democrat," said Brown.

Asks Sanity Test of 29 in Sedition Case

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Impaneling of the jury to hear the trial of 29 alleged seditionists on charges of conspiring with the Nazis to disaffect American soldier morale was nearly completed today in the federal court of the District of Columbia.

Only one defense challenge remained to be exercised against any one of the 12 tentatively accepted jurors. If one of the panel is challenged, Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher will choose the twelfth juror.

The proceedings today were spiced with the repeated demands by Defendant Lawrence Dennis, author of "The Dynamics of War and Revolution," that all 29 of the alleged seditionists be examined for sanity.

In a statement mostly drowned out by the pounding gavel of Justice Eicher, Dennis asserted that one of the 29 defendants had been under observation at the army hospital in Washington, and on the basis of the acts of others in the courtroom he was requesting that all be given a sanity examination.

Refuses to Dismiss Jurors.

Justice Eicher denied Dennis' request and followed it up with denial of motions of defense attorneys that the prospective jurors then in the courtroom and who overheard Dennis' statement be discharged on the grounds that it would prejudice the jury against the other defendants.

The justice also overruled a request of Edward James Smythe, the defendant who held up the start of the trial an entire day by going on a fishing trip into the Adirondacks instead of coming to the court, to dismiss his counsel, Atty. James J. Laughlin.

The ruddy faced Smythe, who has kept a copy of the Constitution in his lap for reference purposes thruout the last four weeks of proceedings, told the judge that he considered Laughlin the most capable attorney in Washington but that they could not agree on the handling of the case. Smythe said he was demanding that Laughlin file a paper to disqualify Justice Eicher from presiding at the trial but that Laughlin had refused to take such action.

No Hope for Fair Trial.

"I consider you a political opponent and a servant of the New Deal," Smythe told Justice Eicher. He added that he did not believe that he could "get a fair trial in this court" because he had been a witness against Justice Eicher in contempt proceedings brought by the judge against Laughlin before Justice Jennings Bailey.

Laughlin was fined $150 last week on a contempt of court charge after he had filed various motions on behalf of Smythe to summon important personages as witnesses and had filed an affidavit on behalf of Robert Noble, a defendant, alleging Justice Eicher was prejudiced against the defendants, because, the affidavit charged President Roose-

CHAPLIN LOSES PLEA TO AVOID PATERNITY SUIT

Civil Rights Case Is Dismissed.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 15 [Special].—The paternity suit brought against Charles Chaplin, former screen comedian, by red haired Joan Berry, who accuses Chaplin of being the father of her 7 month old daughter, Carol Ann, must be tried on its merits, the state Supreme court ruled today.

This blow at Chaplin's efforts to extricate himself from the legal imbroglio precipitated by Miss Berry's charges was announced in San Francisco simultaneously with action in the federal court here freeing the English born actor from the last of three criminal indictments arising from his relations with his former protege.

[Supreme court defines limits of Mann act. Page 13.]

Two Justices Dissent.

The Supreme court held, with two justices dissenting, that Miss Berry and her child are entitled to a day in court in an effort to prove Chaplin's paternity despite her stipulation to dismiss the action if blood tests indicated the impossibility of his fatherhood of Carol Ann. The ruling sustained a decision of the Los Angeles Superior court that no one, even an expectant mother, can sign away the rights of an unborn child.

Chaplin must now plead to Miss Berry's complaint within 10 days, it was said, after which a trial date will be set. A representative of Joseph Scott, Miss Berry's counsel, said, "We are ready to go to trial at once." Miss Berry is asking $2,500 a month for the support of her child.

The criminal charge from which Chaplin was freed today was an indictment charging him with conspiring with three others to deprive Miss Berry of her civil rights thru prosecuting her for vagrancy in an effort to force her to leave California.

Others Are Cleared.

Cleared with Chaplin by the dismissal were his co-defendants, Robert Arden, radio commentator; Thomas Wells Durant, sportsman friend of Chaplin, and Police Capt. W. W. White of the Beverly Hills police department.

The end of the government's effort to convict Chaplin came without fanfare. Not a defendant or a defense attorney was in court.

Miss Berry's civil suit against Chaplin is now the last legal vestige of the avalanche of litigation which descended on the erstwhile comedian a year ago. Chaplin shortly thereafter married Oona O'Neil, daughter of Playwright Eugene O'Neil.

"Settlement" Signed.

A stipulation for settlement of this suit under certain contingencies was signed several months ago between attorneys for Chaplin and Miss Berry. Terms were that the suit should be dismissed if blood tests indicated Chaplin could not be the father and that it should be tried on its merits if the tests showed a possibility of his parenthood. In accordance with the stipulation, Chaplin paid about $15,000 for Miss Berry's expenses.

Blood tests were undertaken by physicians selected by the attorneys and an announcement was subsequently made by counsel for Chaplin that the tests showed his fatherhood an impossibility. The Chaplin attorneys moved for dismissal of the case the next day, but Miss Berry was represented by a new attorney who challenged the stipulation.

69 Year Old Mother of 7 Completes Grade School

Newark, N. J., May 15 (AP).—Because an irate bus driver 12 years ago growled, "Watsa matter, cancha read?" and pointed at a sign when Mrs. Joseph Montone asked him if the vehicle was going to Nutley, the 69 year old Italian born woman, who is the mother of seven children, will be graduated May 24 from a grammar school. After the bus incident, she enrolled in the first grade to learn to read.

1,000 Gallons of Milk Poured Into a Sewer

Atlanta, Ga., May 15 (AP).—One thousand gallons of Georgia milk was poured into a downtown Atlanta sewer today because, said James D. Gay, general manager of the Georgia Milk Producers confederation, the office of defense transportation "won't let us deliver milk on Sunday."

The milk had accumulated in the confederation plant over Sunday and "had to be disposed of," said Gay. "We tried to give it away to charitable organizations but they took only 60 gallons."

Tried to Save Cream.

J. C. Newton, assistant manager of the confederation, said "We tried to save all the cream we could" and some of the milk had been skimmed.

The general manager said, "We contacted the ODT Saturday, to get permission to deliver the milk, but they said 'the request is irregular' and refused us permission. We don't want to keep the milk here—people need it."

Decline to Make Exception.

Officials of ODT declined comment. The agency Friday night announced final rejection of the confederation's request to make Sunday deliveries, asserting the milk coöperative could dispose of surplus milk accumulated over the week-end if it used all available outlets and facilities. ODT said no general exception had been permitted to a nation-wide ban on Sunday milk deliveries.

WOMAN JUROR THINKS 'WRONG MAN WAS SHOT'

Washington, D. C., May 15 [Special].—An assertion by a prospective woman juror that "the wrong man was shot" provoked an uproar today at the opening of the trial of Robert Ingersoll Miller, 67, Washington criminal lawyer, who is accused of murder.

Miller shot and killed Dr. John E. Lind, 56, a psychiatrist, last Feb. 21 as the latter drove up to a Washington department store in an automobile with Miller's blonde wife, Marguerite, 42.

Judge Ben Moore of Charleston, W. Va., rapped sharply for order when a courtroom demonstration was provoked by the remark about the wrong man being killed. The talesman, Mrs. Ethel Wagerman, was excused.

BOY READS OF CRASH; HE AND PAL CONFESS RELEASING TROLLEY

Capt. Michael J. Ahern of the Rogers Park police station said last night that Buxton L. Johnson Jr., 15, of 404 Lee st., Evanston, and Robert H. Mason, 16, of the Evanshire hotel, 860 Hinman av., Evanston, confessed that they started an empty street car which crashed into a northbound Clark st. car between Touhy and Chase avs. Sunday.

The Johnson boy read in THE TRIBUNE that 12 persons were injured in the crash, and he told his father that he had accidentally put the reverse control lever into gear, Capt. Ahern said. The two boys jumped off the car and went to a show. They were released to their parents, and will appear in Juvenile court at 9:30 a. m. today.

Thomas Henry, motorman, and Lester Owens, conductor, who were in a restaurant, have been suspended pending an investigation of the accident, the company reported. Capt. Ahern said motormen should take control levers with them when they leave their cars. Two of the injured persons remained in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, yesterday.

BIG OIL WELL 'COMES IN' ON CHURCH LAND

Heidelberg, Miss., May 15 [Special].—The Gulf Refining company's Roger Lacey oil well, located almost in the center of this village of 700 persons on land owned by two churches and 16 individuals, was producing a flow today estimated by observers at from 500 to 700 barrels daily.

The Roger Lacey "came in" during the week-end when oil sands were perforated between 4,760 feet and 5,033 feet, drillers said. Progress of the drilling of this well has been watched with interest by oil men and villagers for the last two weeks. It is the third producer in the promising new oil field in the Heidelberg area.

The 40 acre unit on which the Roger Lacey well is located includes property owned by the Methodist and Baptist churches. W. H. Claypool, local oil man, said the property was leased for about $175 an acre with a one-fourth production royalty instead of the customary one-eighth.

China In Peril; U. S. Must Aid Her, Say British

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 16 [Tuesday].—America must take the lead in rushing all possible help to China to prevent her from collapsing, editorialized the Daily Mail this morning.

"That possibility suddenly has become very real," it said, adding: "Things must be serious indeed to send the Vice President of the United States hurrying to China."

Urging more help be sent to China, but not specifying how this is to be done, the editorial says: "It must, in the nature of things, be primarily an American responsibility, and we have no doubt it will be efficiently discharged. If at the same time the Chinese government could be made to understand the concealment of truth always does the utmost harm, another good service will be done for the allied cause."

China Called Weak.

It mentioned the Jap seizure of part of the Peiping-Hankow railway and the thrust into Honan province, which threatens to cut off 1,000,000 Chinese soldiers, as demonstrating the "progressive weakness" since China entered into alliance with the western powers.

Disclosure of the grave situation, it said, comes as a shock to many people in this country, who admittedly did not think much about the war in China and dismissed as "so remote as to be scarcely worth consideration" any idea that China might collapse.

Corruption Cited.

Military setbacks, according to the Daily Mail, are not the worst of China's troubles. "Far from being united under one leader, the country is split almost into two nations, under the Communist and Kuomintang governments, which fight each other instead of the Japs," it pointed out.

China's "traditional failings, incompetence and corruption," still exist, it said, and the "democratic facade conceals the form of government, which is increasingly totalitarian." It disapproved the "iron censorship" of news from China.

If the Japs conquer China, the Daily Mail warned, "our prospects of winning the war in the far east will be put back by years."

YANKS AND FRENCH SLUG AHEAD TO NEW POSITIONS

ARMY ENGINEERS BECOME DIVERS AND SAVE BRIDGE

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, May 15.—Under persistent enemy shell fire and under the arch of our own artillery, an American engineer unit today engaged in one of the most perilous tasks in the army's advance—salvaging a bridge from the swift moving lower Garigliano river with makeshift diving outfits.

The Germans were making a desperate effort to halt the flow of big guns, ammunition, and supplies across the stream, but today convoys trundled steadily across the sturdy floating bridges.

The engineers volunteered for the diving work—none of them had ever had such an experience before.

Weights in Cartridge Belts.

The divers wore ordinary G. I. gas masks with a thin rubber hose thru which the air was pumped to them from a compression machine on a rubber raft. They were clad in sweatshirts and regular field shoes and a strap of cartridge belts loaded with 20 pound weights to keep them down.

The divers went down one at a time for intervals of 15 to 20 minutes. They descended about 25 feet and stood in rocks and slime in the river bed.

Their chore was to help pry loose the wreckage of American built bridges, which the Germans have shelled and bombed. This was done by a diver attaching ropes or hooks to the smashed installations, which could then be lifted out of the water by cranes.

Danger of Underwater Blast.

The pressure is heavy, the current is always rapid, and several lads have suffered ruptured eadrums. And there was always the danger of an underwater blast from an enemy shell.

Among the divers were Privates Lawrence Harrington, Kansas, Ill.; Thomas F. Wagner, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Filiberto Flores, Pueblo, Colo., and Emil P. Nord, Ferdinand, Ind.

Others in this little military community at one of the hottest spots on the front included smoke screen units, bridge construction, and wire laying crews.

Robert Wolfberg, 5511 Jackson blvd., Chicago, was with a smoke pot crew. He feeds the fuel to the generator, which spreads a thick protective cloud around the bridges.

Tells of Signal Corps Men.

The commanding officer of the bridge construction unit is 1st Lt. Raymond Agree, Logan, W. Va., and his executive officer is 1st Lt. Raymond Donald Ford, 427 Central av., Wilmette, Ill. Their squad leaders include Sgt. Ewing Wray, 2433 Congress st., Chicago, and Sgt. Edward Wenzel, Vulcan, Mich. Wray told of four signal corps men killed Saturday night near a bridge.

"They were laying wire in the darkness, when the Germans threw over some shells," Wray said. "Three of them were killed instantly, and the fourth died en route to the hospital."

Seize More Towns; 8th Army Fights for Break-Thru.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, May 15 (AP). — French and American troops "tore to shreds" the southern half of the Germans' Gustav line today and a breakthru by the British 8th army appeared imminent in the heavily defended sector south of Cassino.

Fanning out thru 60 square miles of rugged tableland and flat river valleys which they controled after fierce fighting since the push opened Thursday night, 5th and 8th army troops slugged forward to new positions.

Penetration of the Gustav line developed into what was reported officially as a "significant breach," but beyond it and up the Liri valley leading to the Adolf Hitler line the way is studded with anti-tank positions and the Germans still hold commanding ground north of the valley.

French Gains Total Seven Miles.

More than 2,000 Nazi prisoners already had streamed back into the allied pens, and the enemy's losses in killed and wounded had been correspondingly heavy.

Gen. Alphonse Juin's Fighting French — some of them as far as seven miles ahead of their original starting points — battled to the tops of hills dominating San Giorgio in the Liri valley southwest of Cassino and captured the important town of Ausonia, a few miles to the south.

[Gen. Juin said in a telegram to Gen. Charles de Gaulle at Algiers that his French expenditionary corps had entered San Giorgio, seized a dominating ridge to the south, and captured Corino in a general advance against the Germans, who were retreating in disorder. He said the French had taken 1,000 prisoners with the number of captives mounting steadily.]

Americans Cross Highway.

In the course of Sunday's advance Gen. Juin's forces took the villages of San Ambrogio, Valle Maio, and a number of other points. They also mopped up several enemy strongpoints that were bypassed on the first and second days of the offensive.

American doughboys, fighting on the left of the French, slashed across the important Ausonia-Formia highway and captured commanding heights beyond.

American units were fighting on the approaches of Spigno, five miles south of Ausonia, after having smashed the enemy out of the villages of Santa Marie Infante and San Pietro and captured vital mountain positions on both sides of the Ausente river.

[The Baltimore Sun, in a dispatch from its war correspondent, Price Day, said allied troops had entered Spigno. The entry of troops does not necessarily mean capture.]

Germans Face a Trap.

The Americans threw new bridges across the lower Garigliano river in the face of heavy shelling by German long range guns. Crossing of the Ausonia-Formia highway forces the enemy to depend on another highway 12 miles to the west for communication with his troops on the seacoast.

German troops trapped between the swiftly advancing American and French spearheads appeared to face the choices of fleeing into the lofty Arunci mountain range at their backs, surrendering or being annihilated.

[The German high command asserted that German troops had recaptured Santa Maria Infante, DNB, German news agency, reported in a broadcast. There was no allied confirmation, however. A correspondent of DNB reported that the allies were preparing to open "fresh operations" on the eastern side of the Anzio beachhead, approximately 50 miles from the 5th army's present advance.]

British 8th army forces deepened their hard won bridgehead across the Rapido river south of Cassino to more than a mile and threatened to outflank Cassino's powerful defenses.

Eighth army troops in the Cassino sector worked furiously, building bridges and pouring tanks across the Rapido to speed their advance. Gurkhas from India cleaned out remaining enemy strongpoints among the cellar labyrinths of San Angelo, which was cut off earlier and bypassed. Other allied troops eliminated Nazi pockets in the area where the Liri and Rapido rivers join.

Advance parties of allied forces have stabbed within a few miles of the Hitler line, a string of camouflaged pill boxes, dugouts, and emplacements. The Rapido bridgehead now is strongly established, said a field dispatch.

Slowed at One Point.

The only point where the allied attack appeared to have slowed down was northwest of Cassino, where the Germans had rushed in reënforcements and hastily strengthened their defenses against the Poles. Southwest of Cassino a crack Nazi parachute division counterattacked repeatedly with the support of artillery and a few tanks.

The German controled Rome radio said today that the allies had increased pressure northeast of Cassino and were attempting to break thru with strong infantry supported by tanks. Northwest of Cassino, the broadcast said, Nazi forces sharply counter-attacked and destroyed 38 allied tanks. The broadcast acknowledged that German forces had abandoned Mount Maio, south of Cassino.

For the third straight day the allied air forces unleashed virtually everything on hand against the enemy, attacking him at every vulnerable point between his gun positions and command posts on the battle line and his freight yards in northern Italy.

Mustangs and Kittyhawk fighters maintained a "cab rank" above some sectors, whipping down continuously to bomb and strafe specific targets in conformance with radio orders from observers on the ground. A dozen types of combat planes piled up 2,500 sorties yesterday.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Monday's German war bulletin as broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press said:

"On the southern Italian front, the enemy again yesterday [Sunday] continued his attacks with the greatest engagement of men and material. After embittered struggles, in the course of which the enemy south of Cassino alone lost 50 tanks, our troops operating in the most southern sector moved several kilometers westward into previously prepared positions.

"Acting Corp. Albert Bruckner of an anti-tank parachute company knocked out six enemy tanks in 24 hours. Italian motor torpedo boats sank an enemy corvette in the waters off Anzio. One enemy motor torpedo boat was sunk and another was crippled severely by anti-aircraft fire aboard a German steamer west of Livorno [Leghorn]."

FLYERS SEARCH FOR AXIS SHIPS IN GREEK SEAS

CAIRO, Egypt, May 15 (AP).—Middle east aircraft in a search for shipping harassed enemy vessels from the west coast of Greece to the eastern Aegean thruout yesterday, it was announced today.

Attacking the cannon fire, Beaufighters blew up one vessel, destroyed another, and damaged a third. Shipping was attacked in Kalamai harbor in southeast Greece, and supply vessels at Kephallenia harbor off the west coast. A German seaplane was shot down.

Adm. Hewitt Makes Plea for Beer on Warships

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, May 15 (AP).—United States naval craft in Northwest African water would have beer aboard if he had his way, Vice Adm. H. K. Hewitt said today. All alcoholic beverages have been banned on American naval vessels since before prohibition. Hewitt, United States naval commander for the Northwest Africa area, said one of the biggest complaints of his men was that they could not get ashore often enough for a drink of beer.

Allies Advance on Italian Front

Day's developments told in the legends.

POLES FIGHTING NAZIS IN ROCKY CASSINO SECTOR

Face Toughest Units of German Forces.

WITH THE POLISH ARMY IN ITALY, May 14 [Delayed]—(AP).—Polish troops who have waited four years to battle the Germans on a big scale again were thrown against their old time enemies at the opening of the offensive against the Gustav line last Thursday night and have been in the thick of the fighting ever since.

Theirs was one of the most difficult of all sectors of this difficult front.

The Germans facing them were the toughest of all the Germans here—the 1st, or Green Devil, parachute division. To make the task harder, the Germans were in the process of relieving units as the Poles attacked, which meant they encountered the enemy in double strength.

In Cassino Mountain Sector.

The Polish attack came in the almost impossible mountain sector just north of Cassino and Monastery hill and they made their thrust westward toward the Liri valley, the entrance of which is guarded by the stronghold of Cassino.

In the spring months during which the allies were making their gallant but fruitless frontal attacks on Cassino, such a move never was undertaken because it was considered all but impossible.

As they waited to go into battle the Polish soldiers lay on rocky ledges and slopes of the Donofrino region. Around them were the corpses of American, British, and Indian soldiers who had fallen there and could not be buried because the place was under almost continual German fire. There was no soil, only rock, and graves could not be dug.

They moved tanks up these slopes, so rough that not even a tank could travel without engineers to lay a path for it.

Two Brothers from Chicago.

They went into action against a superior German force, gained their first objectives, and then were driven back by the most furious counter-attack the Germans have yet launched in this offensive.

Casualties were heavy on both sides, heavier than anywhere else on the Italian front. The Poles regrouped and went back into the attack and the fight still is raging.

With the Poles are two American liaison officers who are brothers, Lt. Col. Henry J. Szymonski of Evanston, Ill., and Lt. Fred R. Szymonski of Chicago.

Col. Szymonski met the Poles as they came out of Russia two years ago and has been with them since. His brother joined them in Egypt.

"I learned Polish as a boy from my parents, but meanwhile had forgotten it," said the colonel, who is a West Point graduate. "But the Pestski [Polish WACs] taught it to me again."

DARLAN-CLARK PACT NO LONGER BINDING, ASSERTS DE GAULLE

ALGIERS, May 15 (AP).—The French consultative assembly changed the name of the French Committee for National Liberation today to "the Provisional Government of the French Republic" and expressed confidence in the committee's "practical arrangements" with the allies to assure assistance in the invasion and maintenance of French sovereignty.

During debate on foreign affairs, Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared that France did not consider herself bound by the accords made by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and Adm. Jean Darlan in North Africa in November, 1942, at the time of the allied landings.

When a delegate criticized the agreement, De Gaulle stated:

"I wish to say publicly that France does not at all consider herself bound by arrangements which were formerly made between allied military authorities and Darlan. Times moves on, and many changes in fact have been made in operation of the Clark-Darlan accords."

TWO CARS OF 'FRISCO' DERAILED.

Omaha, Neb., May 15 [AP].—Two cars of the westbound City of San Francisco were derailed at Sunol, Neb., today, but there were no injuries and the entire train remained upright, Union Pacific railroad headquarters here said.

PLASMA PILED LIKE CORDWOOD, SO YANKS LIVE

BY GEORGE TUCKER.

AT THE 8TH EVACUATION HOSPITAL, 5TH ARMY FRONT, Italy, May 15 (AP).—This is the shock ward of an emergency hospital where blood plasma is stacked like cordwood.

All thru the day and night litter-bearers have come in from the environs of Santa Maria Infante, which our infantry retook yesterday after the Germans had kicked us out.

The litter-bearers place the wounded on saw horses, such as carpenters use, and when every inch of space is crowded the patients spill over into adjoining wards.

When a man is hit he goes "in shock." His blood pressure falls and his pulse beat increases. Unless he can be brought out of the shock, he can't survive an operation and that is where plasma comes in.

Almost Hopeless, They Survive.

You walk down the lengthening rows of white faces and wonder how they can pull thru. Plasma does it. I saw a man from Ohio take 10 units of plasma and come back from the fluttery edges of death. Color flooded back into his face and his pulse fell almost to normal. Now he is almost certain to recover.

It is startling the way infantry men can bear in silence almost anything the battlefield can throw at them. It humbles you to stand amid 100 men whose bodies have been shattered and hear not one word of complaint. They just lie there, waiting their turn to be taken into the operating rooms.

Rows and Rows of Wounded.

You walk down long rows of litters and look at the dogtags, on which are stated the blood types and the patients' home towns—Buffalo, Detroit, Decatur, Ala.; Jersey City, Omaha, Lowell, Mass.

This man has a shattered knee. The next is a sniper from Atlanta, Ga., who has shell fragments in his neck and chest.

A lieutenant seemed calm and looked up with wide, clear eyes, but his spinal cord had been severed and nothing human hands could do would make him whole again. Next to him was a man who had been hit hard thru the chest. But he still had a chance, and so they took him.

I followed this case thru surgery, where eight teams were working around the clock, driving themselves until their eyes were hollow. But they stood there, hour after hour, thwarting death and making men whole again.

U. S. FLYER BAGS NAZI PLANE BY PULLING A WIRE

A U. S. FLYING FORTRESS BASE, England, May 15 (AP).—Ever since he has been tangling with German flyers, Lt. Robert T. Krout, co-pilot of a Flying Fortress, has had a helpless feeling because the bombers aren't equipped with guns in the cock pit. Krout, from Stockton, Cal., rigged up a crude wire contraption enabling him to fire a nose gun by remote control.

The first time he tried it out in his plane, the "Big Noise," it paid dividends—by catching a FW-190 racing past the nose and blowing it to pieces.

"I just tied a piece of copper wire on the left nose gun, ran it up thru the controls to the cockpit and had a .50 caliber bullet as a handle on the end," Krout described his invention. "I saw the fighter come up and when I thought he was in the right spot, I pulled the wire. The fighter blew up and pieces showered all over the sky."

ACE BOYINGTON MAY YET KEEP THAT BAR DATE

Missing Flyer Again Rumored Alive.

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE, May 15 (AP).—Almost five months have passed since Maj. Gregory Boyington vanished over Rabaul, but there's an insistent rumor from Finschhafen to Sydney that the 26 plane marine ace is still alive.

Maj. Gregory Boyington.

Wherever airmen gather they talk of Greg as if he were just temporarily missing, and they recall one of his last comments that "I may disappear with 30 Zekes on my tail, but remember: I'll meet you guys in a San Diego bar six months after the war."

Seen on Island.

A week or so after Boyington's disappearance on Jan. 3 some scout pilots thought they saw his stocky figure trying to signal them from the beach of a Japanese held island. Search planes covered every foot of the coastline, to no avail.

Then somebody thought he saw a group of airmen on the coast of another island. Again the searchers came home empty handed.

The picturesque Okanogan, Wash., fighter pilot who was awarded the congressional medal of honor after his disappearance has been the object of air searchers thruout the Bismarck archipelago and the northern Solomons. It's all rumor, of course, that he's still alive. Rumor, and hope.

May Become Legend.

Boyington may grow into one of this war's sky legends, like Georges Guynemer, the French ace of the last war who disappeared without a trace.

The last time anybody saw Boyington he was throwing .50 caliber slugs into his 26th victim and diving thru a hole in the clouds onto a formation of Zekes. Few airmen have disappeared as quickly and as dramatically and with so few clues.

The Black Sheep squadron which he headed has been broken up, but the boys have a date with Boyington "in a San Diego bar six months after the war." Who knows? He may keep that date.

AID FOR CANADA FORESTS URGED BY PARTY HEAD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., May 15.—A national emergency has arisen in Canada's forestry industry which requires "prompt and vigorous treatment," John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said here tonight. He called for greatly increased financial aid for the development and protection of forests.

He listed as necessary the building of roads in forests, erection of lookout towers, modernization of fire fighting equipment, and the laying out of nurseries and experimental stations.

If his party forms the government after the next election, he said he would establish a government department to handle forestry matters, with an advisory council consisting of representatives of the dominion and provincial governments and the lumber industry.

HEAVY QUAKE RECORDED.

Pasadena, Cal., May 15 (AP).—An earthquake of sufficient intensity to cause extensive damage was recorded at 12:31 today by the California Institute of Technology's seismological laboratory. The quake was estimated at about 6,000 miles distant, in an undetermined direction.

BOMBS RAIN ON JAP BASES FROM KURILES TO TRUK

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET. HDQ., Pearl Harbor, May 15 (AP).—Striking thru intense anti-aircraft fire, United States navy search planes bombed Little Shumushu Island of the North Pacific Kuriles before dawn May 13.

Other American aircraft blasted Truk and Ponape in the Carolines and the isolated Japanese in the Marshalls, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The strike into the Kuriles, back-door approach to Japan, came after a lull of seven days, probably caused by adverse weather. A few hours after the navy planes started fires on Schumushu a medium bomber of the 11th army air force attacked two Japanese patrol boats near Paramushiro. Results were not disclosed.

Drop 42 Tons on Truk.

Liberator bombers returned to Truk Saturday and pounded that enemy base with 42 tons of bombs. It was the sixth raid of the month on Truk. Enemy defense of Truk again was reported as half-hearted. Ground fire was only moderate.

Ponape, one of the most frequently bombed enemy positions in the Pacific, was hit twice, Mitchells placing their bombs on landing strips and dock areas.

Bomb Guinea Bases.

ADVANCED ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, May 16 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Allied airmen, pressing their drive to immobilize Japanese air power on the path to the Philippines, have lashed Wake Island off the coast of Dutch New Guinea with another 220 tons of bombs, headquarters announced today.

Liberators again attacked the Schouten Islands, 260 miles northwest of Hollandia. Wake Island is 120 miles northwest of Hollandia. Bombers concentrated on enemy concentrations in the Wewak-Hansa bay area.

On the ground, Australian troops edged up the British New Guinea coast closer to the Hollandia area, which was invaded April 22. They neared Bunabun, 16 miles north of Cape Croisilles, which they reached last week.

Solomon based bombers and fighters kept up their daily poundings of Rabaul and Bougainville.

Six Japanese planes raided Hollandia in their first appearance over this American held beachhead since the occupation was completed. The enemy raiders came in before dawn and dropped seven bombs, which caused neither damage nor casualties, the bulletin said.

20,000 CHINESE LAUNCH DRIVE ON BURMA BORDER

Cross Salween River to Join Stilwell.

CHUNGKING, China, May 15 (AP). —More than 20,000 Chinese troops have crossed the Salween river in western Yunnan province at a dozen points, the Chinese high command announced today, opening China's first real offensive in seven years of war. The objective is a junction with Lt. Gen. Stilwell's troops 150 miles away in northern Burma.

Casualties on both sides were heavy along the 130 mile front as the Chinese, achieving an extraordinary degree of surprise, forced a wide enemy deployment.

The Chinese were aided by an American military organization, a "Y force," in the drive ordered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to break Japan's blockade. Ultimate objective of the offensive is to slash thru upper Burma and connect the Burma road with the two lane Ledo highway which Stilwell has built to his front in the Mogaung valley.

Cross on U. S. Rafts.

The Chinese used American made pneumatic rafts to cross the river at strategic ferry points. Under American guidance, Chinese engineers had rehearsed the crossings with the Y force, organized a year ago on Stilwell's orders.

Little Japanese opposition was encountered by the Chinese until the footholds were won. Some thrusts along mountain trails were halted by units of Japan's 56th division, which counter-attacked in force.

The offensive had the strong support of Sky Dragons of Maj. Gen. Chennault's 14th air force, which bombed and strafed enemy positions over a wide area.

The bombers attacked a large concentration of tanks southwest of Loyang, and vehicles on the southeast side, Gen. Stilwell announced. Chinese-American P-40 Warhawks downed four out of seven Japanese fighters in air combat and other P-40s strafed infantry concentrations, causing 300 to 500 casualties. Targets in Burma, Indo-China, and southwest China were attacked.

Fight Near Burma Road.

Fighting thus far has developed near the village of Ping Ka, 24 miles southeast of Lunling on the Burma road; Hongmoschu, 21 miles east of Tengchung, north of the Burma road and 50 miles from the eastern Burmese border; Tatangtzu 29 miles northeast of Tengchung, and in the Kaoli mountain approaches.

At the same time, in Honan province to the north, the Chinese bulletin said Japanese troops which had broken thru into Loyang at three points had been annihilated, as defenders battled desperately to save the key city from capture. In that sector also, Chennault's air force was active in support of the Chinese.

The bulletin indicated that Chinese forces in southern Honan still were astride the Peiping-Hankow railway, at Suiping, 110 miles south of Chenghsien, after reopening a gap in the Japanese hold on the line.

Rehearsed by Tanks.

The immediate objective of Stilwell's Burma forces, the town of Kamaing, 40 miles west of Myitkyina, is within 150 miles of present Chinese positions on the Salween.

The Salween offensive was opened Wednesday night by troops under the command of Marshal Wei Li-huang, veteran who is called "100-Victory-Wei" because of many successes in minor engagements.

On three successive nights the crossing of the Salween was effected in the face of severe clashes with the Japanese at many points.

Rehearsal for this drive was one of the aids given the Chinese by the Y-force under the command of Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn. With the broad objective of stepping up the fighting efficiency of the Chinese expeditionary force, his Y-force has been supplying arms, ammunition, and other material, helping to organize supply transport, and advising on tactics and strategy.

World's Worst Terrain.

Forty miles north-northeast of Tengchung, in the most forbidding terrain of the sub-Himalayan range, is Ma Mien pass, seven miles from the Salween. An attempt to crack the Japanese hold on upper Burma by such a route is looked upon as a military gamble against some of the world's worst terrain.

The announcement of the new offensive came as the Japanese press celebrated the "imminent" fall of Loyang in their Honan offensive and occupation of the entire Peiping-Hankow railway.

Japs Claim Base Raided.

New York, May 15 (AP).—A Japanese bulletin broadcast by the Tokio radio said tonight Japanese planes had raided a United States army air base at Suichwan, Kiangsi province, China, last Friday and that "the enemy main force in the base was wiped out."

1,500 LABORERS TOIL TO REBUILD BURMA ROAD WITH U. S. AID

WITH THE CHINESE EXPEDITIONARY FORCE ON THE SALWEEN FRONT, May 15 (AP).—Working around a nucleus of American army engineers and their few scant pieces of road working machinery, 1,500 Chinese laborers are restoring the Burma road behind the new Salween front.

They are working against the day when the Salween river is bridged again and a connection established with the Ledo road for a land supply route from India into China. Only the offensive of the Chinese expeditionary force can reopen the Burma road.

The road is motorable except for the last 30 miles before reaching the Salween, where it had been torn up by the Chinese in their 1942 retreat from Burma. There a force of engineers under Maj. H. W. Gehr of Indiana, Pa., is helping to direct Chinese laborers fill grass-grown tank traps and hew the road deeper in the rocky mountainsides.

NEED POST-WAR UNITY IN WORLD PEACE: HALIFAX

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 15 (AP). —Americans view clearly the need for post-war collaboration as necessary for maintaining peace, British Ambassador Halifax said today.

Asked at a press conference, on a "get acquainted" tour of the mountain area, what "isolationistic" feeling he had noted, Halifax said:

"Americans, I believe, generally accept the idea that by drifting part there will be another war. Your people are as clear on that as our own."

The ambassador said he believed economic problems will outweigh post-war political questions, but he viewed optimistically prospects for industrial development on a global scale.

1,000th War Plane Bought with Money from Pupils

Contributions of Winnetka public school pupils purchased the 1,000th war airplane bought by pupils thruout the nation, the war finance committee of Illinois announced yesterday. It will be a P-51 Mustang. A legend on the cockpit will identify the plane as the school children's gift. Illinois pupils have bought 120 planes; Chicago public schools, 19, and parochial schools, 17.

STILWELL'S MEN PUSH AHEAD ON TWO JAP BASES

SOUTHEAST ASIA HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, May 15 (AP).—Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's main forces, striking for the Japanese base of Kamaing in northern Burma, were reported only 10 miles north of that objective tonight after Chinese troops advancing down Mogaung valley joined up with other allied units.

Capturing Tarongyang, 11 miles north of Kamaing, the Chinese pushed ahead another mile to Manpin, joining forces with advance units which had been holding Manpin for several days.

In eastern India British troops pushed ahead against the Japanese invaders southwest of Imphal and mopping up operations continued southwest of Kohima, 65 miles north, where the enemy has been reported regrouping in strength.

INVADERS WILL GO FAR INLAND, BERLIN PREDICTS

Invasion Weather

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 15.—Visibility was so excellent in the straits of Dover today that some 25 miles of the French coast could be seen from this side. The sea was rippled, the weather cool, the wind from the north and moderate, the sky fairly clear with occasional cloudbanks, and the barometer steady. High tides on the other side occurred today at 5:46 a. m. and 6:19 p. m.

LONDON, May 15 (AP).—The German people were warned today by the Berlin radio that not merely the Atlantic wall but points far inland would come under allied attack in the very first phase of invasion.

This was the gloomy prediction:

"When the battle starts, fighting will not be limited to divisions on the Atlantic wall or to points under the main attack, but small waves will reach far beyond them. Then Germany will be called upon to stand her greatest and most dangerous test."

Nazi propagandists in occupied territory took a similar tone. Philippe Henriot of the French propaganda ministry said:

"The last breathing space before the invasion has arrived. We cannot give you any last minute instructions on how to behave or where to seek shelter, as we do not know where the main allied blow will fall."

Transport in Disorder.

Reports pictured German transport in a state of disorder, limiting the ability of the enemy high command to move troops. The Belgian news agency said transport in Belgium was so disorganized that a "great part of the country's coal output is piling up at the pithead."

The continental underground reported the Germans were hastily reenforcing airborne and parachute forces in the west to aid troops that might be cut off in the rear. Another report said the Germans had withdrawn half their fighter forces from the west, leaving hardly 250 first line planes to combat the massive allied air forces.

Ask Europeans to Move.

The British, addressing the peoples of occupied Europe in 24 languages in a broadcast, asked them to move immediately from the vicinity of important railway and industrial installations.

In a friendly but firm tone, a BBC speaker said: "Our pilots realize that the lives and homes of our friends are at stake. They therefore exercise the greatest possible care, but the scale of these attacks inevitably will add to the sufferings which you—our staunch friends—have so courageously endured in this war. We ask you most urgently to take every step possible to move away from the vicinity of all important railway and industrial installations."

U. S. BOMBERS ATTACK GERMAN DEFENSES IN NORTHERN FRANCE

LONDON, May 16 [Tuesday]—(AP). —Unhampered by the German air force, small formations of American heavy and medium bombers blasted Adolf Hitler's coastal defense system yesterday, carrying the pre-invasion air offensive into the 31st consecutive day.

About 250 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and an additional force of Thunderbolts and fighter-bombers attacked a number of objectives in northern France while A-20 light bombers flew to the Paris area and hit an air field near the Creil railroad yards. Marauders bombed a railroad yard also.

It was announced that Thunderbolts had dive bombed an air field at Gael, 25 miles west of Rennes, while another formation hit a field near Chartres and fired fuel dumps and other installations.

Mitchells and Mustang and Typhoon fighter-bombers, bombing targets in both France and Belgium, included among their targets an air field at Cambrai and rail yards at Courtrai and Gisors.

German raiders attacked at least two cities on the south coast of England last night. Five were downed.

PACTS FOR RULE OF HOLLAND AND BELGIUM READY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 15.—Anglo-American agreements with the Belgian and Dutch governments here, which will provide for coöperation between local elements and liberating armies, will be signed this week, it was reported here tonight.

These agreements do not anticipate the presence of soviet troops in these areas, and therefore it is not expected Russia will be invited to make a similar agreement as in the case of Norway.

The agreement with the Norwegian government has been approved, but signature was delayed owing to the contingency of Russian troops fighting in Norway as a result of the soviets overrunning Finland. Therefore, the Russian-Norwegian agreement is expected to be signed when the Anglo-American agreements are signed.

GREEKS' PARLEY CALLED STEP TO COALITION RULE

King Believed Greatest Bar to Pact.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, May 14 [Delayed].—An announcement in Cairo, Egypt, that "somewhere in the near east" 19 newly escaped leaders of Greek resistance were conferring on Greece's future today was regarded here as evidence the Greeks are making progress in the establishment of national unity against the enemy.

The greatest obstacle to an agreement still is King George II. Most Greeks do not want him at any price, but in Greek circles here it is believed a compromise can be reached on a coalition government representing all opinion. Other questions could be settled when the war is won.

Seeks Basis of Pact.

Premier George Papandreou himself escaped from Greece in April with the announced purpose of bringing all Greeks together for the duration of the war, but the difficulty heretofore has been that many Greeks refused to accept the king even temporarily. Now Papandreou is meeting with other leaders to find a basis for agreement.

Apparently there are three principal political groups in Greece. The strongest is Eam, "the national liberation front," which has strong Communist affiliations tho it is not entirely communistic. The second is a group headed by Gen. Napoleon Zervas, which split off from the Edes political organization recently. Estimates of its strength vary from 5,000 to 8,000 armed men as against some 60,000 for Elas—the military organization of Eam.

The Zervas faction in Greece is more conservative than Eam, but it is definitely republican in character tho it will accept the king for the present.

2,000 Armed Royalists.

The third and weakest group is made up of thorogoing royalists, who are estimated at only a couple of thousand armed men.

It is estimated that the royalists represent less than 5 per cent of the country, the Communists about 20 to 25 per cent, with the remainder covering all other shades of political feeling, mostly with definite leftist tendencies.

There is another fighting group, which usually is lumped in with Elas. Called Eka, it is led by Gen. Bakerdjis with a strength of about 5,000 armed partisans. It coöperates closely with Eam.

Edes Split Up.

Latest reports on the Edes political organization say it is split into factions, of which the larger is collaborating openly with the Joannis Rhallys puppet government. The smaller is the faction under Zervas.

On the outcome of the current conference of patriot factions depends whether Greeks will be united in fighting solely to regain Greece's independence—with or without King George at their head—or fall back into the tragic internecine fighting that has been wasting good Greek lives and benefiting only the Germans.

YUGOSLAVS BACK UP MIHAILOVITCH AS WAR MINISTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 15.—Despite a campaign against him by Moscow and the cessation of American and British aid, Gen. Draja Mihailovitch's continuance as Yugoslav war minister was fully approved today at a conference of Yugoslav political leaders assembled here by King Peter. All parties, except the Communists, were represented at the conference. Peter called them together, it was reported, to discuss the reconstitution of the government on a political basis.

Tito Makes Charge.

LONDON, May 15 (AP).—A bulletin issued tonight from the headquartrs of Marshal Tito charged that Gen. Draja Mihailovitch, minister of war in Yugoslavia's exile government, was personally in command of a German Quisling offensive in West Bosnia against Tito's Partisan forces.

Tito's bulletin said: "The Chetniks, led personally by Mihailovitch, are well provided with ammunition, tanks, and trucks by the Germans and they are being engaged in violent battles by our units."

Racial Discrimination Banned in N. Y. Housing

New York, May 15 (AP).—The city council today adopted a local law intended to prohibit housing developments hereafter constructed under the state redevelopment act from practicing racial discrimination in selecting tenants. The local law would terminate tax exemptions granted such developments if the Supreme court found the development operators practicing racial discrimination.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. H. B. Hanson, Seattle, Wash.]

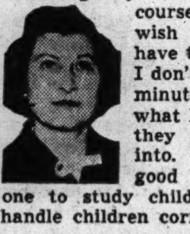
THE QUESTION.

What course of study would you follow if you were young again?

WHERE ASKED.

Carbide and Carbon building, 230 N. Michigan av.

THE ANSWERS.



Mrs. M. A. Varney, housewife, 7830 Oglesby av. — There's one course in particular I wish I had taken. I have two children and I don't know from one minute to the next what kind of mischief they will be getting into. It would be a good idea for every one to study child psychology to handle children correctly.

J. Archer Kiss, writer, 30 W. Washington st.—I think the most important business asset any one can have is salesmanship. By this I don't necessarily mean that a person should be accomplished in selling products but in selling themselves. I'd take a course in selling if I were young again.

Helen MacWhirter, supervisor, 230 N. Michigan av.—Most of my life I've been in a position where I had to take care of some one who was ill. I enjoy the work. They call me "nurse" at the office because I'm always fixing up something that's wrong or finding something that's lost, but I wish I really were a nurse.

Alvin Schiller, purchasing agent, 5038 St. Lawrence av.—When I was in school I took a course in economics. If I were young again I would specialize in economics, instead of taking it as lightly as as I did. It would have been particularly valuable in the work I do now. Economics has a place in every phase of life.

Gabrielle Glabazna, secretary, 2720 Coyle av.—I do quite a bit of oil painting and believe I have some talent. I know there are many things that I would have learned if I had studied. I probably would be working as a commercial artist now. I can think of nothing more enjoyable than having a hobby for a business.

Arthur W. Emerson, district passenger agent, 10758 Drew st.—If I were young again I know exactly what course of study I would follow. I have always had respect for doctors. I wish I were in a position to help them because now that there's a war on doctors on the home front are scarce and over worked.

Legion Initiates 400 Vets of This War at Ceremony

Four hundred veterans of World War II. were initiated into the American Legion last night in a ceremony held in the armory at Kedzie and North avenues. The men came from the various posts of the 9th district, which includes northwest Chicago and northwest suburbs. The ceremony was conducted by the ritual team of Mel Tierney post in Park Ridge, district champions.

MY ARMY NEEDS MORE AID FROM THE ALLIES: TITO

[The following dispatch was written by two correspondents who visited the headquarters of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz, the Yugoslav Partisan leader, by arrangement of the allied military command at Cairo, as representatives of the combined American and British press. Their dispatches are distributed by the British ministry of information and the American office of war information.]

BY STOYAN PRIBICHEVICH AND JOHN TALBOT.

MARSHAL TITO'S HDQ., SOMEWHERE IN YUGOSLAVIA, May 6 [Delayed].—This is the first dispatch written by allied correspondents from Marshal Tito's headquarters somewhere in the Yugoslav mountains.

We are now witnessing Yugoslavia's fight for freedom and are the first allied correspondents to report the war from behind the enemy lines. [Actually Daniel de Luce of the Associated Press visited one of Tito's brigade headquarters in Yugoslavia last September and wrote a firsthand account of the Partisan war effort, but he did not reach Tito's own headquarters.]

The four of us, two journalists and two cameramen, arrived here two days ago as representatives of the entire American and British press. The journalists are Stoyan Pribichevich, an American of Time, Life, and Fortune magazines, and John Talbot, of Reuters, a British news agency.

Answers 10 Questions.

In a special interview, Tito gave the following answers to our 10 questions:

1. How strong is the national liberation army now, after last winter's sixth German offensive?

ANSWER: "In the period between the sixth offensive and today the majority of our divisions have increased numerically by 10 to 40 per cent. Besides, several new divisions and brigades have been created so that we were able to form more army corps" [bringing the total up to several army corps.]

2. What are the percentages of Serbs, Croats, etc., in the national liberation army?

ANSWER: "The national liberation army is composed of 44 per cent of Serbs, 30 per cent of Croats, 10 per cent of Slovenes, 5 per cent of Montenegrins, 2.5 per cent of Macedonians. Besides, there are 2.5 per cent Moslems, while various other nationalities, including the Italian units, make up 6 per cent." [If one counts the Montenegrins as Serbs, the latter form 49 per cent of the Partisan army.]

Mentions Political Parties.

3. What are the political parties with the national liberation movement, and what parties exert the strongest influence?

Tito answered the foregoing question by referring to regions. In Slovenia, he said, the liberation movement included the Communist party, the Sokols [patriotic gymnastic organization] and labor unions. In Croatia, he added, his organization consists of the three strongest parties, the Communists, the peasants, and a group which is largely composed of Serbs.

Tito acknowledged that in Serbia the national liberation movement has not been able to create a united front, tho the "masses remain true" to the movement.

"One can speak only of one single influence in Yugoslavia, the influence of the united national liberation front," Tito said.

4. How big is the territory under the control of the national liberation committee today?

ANSWER: "If you put together the various parts of the liberated territory in the various provinces you can say that one-half of Yugoslavia has been liberated."

5. Do you expect a new German offensive, or a gradual German withdrawal from Yugoslavia, and is there a strategic plan of coöperation with the allies at the time of the invasion of Europe?

ANSWER: "Fifteen days ago the Germans, the Bulgars, and their helpers started an offensive in eastern Bosnia, Montenegro, and the Sanjak. A few days ago an enemy offensive began in Macedonia and in the Toplica sector in Serbia. The enemy conducts offensive operations also in Lika, Slavonia, and in other sections of Yugoslavia, in Montenegro, and in the Sanjak. The Germans and the Chetniks have been completely routed

"The Germans are still able to conduct offensives on separate sectors of the front in Yugoslavia, but not in the country as a whole. The Germans are still able to conquer this or that part of the liberated territory, but they cannot hold them. It is my conviction, therefore, that with an early opening of the second front, the Germans will not be capable of any more offensive actions in Yugoslavia, and that on the contrary the national liberation army will be able to go over to a counter-offensive on all the sectors of the front."

Tells of Allied Aid.

6. What is the extent of the Anglo-American military, medical, and otherwise help, and how much help do you expect in the future?

ANSWER: "Recently the allies have increased their military aid, but this is still too little to satisfy the most urgent needs of our national liberation army. However, war material aid is to be increased by a variety of means. Medical aid is also being increased, but technical difficulties are in the way of transporting this material in sufficient quantities.

"We expect, on the principles of the lend-lease, such future aid from the allies as will satisfy the needs not only of the present army, but a potential army of 600,000 fighters. In the first place, we consider tanks, planes, and motorized equipment.

"Let me say that the peoples of Yugoslavia cannot understand the fact that the former Yugoslav navy, now urgently needed in the Adriatic for the defense of the islands and the coast, slumbers inactive in ports commanded by the emigre Yugoslav government. The peoples of Yugoslavia expect the allies to put this navy promptly at the disposal of the national liberation army of Yugoslavia.

Refers to UNRRA.

"As for the civilian aid, we know that an organization called UNRRA has been created in America with a view to preparing aid to the various European peoples the moment they are liberated. In this organization, Yugoslavia is represented by people who have no connection with the peoples of Yugoslavia. It would be logical for the national liberation committee of Yugoslavia to be represented in this organization, as it controls a big liberated territory where the civilian population is in need of urgent aid on this territory . . ."

7. Will the national liberation army stop fighting when Yugoslavia is liberated, or will it continue to fight alongside the allies until Hitler is defeated, and all of Europe liberated?

ANSWER: "The national liberation army of Yugoslavia will wage common war with the allies until total annihilation of the German and other conquerors, that is, until the end of the war."

8. When and under what conditions do you except allied recognition of the national liberation committee?

ANSWER: "The national liberation committee of Yugoslavia so far has not officially requested recognition from the allied governments, being aware of the international diplomatic situation, but we believe that in the near future there will be no obstacles for our allies to recognize the national liberation committee as the sole legitimate representative of the peoples of Yugoslavia."

Tells Future Plans.

9. What plans does the national liberation movement consider for the post-war political and social organization of Yugoslavia?

ANSWER: "The plans of the national liberation movement have been worked out in the resolutions of the second meeting of the anti-fascist council of the national liberation of Yugoslavia. They can be summed up in two statements: a creation of nationally equal federal Yugoslavia, where all the nationalities will enjoy their national rights, and within their state borders organize their lives as they deem fit; by creation of a truly democratic Yugoslavia."

10. What are the views of the national liberation movement about the post-war international organization of the Balkans and central Europe?

ANSWER: "We want a powerful and independent Yugoslavia built on democratic principles."

MIDWEST SWING TO BRICKER SEEN BY HIS BACKERS

Governor Says His Tour Gained Delegates.

Columbus, O., May 15 [Special].—Radiating satisfaction over his four day swing last week thru Nebraska, Iowa, and Wisconsin, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio today told a press conference he had picked up delegates in all of the states visited.

The governor, who is the only active campaigner for the Republican Presidential nomination, was obviously pleased with sentiment he encountered on his journey and said he considered it "a successful trip." He refused to disclose how many delegates gave him promises of support, but his listeners got the impression that the number was substantial.

Finds Regional Demand.

Persons close to the governor said the governor had encountered increasing evidence of a demand thruout the middle west for selection of a Republican candidate from the middle western region and an end to "the New York regime."

Bricker's popularity was increased by the impression he made during his personal appearances, it was said. His policy of holding open forums during which he answers any and all questions put to him brought enthusiastic comment.

Expect Break from Dewey.

A man who accompanied Bricker on the tour said that up to now the Ohio governor's strength has been somewhat under wraps because delegates favorable to him have been reluctant to commit themselves publicly for fear of subjecting themselves to pressure from Dewey forces.

"They have been afraid of this Dewey pressure and have preferred to make promises to Bricker personally rather than come out in the open for him," this man said. "Indications are there will be a break in this attitude within a few days."

Dewey Claims are Challenged.

Those conversant with events on the tour said Bricker obtained convincing evidence that Dewey forces have made exaggerated claims of support in the middle west. In many instances, they said, where Dewey leaders have claimed the delegations of whole states, several of the delegates have from the very first been pledged to Bricker.

Bricker will meet tomorrow night at a dinner here with the 100 delegates and alternates who are pledged to him from Ohio. This will be the first assembling of the Ohio delegation with the governor since last Tuesday's primary.

Plans Tour of Texas.

On Saturday Bricker will leave for Texas on a speaking tour which will carry him thru the south and east. He is booked soldily with speaking engagements thru June 5. He will make several addresses in Texas. On May 22 will deliver a major address of his campaign before the Texas Republican convention at Houston.

Asked about a statement made in San Antonio, Tex., last night by Marrs McClean, chairman of the Republican state finance committee, predicting Bricker will have support among the Texas delegation to the national convention, Bricker said he had no comment.

Bricker will speak in New Orleans May 23 and will confer with Republican leaders in Memphis on May 24. Later in the week he will attend the annual governor's conference at Hershey, Pa. The itinerary also calls for appearances in Lancaster, Pa.; Trenton, N. J., and Baltimore and conferences with party leaders of Connecticut and Virginia.

Wins Freedom

John Dispensa telephones his wife after winning freedom.

Protestations of innocence by John Dispensa, 24, of 2912 Wentworth av. since he was locked in the county jail last Wednesday for robbery were sustained yesterday and Dispensa was freed with apologies.

State's Atty. Samuel Freedman told Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein of Criminal court that Robert R. Burtch, 19, of Rockford had confessed in Janesville, Wis., and had been identified by the robbery victim.

Nolle prossing the charge against Dispensa, Judge Epstein apologized. Dispensa had been identified erroneously as the man who robbed Richard Harrington, 4240 Drevel av., of $10 as he left a garage at 7th st. and Wabash av. May 10.

MAYOR DENIES 4TH TERM TALK WITH HANNEGAN

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that politics was not discussed at his Washington meeting with Robert E. Hannegan, national Democratic chairman, and a group of midwest Democratic leaders. There had been speculation that the conference was to plan the fourth term draft.

Hannegan will be the keynote speaker for the Illinois convention of Democrats in Chicago's Coliseum July 3. This plan aroused further speculation that the fourth term draft would originate in a midwest setting. Delegates' votes at the state convention will be split to multiply the number attending the event.

The mayor said a new Democratic campaign song was tried out at the Washington meeting. It's theme is "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream." One Republican suggested that the tune should be that of "The Old Gray Mare."

LYONS INDORSES GREEN'S BID: LET ILLINOIS LEAD

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Gov. Green's stand for an avowal of Illinois Republican principles at the state G. O. P. convention in Springfield Thursday was applauded yesterday by Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator. There had been a movement to defer the state platform until after the national convention.

Guarding of American sovereignty in any post-war relationships with other nations is a cardinal feature of Gov. Green's position. He is credited with the inclusion of this in the Mackinac Island statement on international policy.

Lyons said the governor was courageous and wise in insisting that this state not wait for any other section to lead the way.

Lyons Tells Foreign Policy.

Lyons said he would have several suggestions to make about foreign policy at a meeting in the executive mansion tonight and at a hearing before the pre-convention platform committee tomorrow. Chief among them are:

1. Keep for our defense the island outposts that have been obtained with American blood and treasure.

2. Be wary of a world army that could invade America by order of a world council on which we would be a small minority.

3. Do not surrender our national freedom to lay this nation open to uncontroled drains upon our man power and resources.

4. Make no promises to the rest of the world that we are unwilling or unable to keep.

"Islands we now know are vital links in our defense system must be held when they have been so dearly bought," Lyons said.

"Thousands of Americans have given their all to seize the Marshalls, Gilberts, and Carolines from the hated Japs. In the Atlantic, nearby islands have been fortified and equipped with our strength under temporary arrangements. Our national policy must be firm and clear on this: these outposts of defense must be held."

New Deal "Sugar Coating."

Lyons said he would invite other G. O. P. leaders to consider realistically the propaganda about an international police force.

"This New Deal talk about an international police force sounds very nice—almost pleasant," Lyons said. "What does this sugar coating conceal? Does it mean to conceal the fact that it will be a world army?

"With our country out-voted on the council under discussion, this army could be sent into our land or into the rich regions of South and Central America. The Monroe Doctrine would be a scrap of paper."

Lyons received a letter from George B. Wiener, Mason county G. O. P. chairman, informing him that Sen. Lucas, Democrat, received 572 votes against 1,212 Republican votes in the April 11 primary. This is Sen. Lucas' home county and is traditionally Democratic.

Stowaway Bride

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

MRS. MARGARET M. BLAIR.

San Francisco, Cal., May 15 (AP).—Two Australian war brides, who belatedly followed their American army husbands to the United States, today are in custody of United States immigration authorities here on charges of illegal entry.

The women are charged with stowing away on a merchant marine vessel with the aid of the ship's steward at Sydney, Australia.

Assistant United States Atty. James T. Davis said the women identified themselves as Mrs. Margaret Mary Blair, 24, wife of Capt. Frederick Oliver Blair, an air force bombardier undergoing advanced training in Massachusetts; and Mrs. Ola Margaret Calderala, 22, who said she is married to Tech. Sgt. Frank Bell Calderala, air force enginner-gunner. Mrs. Blair explained she wanted her child born in the United States.

RANKIN SAYS DIES GROUP WILL CARRY ON

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The Dies committee will not die," Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.] told the house today in commenting on the announced retirement from politics of Chairman Dies [D., Tex.] of the special committee investigating un-American activities.

Members applauded loudly when Rankin referred to the Texan as "one of America's outstanding patriots" who "despite numerous threats on his life . . . carried on with great courage and fortitude."

NYE FACES FIGHT ON TWO FRONTS IN NORTH DAKOTA

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—Sen. Nye [R., N. D.] foe of the New Deal and super-world staters, is fighting against two opposing forces in his battle for renomination in the June 27 primaries.

Sen. Nye.

The Nye forces declare a smear campaign is being conducted from outside the state by New Dealers and seaboard internationalists who have made Sen. Nye "No. 1 on the purge list." They assert this is being done largely thru the radio and by distribution of attacks by global minded writers.

A factional struggle is being waged inside the state. Sen. Langer, stormy petrel of North Dakota politics, appears to be striving for supremacy and to become state boss. Also a Republican, he comes up for reëlection two years hence.

Gain by Nye Indicated.

The general opinion in Fargo, Bismarck, Grand Forks, and other centers is that Nye has been gaining on both fronts as the issues developed.

The CIO political action committee is opposing Nye, and one question much debated is what it may do in the campaign. The state is agricultural, with little industry. The CIO committee has regional headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn. Nye headquarters is circulating copies of a page from the Congressional Record in which Nye had reprinted an article printed last September in PM, New York newspaper described as the uptown edition of the Daily Worker, official communist organ.

The PM article, datelined Minneapolis, said Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO political action committee "revealed the committee plans to work with the Nonpartisan league in North Dakota, home of isolationist Sen. Nye, who is up for reëlection."

Burdick Backed by League.

The Nonpartisan League candidate opposing Nye in the Republican primaries is Rep. Usher L. Burdick. Nye was slated for renomination by the regular Republicans, sometimes called progressives, in their convention. A third candidate is Lynn U. Stambaugh of Fargo, an independent and former national commander of the American Legion.

Sen. Langer is rated the controlling spirit of the Nonpartisan League. Its master mind is Frank A. Vogel, manager of the Bank of North Dakota, the state owned bank. Both are regarded as unfriendly to Nye, who beat Langer for the senatorship six years ago.

Burdick was urged to run for the senate against Nye by some of the Langer supporters and was put on the primary slate of the league at its convention. The league always has operated within the Republican party.

Machines One Element.

Machine building is one element in the fight. Many point out that if Langer became senior senator by the defeat of Nye, and if a Republican President is elected in November, Langer would have much of the say-so on federal appointments.

As to control inside the state, Langer and Vogel are regarded as having brought about the indorsement of Alvin C. Strutz for governor on the Nonpartisan league primary slate. Strutz is attorney general and at one time was Langer's law partner. If Strutz becomes governor, it would enlarge control of state patronage for the Langer group, a handy thing when the senator comes up in 1946.

Three-way races have been one of Langer's specialties. This time, however, the technique of dividing the opposition may not operate so much against Nye, who, according to general belief, would have a walk-away in a two-way race. Stambaugh is expected to run in tail place.

JAILED IN GAS FRAUD.

Benton, Ill., May 15 [Special].—Norman Lee Boyd, 20, Grayville, Ill., service station operator, was jailed here late today by United States Commissioner William G. Eobaldi in lieu of $5,000 bond on a charge of possessing 11 illegal gasoline inventory stamps.

POLISH COUNCIL MOVES TO CURB FOE OF MOSCOW

Socialists Demand Civil Rule of Army.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 15.—Socialist members of the Polish national council, Poland's parliament in exile, today pressed on in their campaign to wrest control of Polish forces from the right wing military group and place it in the hands of a civilian government.

Leaders of the campaign denied their movement in any sense was a gesture toward reconciliation with the soviet union. The attainment of its objectives, however, would mean the resignation of Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, commander in chief of the Polish forces.

Demanded by Reds.

Reformation of the Polish government, including the resignation of Sosnkowski, has been demanded by the Russian government at Moscow as a prerequisite for a resumption of relations with the refugee regime.

The campaign to impose civilian political control on Polish forces here and in the middle east began Saturday with the introduction in the national council of a Socialist motion expressing nonconfidence in Lt. Gen. Marjan Kukiel, the minister of national defense, for his handling of the charges of anti-Semitism in the Polish forces. T

A further step was taken today when a majority in the national council signed a resolution calling on President Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz to divest Sosnkowski of his political functions. This resolution is to be formally introduced when the council meets Wednesday.

Asks New Successor.

The Socialists' efforts to override Sosnkowski were hampered by the peculiar provisions of the Polish constitution under which the commander in chief is responsible only to the president and under which the president in war time can designate his own successor. Gen Sosnkowski is now the successor designate.

The latest resolution, which may be passed unanimously, asks that President Raczkiewicz designate a new successor.

COAL AND MILK FOR BRITISH; FEW HOTEL TOWELS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 15.—The war time ban on the use of fuel for central heating and alternative forms of heating was relaxed for the entire United Kingdom by the ministry of fuel and power today.

At the same time Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson said it was hoped that milk rationing could be discontinued.

Only one in every four hotels will be able to supply patrons with towels this summer, it was announced. In some hotels the management is demanding a deposit for towel service.

VISIT TO STALIN INSULTED POLES, SAYS EDUCATOR

Priest Is Assailed by De Paul Professor.

Stalin's invitation to the Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski, the Springfield [Mass.] priest, to visit him in Moscow resulted in "bitter insult and untold embarrassment for our valiant Polish allies," Dr. Gabor de Bessenyey, professor of history and government at De Paul university, said last night at the closing meeting of the university's forum.

Dr. De Bessenyey, director of the forum, criticized the priest in introducing the speaker of the evening, Vojta Benes, Czechoslovakian educator and author, and brother of the former president of Czechoslovakia. The forum was held in the university building at 64 E. Lake st.

Sees New Insult to Church.

"For a few hours, it looked as if this celestial Marco Polo would emerge as a Communist Coughlin," Dr. De Bussenyey asserted. "But the discipline of the church bore down upon him. This closed the incident insofar as the priest is concerned, but it didn't undo the harm done by the escapade. The Catholic church suffered another insult from Stalin, and one more intricate detour was added to the inscrutable labyrinth, the Russian mind."

He declared that Stalin chose to talk with Father Orlemanski at a time when the leading diplomats of the allied nations and the pope are "willing and anxious to settle at long last the great issues at stake."

He said that the priest had been absent without leave from his parish.

Benes, discussing the future of Czechoslovakia, predicted that soviet bolshevism never would spread into his country. The nation is one of strong middle classes, he said, and the Czechoslovakian republic would never agree to the soviet system.

Would Mean "Absolute Chaos."

"Soviet bolshevism would mean absolute chaos in the land," said Benes. "Democracy will be preserved, and no attempt at bolshevization ever will be made."

On the other hand, he continued, the process of socialization in democratic Czechoslovakia will go further than before the war. He said that the country has hundreds of thousands of small craftsmen working alone, and "very poor" farmers who own less than three acres of land each.

PATRIARCH SERGEI, RUSSIA CHURCH HEAD, DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

LONDON, May 15 (AP).—Metropolitan Sergei, 78, patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, died today of a brain hemorrhage, Tass news agency reported from Moscow. His funeral will be Thursday.

Patriarch Sergei.

The patriarch drew world-wide attention on April 7 when he challenged the position of the Roman Catholic pope, citing biblical texts in support of his conclusion that there could be no vicar of Christ on earth.

The Metropolitan Sergei was head of the holy synod, the administrative body of the Russian Orthodox church, consisting of six members named by the Russian Orthodox congress and the leaders of Greek Orthodox churches in other lands.

The patriarch had served as acting head of the church for more than a decade and was the first to swing its support to the side of the soviet union after the German invasion.

The church was restored officially by the soviet government in 1943 and the metropolitan was elected patriarch last Sept. 8.

PRIEST WHO SAW STALIN IS UNDER CARE OF DOCTOR

Springfield, Mass., May 15 (AP).—The Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski, pastor of Our Lady of the Rosary church, storm center of a Roman Catholic church controversy as a result of his recent trip to Moscow to discuss with Premier Stalin the future of his church in Poland, tonight was under the care of a physician who described him as "on the verge of a complete physical and mental breakdown."

Dr. W. C. Kotarski said the priest was confined to bed in the rectory of his church.

The physician said he found Father Orlemanski "very nervous and upset" when he visited him today. He ordered the priest to remain in bed for several days.

Father Orlemanski's priestly privileges have been suspended by his superior, the Most Rev. Thomas M. O'Leary, bishop of Springfield, as a punishment for leaving his parish without permission.

SCHENLEY DISTILLERS CORP., NEW YORK

62,559,973 Gallons

If you wanted to make fifteen million average-size synthetic tires you would need sixty-two million five hundred fifty-nine thousand, nine hundred and seventy-three gallons of alcohol for the manufacture of butadiene, the principal ingredient in the production of synthetic rubber.

If you wanted to make enough smokeless powder to fire two hundred and fifty million three-inch anti-aircraft shells, you would also need about sixty-two million five hundred fifty-nine thousand, nine hundred and seventy-three gallons of war alcohol.

Well, of course, personally, you don't need that many tires, nor are you going to fire that many three-inch shells, but our Nation needs them and, oh, so many more. We just bring this up because, perhaps, we're pardonably proud that fourteen plants of Schenley Distillers Corporation have produced this enormous amount of alcohol for wartime purposes up to the first of March of this year. In February alone, these plants turned out three million one hundred twenty-nine thousand seven hundred and twenty-four gallons of war alcohol.

The war-converted beverage distilleries of America are supplying more than half of the basic component needed for the synthetic rubber program. Approximately half of all the industrial alcohol required for direct and indirect military and lend-lease needs is being produced by distilleries which have gone to war. Without this enormous productive capacity, the United Nations could not have met their enormous needs for war alcohol—and lack of this essential war commodity could easily have jeopardized the victory program early in the war.

Please, won't you remember this when you have difficulty in getting even your moderate requirement of whiskey—just when you want it? No whiskey has been produced by any legal distillery in America since October 8, 1942.

SEAMEN'S LINGO PUTS NEW FORCE IN PADRE'S TALKS

Chaplain Reveals Power of Simple Words.

The author of this series of articles served for 20 months as chaplain of the U. S. S. South Dakota, the "Battleship X" which won fame in two battles against the Japanese. Here he tells how navy chaplains try to send men home stronger in their own faiths.

BY CAPT. JAMES V. CLAYPOOL.
[Chaplain Corps, United States Naval Reserve.]
AS TOLD TO CARL WIEGMAN.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

As the ship's chaplain, the only one on board, I shared in the loyalty the crew felt toward everybody and everything on the U. S. S. South Dakota. If a man wanted to go to church when we were at sea, he had to go to my service or none at all. If he wanted counsel, he had to come to me.

I felt keenly the responsibility involved in this position and tried to be truly a "padre" for all the men, no matter what their religious background. In all sermons and conversations I shunned doctrinal questions, stressing only the fundamentals of the faith held in common by the members of all Christian communions. I tried to send men back home stronger in their own faith.

When we were in port, we always saw to it that a Roman Catholic chaplain came aboard to celebrate mass. When the great Jewish holidays came, I gave up my cabin to the Jewish boys so they would have a secluded place for worship. The parents of one Jewish lad wrote me a letter of thanks for the interest I had taken in their son's Passover prayers.

Represents All Faiths.

We provided literature from all the church denominations represented on board and it was taken away long before the supply could be replenished. Roman Catholic chaplains brought us blessed religious medals which were placed on a table near the altar at the Catholic service and invited all to help themselves.

Apparently the men understood that I was trying to represent all faiths, for some of them came to me asking whether I could receive them into their churches back home.

In the Southwest Pacific there was no opportunity to consult the home churches, but I guessed they would approve and proceeded to receive the boys in the church of their choice, provided it did not require episcopal blessings. We made a little ceremony out of such events. The men knelt on the deck and I asked them the questions usually asked candidates for admission into the church.

Then I wrote to the pastors of their home churches, explaining what I had done and inclosing the list of questions used. In all cases except one I received replies thanking me. Each pastor said he had placed the name of the boy on the church roll and had made a public announcement of his admission. Parents of these boys always wrote, telling me how pleased they were.

A Public Confession.

It takes courage to kneel down in front of your shipmates and make a public profession of faith. I was deeply impressed by the boys who did it, especially since I used no evangelistic methods of the traditional kind. There is no "sawdust trail" on a battleship, but only a steel deck.

I wish I were confident that I gave my shipmates as much inspiration and stimulus as they gave me. From sermons alone I learned a great deal, whether or not the men learned anything.

When I came aboard I was limited to 12 books and absolute essentials in personal supplies. After long and serious thought I decided my four principal series of sermons on the Ten Commandments, the Beatitudes, the Apostles' Creed, and the Lord's Prayer were essentials. I had developed them thru 20 years of my peace time ministry and I regarded them as my best work.

Except for one sermon on the Lord's Prayer and one from the series on the Beatitudes, my prized collection of ponderous peace time notes proved to be useless.

The men wanted to hear talks related to what they were doing, in language they could understand. For example, when we went into drydock at Pearl Harbor we had to lighten ship, taking off nearly everything that was movable.

The following Sunday I preached a sermon called "Lighten Ship," explaining how we ought to get rid of fears, jealousies, pride, and similar excess baggage in our minds and hearts. While in drydock, the ship was undergirded because it had scraped a reef. My next sermon topic was "Are You Undergirding the Ship?" The moral of this was that every man ought to do his share.

On the Sunday before our second battle I preached on the text, "Let your loins be girded and your lamps lit," trying to show the men they ought to be ready and prepared at all times, not only for battle, but for every task that God gives us.

After our first battle, when the South Dakota's gunners shot down 32 Japanese planes, my text was, "Behold, I show you a more excellent way." I was much gratified when the marines on board told me this sermon hit home.

We often joke about the boastful manner of the marines and their wonderful esprit de corps, but the fact is, they really are the finest body of fighting men in the world. They believe in "the more excellent way" and everything they do as soldiers is more excellent—the way they salute, the way they carry themselves, and the way they fight.

Sheds Church Jargon.

Another sermon that seemed to be popular was taken from Capt. Gatch's favorite chapter in the Bible, 1 Corinthians 13, which includes the line: "When I became a man, I put away childish things." Many boys on the South Dakota had the experience of becoming men during those 20 months at sea.

I soon learned I had to shed my ecclesiastical jargon and talk to the men in language they used. They understood the story of the Good Samaritan when I called him "the good shipmate" and the story of the Prodigal Son when I called him "the man who jumped ship."

Frequently men came to me and said: "Padre, I never went to church at home because the sermons bored me stiff. But I like to listen to your talks."

I explained to them that the civilian minister has an entirely different sermon problem from that of the chaplain. The civilian preaches to men and women, old and young, illiterates and college graduates, all at the same time. The chaplain speaks to a congregation of young men, all engaged in the same enterprise, all facing similar problems. Any preacher would rejoice in such an opportunity and do his best. If an elderly lady from one of my churches at home could have listened to my shipboard sermons, I'm sure she would have been both astonished and confounded.

A Sermon Backfires.

At least one of my sermons backfired in a surprising way. My yeoman, Buck, was very friendly with members of the ship's band because he was with them constantly at battle stations. He and they were all lookouts.

It was Buck's duty to help run the library and his bunk was there. One night, long after lights were supposed to be out, I looked into the library and found it ablaze with lights and full of men. Buck and the bandsmen were having a party. They had found a lot of electric hot plates and were happily frying ham and eggs.

When he saw me, Buck's face turned as red as the beets on his father's Ohio farm, and his pals were equally flabbergasted. I pointed out to Buck that he was disobeying rules.

The "Last Meal."

On the following Sunday, Buck's bandsmen friends all came to church, since most of them played in the orchestra. Unwittingly, I had chosen as my sermon topic "Their Last Meal Together." Buck and the orchestra were strangely quiet thru the service, but as I shook hands with them afterward, they could contain themselves no longer.

"Yes, padre," they told me. "We know—that was our last meal together."

My sermons, alas, failed to cure all the troubles on board. One day two chiefs had a fight. The senior of the pair put the junior on report and he had to go to the executive officer's mast, the daily hearing of charges involving minor offenses. After he heard his penalty, he came storming into my office.

"Don't you preach justice in your church?" he demanded. "That fellow who put me on report goes to your church. Why don't you teach him justice?"

What Religion Needs.

As patiently as I could, I explained that there is a great deal more to Christianity than simply going to church. He went away, evidently mollified, for he started coming to church himself. After we got back to the United States and he returned from leave, he told me he had gone to church with his wife and mother for the first time.

"They nearly fainted," he said.

My estimate of the importance of sermons declined sharply during my service on the South Dakota. I began to appreciate the truth of the statement that good religion, like good music, needs not argument, but rendition.

When men are cooped up together in steel compartments they learn to know each other very well. They soon recognize any man who is phony, self-righteous, or smug for what he is worth. A battleship padre gets along better if he makes sure that he is never like the Pharisee who prayed: "God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men."

[In tomorrow's article the battleship padre relates how American boys worship under palm trees in lonely Pacific outposts.]

24 BUND CHIEFS WIN REVIEW IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The Supreme court agreed today to review conviction of Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former national leader of the German-American bund, and 23 other officials of the organization on charges of conspiring to advise evasion and resistance to the selective service act.

Kunze and the other bundists, including Wilbur V. Keegan, the bund's former general counsel, and Otto Willumeit, were convicted in the southern New York federal District court and each was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The 2d federal Circuit court affirmed the convictions. The defendants asked the Supreme court to determine whether they had received a fair trial.

The Supreme court granted a separate petition filed by Keegan on his own behalf. He asked review of his conviction on the ground it denied him his constitutional right to practice his profession.

ACQUIT WRITER ACCUSED BY U.S. OF AIDING JAPS

New York, May 15.—A federal jury tonight found Frederick Heizer Wright, 41, a New York Daily News copy editor and writer, innocent of charges of conspiring with Japanese officials and serving as a Japanese agent before Pearl Harbor without notifying the state department.

Judge John Bright told the jury he thought the verdict was justified. Wright kissed his wife immediately upon hearing the decision. He was in tears as he shook hands with each juror.

The defendant had denied the prosecution's contention that he accepted $200 a month from the Japanese consulate here to write articles and publicity favorable to the Japanese.

In sending the case to the jurors, the judge reminded them that Wright was charged with failing to register with the state department as a pre-Pearl Harbor agent of a friendly government.

RUSSIA CLAMPS TRIPLE SQUEEZE ON STOCKHOLM

Batt Says SKF in U. S. Has No Axis Link.

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—James E. Markham, alien property custodian and a key figure in the international struggle over Swedish ball bearings, said tonight an investigation of the Swedish owned SKF Industries, Inc., in Philadelphia, should not be interpreted as reflecting on the loyalty of the workers and management.

Markham's statement followed disclosure that Russia had joined the United States and Great Britain in trying to block the parent SKF company in Sweden from furnishing ball bearings to the German war machine.

No Axis Taint, Says Batt.

At the same time, William L. Batt, president of the American SKF Industries and vice chairman of the war production board, said he would address employes of the three Philadelphia plants of SKF Industries tomorrow to reassure them that their output is going solely into allied war effort and that the company is not tainted by axis control.

Batt expressed concern over the effect on SKF production and worker morale of published reports that the government was considering possible seizure of the properties as an economic lever to force Sweden to cut off shipments to the Nazis.

There were indications that federal seizure would be avoided. Markham, however, gave no clew to the probable decision.

"SKF is being investigated by the foreign funds division of the treasury department and the alien property custodian," Markham said. "The investigation is not completed and no decision has been reached.

"No inferences are to be drawn that our investigation reflects on the patriotism of the employes or the management of the SKF Industries in Philadelphia."

U. S. Cash Seeks Bearings.

American dollars were being employed, meanwhile, in an attempt to buy up the entire Swedish ball bearing output so that none would be left for the Nazis. Official quarters indicated that Stanton Griffis, special representative of foreign economic administration now in Sweden, had been armed with a virtual blank check to outbid German buyers for the Swedish bearings.

Allied Proposals Weighed.

STOCKHOLM, May 15 (AP).—There were indications tonight that Sweden's ball bearing manufacturers were weighing allied proposals to buy their entire output.

Harald Hamberg, director of SKF, conferred with Stanton Griffis, United States representative. He is expected to see Griffis again Wednesday.

The Swedish foreign office said ball bearing shipments to Germany had not been increased and were being kept in accord with a new agreement cutting this export 50 per cent under 1943.

GATES PREDICTS U. S. NAVY COULD POLICE WORLD

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The United States navy will be big enough to handle the world police job alone when the war ends, Arthur L. Gates, assistant secretary of the navy for air, testified today.

Gates, who appeared before a house committee studying the post-war military setup, said be opposes merging the fighting forces, as proposed by some war department officials. If the committee feels that such a step should be taken, he added, "you should look into merging the whole military organization into the existing navy."

"We will have the largest navy the world has ever known," he said. "With it, we will have the naval air force and the marines with many years' experience in two and three dimensional warfare. This force by itself can police the world. It is the nucleus around which can be built one force."

RADIO NETWORKS SET FOR BIGGEST TASK: INVASION

American radio, working hand in hand with the military services, is ready to provide the most intensive radio coverage in history when allied forces invade the European continent on D day. This was disclosed by Col. Edward M. Kirby, chief of the radio branch of the war department's bureau of public relations in an interview published in Broadcasting magazine after his return from Europe, where he completed plans for broadcasting news of the invasion.

Col. Kirby said that American radio would cover the operations "on a scale commensurate with their scope and magnitude." Plans approved by Gen. Eisenhower, who will be in command, recognize in full measure the value of an informed home front, said Col. Kirby.

Networks have agreed to pool their invasion resources, it was disclosed.

Consolidated studios, where all copy from beachheads, including recordings, will terminate, are already in operation, maintained by the army in coöperation with the four major networks.

The British Broadcasting corporation announced yesterday that American broadcasters would be permitted to monitor and broadcast any of BBC's invasion material from the time D day is officially announced until further notice.

JOKERS SEND YANKS ON 340 MILE TRIP, BUT THEY GET LAST LAUGH

SYDNEY, Australia, May 15 (AP).—Anxious for a change of scenery, two American soldiers took the advice of a practical joker who suggested they go 340 miles inland to Walgett and "have a whale of a time" there.

The disillusioned soldiers found Walgett a tiny hamlet amidst a vast plain. But they were the first American servicemen the townspeople had ever seen, and they were given a rousing welcome.

For 10 days they were guests at several ranches, they hunted kangaroos, emus and wild pigs, and attended numerous social functions. Nothing was too good for the Americans. They returned to Sydney today and had the last laugh.

Breitzke Goes to Texas to Return Trunk Killer

RUSSIAN PLANES ATTACK 41 NAZI SHIPS IN HARBOR

LONDON, May 16 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Aerial attacks on German land and sea transportation by soviet airmen were announced early today by the Russian high command.

The bulletin said an enemy convoy of 41 ships was caught in the Norwegian port of Kirkenes Sunday night by Red airmen and that three transports totalling 19,000 tons, a self propelled barge, an auxiliary vessel, and a patrol cutter were sunk. In addition, three Nazi transports were set afire and one was beached. Other transports and escort vessels were reported damaged.

Start Fires and Explosions.

Attacking German rail concentrations in old Poland, in the vicinity of Lwow, Russian flyers started fires and explosions among German military trains and supply depots at five towns.

The Russians acknowledged the Nazis had "pressed back" soviet formations and captured a small hill at Stanislawow, in old Poland, but said the situation later had been restored. On the lower Dnestr river, northwest of Tiraspol, a Russian counter-attack "liquidated" a German bridgehead on the left bank of the river and about a battalion of Nazis were killed or drowned.

BRITAIN TO SHAPE POST-WAR WORLD, BRITON WARNS

LONDON, May 15 (AP).—Commander Archibald Southby, Conservative member of parliament from Epsom, said in a speech today at Ilford that the British empire was "the most potent instrument for rebuilding the world."

"It is well for the rest of the world to realize this," he said, "and to realize now that we intend to maintain and to enjoy the British empire when this war is over."

Britain, he said, however, must have a definite foreign policy.

Southby declared that England also must have some clear idea about Russia's world political plans.

"For the first time in history," he said, "you have one great nation supreme in the east and in the west. That is Russia, a dominating force in world politics. Where will Russia stop? We do not know. We have to have some clear idea about it."

Hen Lays 2 Eggs Joined in Form of a Dumbbell

A White Rock hen presented its owner with something new in egg shapes yesterday when it produced two eggs joined by a shell covered tube so as to form a dumbbell. The yolk was contained at one end of the dumbbell and the white in the other. The double egg was broken by the hen soon after it was laid, the owner, Sam Jovicsin, 2638 Rutherford av., reported.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social service of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Miss M. J. writes: "Shortly before he was killed in action, my brother sent me a check and suggested that I purchase some bonds with it. My name was incorrectly written on the check, and when I wrote him about it, he told me not to bother changing it because he would be home to cash the bonds. For that reason, I purchased the bonds with that check and had them inscribed as the check was made out. The error consists of the fact that my first given name was omitted. Since his death, I have felt that this matter should be straightened out and wonder if you can advise me."

ANSWER: It will be necessary for you to obtain an affidavit from some responsible person who will certify that in so far as the bonds are concerned, Ann Doe and Mary Ann Doe are one and the same person. The bonds could then be reissued with your name correctly inscribed. The Reissue department of the Federal Reserve bank, 230 S. La Salle st., can advise you.

M. M. asks: "An acquaintance of mine who is a civilian employe of the government now overseas has written and asked me to purchase several items for her. Can you advise me as to the postal regulations concerning such packages? She is addressed in care of an a. p. o. number."

ANSWER: Civilian employes stationed at army bases overseas who are receiving mail thru a. p. o. numbers are governed by the same regulations as military personnel. In other words, if you can produce a written request you may send a package, which does not exceed five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length, or 36 inches in length and girth combined.

Mrs. M. L. writes: "I understand that as the wife of an enlisted man in the marine corps, I am entitled to free medical care for my seven months old daughter. Can you tell me where to apply for such care? Our family physician has been caring for her but has joined the service. If I could bring the baby to a navy clinic, it would be much more economical for me."

ANSWER: I am forwarding a bulletin which provides information on the free pediatric care available to children of men in the four lowest pay grades. As you will see, you may select a private physician and apply for the care thru the state department of public health. Your local Red Cross chapter should be able to advise you as to whether there is a navy clinic in the city in which you live.

A. K. writes: "Would you kindly let me know if an officer in the United States army receives an additional allowance after a child is born? My husband now receives a rental and subsistence allowance, plus his base pay. He is stationed overseas, and I am wondering if these allowances will be increased after our child is born."

ANSWER: No. The allowance granted commissioned officers does not increase according to the number of dependents.

PRETENDER BIDS FRANCO TO QUIT, LONDON HEARS

LONDON, May 15 (AP).—Don Juan, claimant to the Spanish throne, was understood today to have said Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime would collapse when the allies defeat Germany and to have demanded Franco's resignation and the restoration of the monarchy to forestall "terrorist extremism."

This renewal of the pretender's demand to take the throne his father left in 1931 was reported to have been made in a letter written on Feb. 14 from Lausanne, Switzerland, where the prince has been in exile.

Copies of the purported letter, addressed to Don Alfonso de Orleans, Don Juan's representative in Spain, have circulated widely in Spain and also have been received in London.

Airman from Waterman Is Prisoner of Germans

Waterman, Ill., May 15 [Special].—Lt. Kent Blackman, 22, navigator on a Liberator shot down in action over Yugoslavia April 12, is a prisoner of the Germans, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackman, were notified today.

Yanks Force 2 Nazis to Collide in Midair

A U. S. FIGHTER BASE IN BRITAIN, May 15 (AP).—Lt. Col. Gerald Dix of Sullivan, Ind., and Lt. Ray Morris, Birmingham, Ala., have found a new way of destroying German planes. They run them into each other. Dix and Morris chased two Messerschmitts over Germany Saturday. As they closed in the German pilots fled. They broke in the same direction, collided, and both planes exploded.

M. P. Nancy Astor Faces Race Against 2 Women

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 15.—American-born Nancy Astor, a Conservative member of parliament, probably will be opposed by two women opponents in the next general election. At Plymouth the Communist party has nominated Miss Isabel Brown, a former school teacher. Mrs. Lucy Middleton, wife of the Socialist party secretary, is expected to run on the Socialist ticket.

YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN if you can pay back $10.07 a month

How to borrow quickly—privately—without endorsers

SHORT OF CASH? Get a salary, car or furniture loan at Household Finance. To apply for $50, $100, or any amount up to $300, just give us a few facts about yourself and your job—and choose a convenient payment schedule. We require no endorsers or guarantors, no wage or salary assignment, no recommendations from friends or relatives. At Household you borrow quickly, privately and at reasonable cost.

Instalments repay everything

Notice the choice of plans for repaying your loan. Payments shown in the table include principal and charges.

You have no fees or other extras to pay. The shorter the time you take to repay the less your loan costs. At our rate of 3% per month, a $100 loan repaid in six monthly instalments of $18.48 each costs $10.88; if repaid in four monthly instalments a $100 loan costs only $7.72. A $75 loan repaid in three monthly instalments costs $4.62.

Solve your problem here

Household supplies cash to pay old debts, taxes, doctor bills, help relatives—for emergencies of many kinds. When you need a loan of $25, $50, $100 or more, just phone, write or visit Household Finance.

How much longer will yours last?

Every 24 hours, 5,000 more cars in America go off the road.

Will yours be the next to break down?

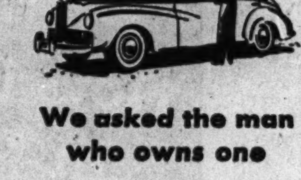
If you're wise, you won't take that chance. Realizing that it may be a long time before you can buy any new car, you'll take good care of the one you have.

And "good care" means, above all, a complete check-up twice a year. Once in the Fall. And again in the Spring.

So make an appointment with your Packard dealer and let him give your car a complete tuning-up. By checking the vital points listed below, he can help save you gas, oil, and tires—and keep your car rolling longer.



We asked the man who owns one

Yes, and we also checked owners of other makes in a recent nation-wide survey. These 3 important facts stood out:

1—Packard cars are standing up better.

2—Packard owners have required less frequent service.

3—Packard owners have spent less on service.

Packard ownership pays off in dependable economical transportation! That's a fact worth remembering whenever you can buy a new car!

CORONER'S JURY ORDERS 1 HELD IN TAVERN SLAYING

Three Identify Suspect; Odd Conduct Told.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict recommending that Joe Wachulski, alias Buck, an ex-convict, be held to the grand jury for the apparently motiveless murder earlier in the day of Stanley Romanowski, 32, a gasoline station co-owner.

Wachulski, who is 34 and lives at 1939 Division st., testified over the objections of his lawyer and denied the slaying. Two agents of the office of price administration attended the inquest on reports that illegal trading in ration coupons might be found somewhere in the background of the crime. No evidence to that end was offered.

Wife at Side as He Is Shot.

Romanowski, who lived at 1615 N. Honore st., was shot to death at the side of his wife, Helen, 29, in the D. & D. club, 1958 Division st., about 11 a. m. A man entered the tavern and called out, "Hello, Stanley, how's the gas business?"

With that, the man drew a gun. Romanowski pushed his wife to one side as four shots were fired. Romanowski was shot once in the heart and once in the chest. The two other shots were directed at Joseph Kokoszka, owner of the tavern. However, he had ducked behind the bar. Another witness, Mrs. Dorothy Dillon, 20, of 1166 Milwaukee av., a bartender, also ducked.

Three Identify Suspect.

The killer fled. Less than two hours later N. Racine av. police seized Wachulski on information supplied by Kokoszka, who said he had recognized the slayer as "Joe Buck." At the inquest, conducted by Coroner Brodie in the county morgue, Kokoszka, Mrs. Romanowski, and Mrs. Dillon identified Wachulski as the gunman.

Wachulski was questioned by Assistant State's Atty. Julius Sherwin over objections of Atty. Thaddeus Tudor.

Police said that Wachulski's conduct has been erratic. In the last two months he wrecked a taxicab and beat a fellow prisoner in a police cell. In 1929 he was sentenced to Pontiac prison for robbery and paroled in 1931. Romanowski also had a record, police said.

Soldier and Pals Seized on Charge of Shoplifting

Pvt. Arthur Hansen, 28, of 3040 North av.; Joseph Bator, 32, of 1545 Augusta blvd., and Edward Orlowski, 38, of 1545 Noble st., were arrested by Forest Park police yesterday on complaint of Miss Almeda Poole, a store detective, that they tried to steal 20 pairs of men's trousers from the Wieboldt store at Lake st. and Harlem av.

BURGLAR'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER; BROTHER HELD

The body of Eugene Hankes, 29, of 588 Main st., Aurora, who was drowned in the Fox river last Thursday night while fleeing from police after a burglary, was recovered from the river yesterday.

Eugene's twin brother, Harold, of 80 S. Lincoln av., Aurora, who admitted participating in the burglary, is held in default of $5,000 bond.

Police surprised Eugene and Harold inside the warehouse at 211 New York st., Aurora. The brothers fled to the river to escape. Eugene slipped into deep water and was drowned, Harold told police.

Harold reported to Aurora police that a man had told him of a drowning near the Benton st. bridge. Under questioning, he admitted the burglary to Assistant State's Atty. David B. Givler.

Eugene's body was found by L. A. Davis, 536 Morton av., Aurora, who was fishing with his son.

Spike O'Donnell in Cell 2 Hours for Visiting Loop

Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, former big shot beer runner, was arrested at State and Randolph sts. yesterday and held in a cell at Central police headquarters for two hours. Detectives Edward Egan and John Payton took him to the station in the police campaign to discourage known hoodlums from loitering in the loop. He was released when his lawyer spoke of attempting to obtain a writ of habeas corpus.

Gambling Raid Evidence Suppressed; Ryan Freed

Charges of operating a gambling establishment against Frank J. [Chew Tobacco] Ryan, former big time Chicago gambler, collapsed yesterday when Judge Gibson E. Gorman in State Street court ruled the evidence was insufficient. Judge Gorman sustained a motion to suppress the evidence entered by Ryan's attorney, Michael Brodkin. Ryan was arrested Saturday on a second floor room at 34 S. Clark st.

RUN HOODLUMS OUT OF COUNTY, M'GINNIS' EDICT

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Word that Sheriff Mulcahy will tolerate no gambling, racketeering, or lawlessness was carried to all sections of the county last night. The three county highway police lieutenants told their subordinates at roll call that the country town districts are in for real policing.

This news came at the outset of what in other years has been the wide open season in the suburban areas. In the past the slot machines took in a fortune in the week-end nearest Memorial day.

County Authority Stressed.

"Your star is as good as any other star," Chief John J. McGinnis told the highway police lieutenants, John Burns of Morton Grove station, Peter Madura of the Willow Springs station, and Anton Paulus of the Homewood station. "You represent Sheriff Mulcahy, who is the chief law enforcement official in the county.

"The sheriff wants you to prevent gambling. He wants you to break up all hoodlum control in the county. Whenever and wherever you see a hoodlum lock him up.

"Send the hoodlums and gangsters into the Chicago detective bureau for the showups. Let them understand they are not safe any more in their country town hideouts. The county is not going to be a haven for the gangsters who are afraid to be seen on the Chicago streets in daylight."

Chief McGinnis said he had set an example for his men by his personal arrests of Ed Vogel, slot machine king, and Jack Guzik, Capone syndicate boss. McGinnis, who retired from the city police department a year ago after 40 years of service, was known as a fearless detective and as a strict captain.

Klatzco Hearing Starts.

The city civil service commission yesterday started hearing evidence on Capt. Louis Klatzco's activities against gambling in the Fillmore st. district in the two years prior to his suspension last November. In that time, Klatzco asserted, he made 60 arrests for gambling and obtained 34 convictions.

Supervising Capt. Michael P. Naughton and Edward Scholler of the state's attorney's staff of investigators were the witnesses who testified regarding violations found in the district. Atty. Martin S. Gerber, for Klatzco, obtained a recess until 10 a. m. tomorrow so he could check records.

Peoria Recaptures 7th Training School Fugitive

Edward O. Ingle, 15, of Peoria, the last of seven inmates remaining at large who fled from the Illinois Training School for Boys near St. Charles, Saturday night, was taken into custody yesterday by Peoria police. Two fugitives were captured Saturday night and four others were seized near Elgin Sunday.

TRAIN CREWMAN INDICTED; F. D. R. THREAT CHARGED

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—A federal grand jury today indicted Harold R. Mason, 37, on a charge of making threats against President Roosevelt.

Sylvan Schwartz, United States attorney who presented the case, said Mason, a railroad passenger conductor, frequently had been a member of President Roosevelt's special train crews.

Mason, arrested May 6 in Philadelphia, Pa., was alleged to have said "I and 19 others have a tommy gun waiting to get a crack at the President."

U. S. Opposes Johnson's Plea to Delay Sentence

United States Atty. Woll yesterday opposed further delay in the sentence of William R. Johnson, former Chicago gambling czar, and five co-defendants on income tax evasion charges. Woll filed a motion with the United States Circuit Court of Appeals seeking dismissal of Johnson's petition for a stay of mandate pending his petition to the United States Supreme court for a writ of certiorari.

EX-CONVICT WINS RIGHT TO 'HIDE OUT' IN PRISON

Elijah Jackson, alias Frank Hale, 52, of Oklahoma City, who yesterday completed a two year and 15 day sentence in Stateville penitentiary for parole violation, was returned to the prison last night as a willing guest.

His retention was ordered by Federal Judge John P. Barnes after Jackson appeared before him seeking a writ of habeas corpus to prevent Ohio or Michigan authorities from returning him to one of those states for further parole violation sentences.

Deputies from both states dogged Jackson's footsteps in the United States courthouse, but were barred by law from serving fugitive warrants upon him on government property.

Jackson's attorney, David R. Landau, asked that his client's hearing for a writ, which would permanently remove the threat of extradition for his client, be set for May 24.

Judge Barnes then instructed Warden Joseph Ragen to take Jackson back to Stateville until the hearing.

RUNAWAY TIRE RIM ROLLS INTO TAVERN; 2 HURT

Thomas Clary, 45, of 1152 Canal st., and Dexter Stokes, 42, Negro of 417 E. 46th pl., were drinking in a tavern at 1154 Canal st. Up the street came a truck driven by Philip Calderone, 35, of 2955 N. Menard av. A metal tire clincher rim left one of the truck wheels, and rolled across the street and thru the open tavern door. The result: Stokes and Cleary were taken to County hospital, Stokes with a leg fracture, Clary with a severe leg bruise.

The entire and absolute freedom of the press is essential to the preservation of government on the basis of a free Constitution. —Daniel Webster.

BRICKER TALKS SENSE.

Gov. Bricker's talks in Milwaukee on Saturday could not fail to win him many friends all over the land. He has a genuine understanding of America's position in the world today and of the opportunity that it presents.

Gov. Bricker realizes, as the whole assortment of One Worlders does not, that America is today by long odds the most powerful nation in the world. Russia has a somewhat larger population and perhaps even richer natural resources than ours. China has a much larger population. Britain has her vast apparatus of overseas bases. We have a population that we think is qualitatively superior and we know that under the Constitution we have a superior form of government. Also we know that we have farms and factories whose productivity dwarfs that of any other country and we have a geographical situation of relatively great security.

We don't have to found our foreign policy upon fear of any nation or any combination of nations. It is a curious fact that other nations which have far more reason to fear for their safety than we have are proposing no sacrifices of their sovereign freedom of action in the interest of world peace. Russia is reaching out for more territory and by doing so is declaring to the world her complete lack of faith in super-governments and international arrangements against aggressors. Britain is moving to consolidate her empire and is not pledging liberty to the Indians or to any other of the subject peoples whose struggles for freedom will be a future cause of war. Only in America, which has not been a focus of world war for 150 years and more, is there any considerable body of opinion demanding that the nation commit its men and its wealth to the service of other countries on their demand.

Mr. Bricker has emphasized this absurdity and spoken with telling effect against it. Our strength and our independence are not menacing the world peace of the future. We have no desire to rule alien peoples. We have no ambition to acquire heavily populated territories to draw profit from cheap and servile labor. We have no notion of dominating the world by force and no national creed that requires us to spread our way of life by the sword.

This does not mean that we are indifferent to the affairs of the world. It does mean that in common sense we ought not to commit ourselves in advance to any scheme of international action that will oblige us to go to war whether we want to fight or not and whether to do so is to our interest or not. That kind of commitment will not prevent wars but foment them, because it will give other nations an incentive to gain their ends thru the use of our force.

It is thoughts such as these that Gov. Bricker must have had in mind when he said:

"America will emerge from this war with a navy twice the size of that of any two other combined powers, with the largest army in the world, and with an air force almost incalculable in size. It will then be up to the rest of the world to coöperate with us for peace. As long as I have anything to say about it, there will be no super-world-state and no world police force imposing its will upon the United States. Also, American military forces will never be under the command of foreigners or subordinated to them in any way."

That is sound doctrine alike for the United States and for the peace of the world. It is a doctrine to which the great majority of the American people have always subscribed. Gov. Bricker has given the Republicans a platform upon which they can go before the country and win in November. As has often been said in this place, the way to assure a fourth term is to give the voters no alternative to the subservient foreign policy represented by the Roosevelt candidacy.

PROPAGANDA.

Yesterday morning's issue of the Chicago experiment in journalism by a New York and London millionaire reproduced a cartoon of Carey Orr's entitled "The Bloodstained Hand." The cartoon showed a Russian priest and a nun being shot, referred to "helpless Poles and the women of Finland being massacred" and pointed out that it was "this bloodstained hand that we are asked to grasp in comradeship."

The accompanying story said that the cartoon is being distributed by the Nazis to our soldiers in Italy. The purpose in reproducing the cartoon and in publishing the story was to smear us. Little Mr. Field wanted to create the impression that we are publishing material which can be used for propaganda purposes by Hitler.

The cartoon was from THE TRIBUNE of June 21, 1941, or six months before we entered the war. A few months earlier, Mr. Roosevelt viewed the Russians thru exactly the same glasses that Orr did. Then, the President specifically denounced Stalin's "indiscriminate killing of thousands of innocent victims."

Speaking to the American Youth congress at Washington on Feb. 10, 1940, Mr. Roosevelt said: "I disliked the regimentation of communism. I abhorred the indiscriminate killings of thousands of victims. I heartily deprecated the banishment of religion—tho I knew that some day Russia would return to religion for the same reason that four or five thousand years of recorded history have proven that mankind has always believed in God, in spite of many abortive attempts to exile God.

"I, with many of you, hoped that Russia would work out its own problems, and that its government would eventually become a peace loving, popular government with a free ballot, which would not interfere with the integrity of its neighbors.

"That hope is today either shattered or put away in storage against some better day. The soviet union, as everybody who has the courage to face the facts knows, is run by a dictatorship as absolute as any other dictatorship in the world. It has allied itself with another dictatorship, and it has invaded a neighbor [Finland] so infinitesimally small that it could do no conceivably possible harm to the soviet union, a neighbor which seeks only to live at peace as a democracy, and a liberal forward looking democracy at that."

The hired hands of the play boy publisher have no doubt found that this speech of the President's has been distributed in leaflet form by Hitler, but they won't spend cable charges to tell him.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE PRESS.

The bitterness toward American newspapers that President Roosevelt expressed the other day is no new emotion. He has said things like that before. His actions have borne out his words, for he has sought again and again to reduce the supply of paper without which newspapers cannot fulfil their function.

Everybody knows how newspapers were placed under strict rationing when there was no particular shortage of pulpwood, no lack of plants to process it, and no lack of men to cut the trees and make the paper.

Artificial shortages and artificial emergency markets for pulpwood were created. Men in lumbering and paper making industries were refused draft deferments or essential status and moved to other lines of work. Wages and prices were frozen so that pulpwood cutting and marketing became less profitable than other jobs. The paperboard factories, manufacturing containers, always used waste paper before the war, but in the name of the emergency they were allocated virgin pulpwood at the expense of the newspapers.

The newspapers themselves, realizing that the demand for containers must be met, set about along with other public spirited people to encourage the collection of waste paper. By feeding the waste to the paperboard mills, they hoped to ease the demand for pulpwood. The New Dealers met this bit of enterprise by establishing ceilings on waste paper that made it unprofitable for collectors to seek out and salvage hard-to-get waste. There are many hundreds of thousands of tons of waste paper lying about the country, but it will not reach the mills until Mr. Roosevelt's price commissars allow the people who must gather it some incentive for doing so.

In Canada the dominion government has emulated Mr. Roosevelt in placing ceilings on pulpwood so low that the big paper companies complain they cannot get enough wood without paying forbidden bonuses. There is no reason to think that this restriction upon one of Canada's largest and most essential industries is happenstance. It fits in too well with Mr. Roosevelt's campaign against the American press and, after all, the dominion government owes him some debt for favors past and anticipated.

Mr. Roosevelt punctuates his tyrannies against American newspapers with outbursts such as he uttered at his Washington press conference because he is an impatient man. He is pursuing a steady campaign of attrition against the nation's newspapers because the press is at once the people's voice and the only medium thru which the people can acquaint themselves with what is happening to their country under Mr. Roosevelt's stewardship. If enough people learn the truth, Mr. Roosevelt will be driven from office and he knows it. He will keep after the newspapers because they are the people's power and that power must be destroyed before the Roosevelt brand of totalitarianism can be achieved.

THE FOURTH OF JULY IN A BRITISH PORT.

Capt. James V. Claypool's account of the campaigns of the battleship South Dakota, on which he was chaplain, relates that on July 4, 1942, the South Dakota was anchored in a British port where it had been sent to reenforce a British fleet for operations off Norway. "Out of courtesy to the British we had no celebration," he notes.

This was strange behavior on the part of the United States navy.

Pride of country is an even greater force than pride in their ship in sustaining the morale of a navy crew. Just why any officer trained in the traditions of the navy would think it advisable to omit celebration of the most glorious event in the history of the modern world is inexplicable.

Needless to say no British captain would omit celebrating the king's birthday because his ship happened to be attached to an American fleet. Americans have no reason to be apologetic for their history, despite efforts of the present administration to ignore it.

The British, in fact, should have welcomed an opportunity to share in the Fourth of July celebration. If it had not been for the separation that it celebrates, they could not have gotten the aid that has saved them in this war. An America under the British crown, subject to the mercantilist regulation and shortsighted colonial policy that brewed the Revolution, would not today be the powerful nation that it is.

INVASION OF THE BIRDS.

Purple of throat, and brown, and red,
And speckled, and gold of wing,
Far over the waking earth, in throngs,
They come to the call of spring.
Fluted cry in the underwoods,
And above, in the tremulous trees,
Trill and wild rhapsody: these are the birds,
O, these are God's advocates, these
The beings that, weaponed with song, have come
To inspire our hearts anew,
To cleave the dark doubts, and let the light
Of hope come streaming thru.

Invasion is come, and, exultant with joy,
About us on every hand
The invaders swarm. We are taken by storm
By the birds of our beautiful land.
But who would repel them, or who could resist
The rapturous songs they impart
To the warm, tonic air? How they sing to the ear,
And, O, how they sing to the heart!
Yield to them wholly; forget the despair,
And the hurts, and the griefs that have been.
Throw open the soul to the anthems that roll—
Let God and His singers in!

A Plea for the Well-Worn Chair.

Every home should have its well-worn chair. What matter its shabbiness . . . that its springs squeak unmusically . . . that its stuffings are without shame. It is a friend—your friend.

You come to it when tired of heart and soul, mind and body—when day is done and you can be your real self. You sink into its comforting depths . . . to read . . . to smoke . . . to sneak impromptu little naps . . . to dream—ah, to dream! Drawn up before the companionable fire, it awaits your coming. It neither grumbles nor berates, but awaits, arms outstretched, understanding.

If it could only talk, what wonderful conversations you would hold . . . voyaging the world around . . . about books, plays, music, sports . . . plans for the future, memories of the past . . . all with your well-worn chair.

But beware! There are those—there are always those—who would destroy an old friend. They would sentence it to a dusty attic death . . . dispose of it to an unappreciative second hand store . . . or, worse fate, bedeck it with gaudy, flowered chintz. Be vigilant. A companion that counts for so much in your life should be zealously guarded. Good old friend! Hig.

That day has begun. But it's even more fun
To sink back to slumber again. Casual.

BISMUTH PREPARATIONS IN TONSILLITIS.

TONSILLITIS continues to be one of our most prostrating infections. The patient feels miserable and presents the typical signs of fever, sore throat, and difficulty in swallowing.

One reason why this malady deserves to be taken seriously is because the heart and kidneys may be damaged. As a safeguard, therefore, the victim is urged to drink large quantities of hot fluids, despite the pain, and there are no better preparations than lemonade and weak tea. Furthermore, we can depend upon the skin to assist in eliminating toxins.

Curiously enough, the sulfa drugs—when they work—may prove spectacular. In this connection, sulfamerazine is valuable in many cases. All too often, however, no single drug of this character will have the slightest influence. Symptoms will not abate. Illness will last just as long and the average number of complications will appear. Now and then an individual actually becomes worse because he is obliged to excrete the powerful chemical as well as get rid of the poisons generated by the germs responsible for the disease.

Within recent years bismuth has been utilized, on the assumption that Vincent's organisms have much to do with starting and maintaining the disorder. Advocates of this plan generally have agreed that attacks have been shortened abruptly. Instead of the usual six or eight day run, the acute phase may terminate within 24 to 28 hours.

One of the compounds employed, bismuth subsalicylate in oil, has been found to be highly effective when injected into the muscles. But this maneuver is somewhat painful and many persons will shun the hypodermic needle. In consequence, a new product has been advocated—namely, a salt of heptadienecarboxylic acid. This is readily absorbed when placed in the rectum in the form of a suppository.

Just why bismuth acts so promptly no one seems to know. It may be that it has much the same power which it exhibits in reducing the activity of other types of spiral-like organisms. At any rate, a recent report by Stovin includes 40 cases from his private practice and the clinic of a large New York hospital. Under this medication, not only was discomfort relieved speedily but toxemia disappeared with equal rapidity.

A woman of 26 had been ill for two days with a temperature of 101.2 degrees F. Glands about the neck and lower jaw were tender and a severe throat inflammation was demonstrated, despite the fact that her tonsils had been removed three years earlier. Enough lymph tissue remained to give the microbes a foothold. Thru the helpful aid of bismuth, she was able to return to work on the third day.

This method will no doubt prove a boon to many who cannot obtain skilled nursing or immediate hospital care. We should, of course, observe the usual precautions. We must make certain that we are not dealing with diphtheria. In addition, the ears, the kidneys, and other vital organs will need to be watched to forestall the spread of the disease.

Thus far no unfavorable results have been recorded from the remedy in question. Fortunately, absorption is sufficiently slow to maintain a satisfactory level of this germ destroying agent.

MUSCULAR.

H. S. writes: Will you say something about myositis?

REPLY.

Myostis and fibrositis, are technical terms for muscle inflammation. Infections of this character are frequently rheumatic—muscular rheumatism. The afflicted area exhibits pain and tenderness, the parts feel firm, and strands of scar tissue may replace the fibers. Remedies include removal of all bacterial foci, rest, heat, and gentle massage.

GOITER AREAS.

M. W. writes: Does thyroid trouble run in families?

REPLY.

More in neighborhoods. In other words, if iodine is absent from the soil and the water, fruits, and vegetables will not supply a sufficient amount. In consequence, enlargement of the gland may be observed in a fair percentage of the population.

YOUTH NEEDS PROTEINS.

Mrs. H. writes: My young son eats lots of meat. He is active and healthy but I've heard this is not good for him.

REPLY.

Perhaps his desire for proteins meets a natural demand. He is growing and requires more muscle building foods than he will later.

BLOOD FROM AIRWAYS.

D. J. writes: What other disorders, beside tuberculosis, could be responsible for coughing blood?

REPLY.

Severe bronchial irritation, infection with plant fungi, tumor within a bronchus, and acute or chronic inflammation [for example, pneumonia].

IMPRISONED.

REPLY.

Vengeance Within Your Reach.

Mr. Jimmy Cromwell has been very busy lately digging up ancient laws with which to confuse and confound his wife's divorce and pennies. He has succeeded so aptly so far that this department set out the other day to dig up a few other obsolete laws—old but still on the books and still good—with which any reader who wishes can set to work and get revenge on any one who has incurred his ill will.

It works like this. Go up to some one you don't like, some one here in Illinois, and bum a cigaret from him. He'll give it to you. Any one will. Then report him to the state authorities, for a law making it illegal to give away a cigaret is still on the Illinois statute books. Or, if you're in Joliet, induce some woman of whom you are not overly fond to try on seven dresses in a shop. You can then have her arrested. The law provides she cannot try on "more than six." Or, if you're in Maine, persuade this person to whistle a tune for you some Sunday. [You might as well make it a specific tune.] Arrest should follow, for whistling on Sunday is forbidden in Maine, just as traveling on Sunday except for "charity or necessity" is forbidden in Massachusetts and kissing on Sunday is forbidden in Michigan. In Virginia you are subject to the death penalty if you fail to attend church on three successive Sundays, and in West Virginia you can't even sneeze on Sunday. That phrase is a literal one, with no leniency given for the common cold.

The country writhes with laws that can be infringed and called into play. In Minnesota it is illegal to impersonate Santa Claus, and in Los Angeles, Hollywood actors to the contrary, it is illegal to wear false whiskers. In Texas it is illegal to carry a cane. In Georgia it is illegal to slap a man on the back. In Oklahoma it is illegal to fish for whales in streams. This is our favorite, and just any day now you may expect to read on the front page that this department and its pet enemy, Mr. Ickes maybe, were arrested trying to catch a whale in Whodunit creek right outside of Tulsa.

There are, however, more delectable ways of breaking the law. It depends on your taste and proclivities. In Portland, Me., all you have to do is tickle a girl under the chin with a feather duster. In Erie, Pa., you need only fall asleep in a barber chair while being shaved, having taken the necessary precaution of sealing the barber's lips with a piece of adhesive. In Zion City [Ill.] make a face at any one. In Boston, hiss an actor during a performance. In Buffalo wear a college boy's fraternity pin [if you're a girl]. In Evanston change clothes in an automobile with curtains drawn—except in case of fire; the latter is permissible. In Iowa [if you're male] ask a girl to ride in an automobile with you. Or, anywhere in Pennsylvania, sing in a bath tub or, better still, goad some one else into it. These are sure fire law-breakers, and many a hardy soul has languished away in jail because of them, but not in our time.

There are quite a few dull things you can do and get arrested. In Peru, N. Y., if you're a salesman, you can be arrested for calling at residences during the afternoons. In Maryland, if you're a wife, you can be arrested for rifling your husband's pockets while he is asleep. In Iowa you can be arrested for speeding by driving your car faster than a horse can walk, and in Tennessee any motorist can be arrested who has not given 10 days' notice that he is going to drive down a certain road by tacking notices along the roadside. In Michigan, if you're a justice of the peace, you and the cash customer both can be arrested for holding court in a barroom, and in Los Angeles you can be arrested if you bathe two babies in one tub.

All in all, Mr. Jimmy Cromwell showed a great dearth of imagination when he had his wife's Reno divorce invalidated. He could have made life much more unpleasant for her.

PROBLEMS OF EUROPEAN CONFEDERATION.

Chicago, May 11.—Altho the problem of central and eastern Europe occupies but limited space in our press, it is in that region that many wars have started. Why? One reason is that the people there are played one against the other instead of uniting them under one state.

Scholars now talk about federations for the different regions. This idea is not anything new. Gov. Kossuth of Hungary, after the Magyar war for independence ended so tragically in 1849 with the surrender to the invading Russian armies at Vilagos, proposed and fought for such a plan for several years. A Danubian confederation was essential. The English Lord Palmerston sent Frederick Henningsen to act as liaison officer between the Serbians, Romanians, and the Magyars. The Poles were to be included also. In 1851 Kossuth drafted a nationalities bill, published in The Times of London, wherein was assured the national and linguistic rights for all the different peoples. Each state in this confederation would control its internal affairs, but there would be a common administration for foreign affairs, war, and international trade. Thus would approximately 35 million people be united for common purposes—welfare and defense, peace and security.

That the plan did not succeed can be attributed mainly to the fact that the western powers in Europe were officially indifferent to the idea, and the Serbs had their scheme for a Slav empire, while the Romanians cast their eyes toward a greater Romania.

THINGS UNDER THE BED.

Metropolis, Ill., May 10.—Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference recently when asked about the Montgomery Ward dispute said that he could perceive that a lot of people were still seeing things under the bed. For once Mr. Roosevelt is right, for people are seeing things under the bed they never dreamed would occur in this country, the country always known as the land of liberty. POLITICAL SEIZURE.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—When there were labor troubles in Detroit, New York, Cleveland, and elsewhere which, in the opinion of many persons on the ground, would have excused Presidential interference and even calling out the military, the President refused to act, tho implored to do so. His refusal was evidently due to his unwillingness to do anything that might alienate the high moguls of certain labor groups with large voting strength.

But our valiant and valorous commander in chief put on his war bonnet and acted with great promptness when the head of a Chicago corporation engaged in retail business failed to comply with an order issued by one of his bureaus. That was really serious, indeed, especially as it greatly displeased a labor boss who sought to put something over on the aforesaid corporation and who is plugging for the fourth term. C. L. STEVENS.

WATCH OUR VOTES!

Chicago, May 9.—Mr. Irving Weiss asks the question: "Is Mr. Roosevelt such a tyrant that you can't see any good in him?"

Well, Irving, a man is known by his works, and judging from Mr. Roosevelt's works of the last 11 years, your question just about answers itself.

I do not like to find fault with him, but when there is very little of anything else to find, what are we to do? Are we supposed to stand by while our house is being pulled down and say nothing about it just because the wreckers say it is for our good?

Mr. Weiss says it was "our" votes that put Mr. Roosevelt in the White House and "our" votes that have kept him there. Well, Irving, just watch "our" votes next November.

8,200 PRISONERS IN 3 STATES TO HELP FARMERS

Camp Grant Sending 450 to Rochelle Area.

When 400 German prisoners of war from Camp Grant, near Rockford, begin work in the Rochelle canning district, 1,100 prisoners will be engaged in growing and packing foodstuff in Illinois. The army moved 650 prisoners from Camp Ellis to Hoopeston last week and another 50 already are at Rochelle.

Army camps in the 6th service command—Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin—have 3,200 prisoners available for farm and canning factory work this summer. Another 5,000 prisoners will be brought into the command and the 8,200 will be divided among the three states.

Five hundred prisoners also have been moved from Fort Custer, Mich., to the fairgrounds at Hartford, Mich., for work in Allegan, Berrien, and Van Buren counties.

Asparagus Is First Crop.

The first crop to be harvested and canned is asparagus. This will require six weeks and by that time early peas will be ready for picking and canning. The army will move detachments around in accordance with the harvest seasons.

Under the army's arrangement with the war man power commission, each state will get the same number of man hours of labor from the prisoners. Farmers and food processors who contract for war prisoner labor will pay the going wage to the government. The prisoners will receive coupons worth 80 cents a day.

Use of prisoners is restricted to eight hours a day and six days a week. From the time they leave base camps to work in the fields and canneries they will be housed in temporary barracks or tents and fed United States army rations, as required by the Geneva convention of 1929.

10 Men in Smallest Group.

Because prisoners must be kept under armed guard at all times, it is not economically sound to employ groups of less than 10. Army trucks will take the prisoners from their barracks to their places of employment and return them at night.

Requests for use of prisoner of war labor have been made thru county farm agents. Before the army may assign prisoners to work on farms or in canning factories the war man power commission must certify that there is no free labor available to do the work.

PICKETS CHASE PRESIDENT OF DETROIT FIRM

Detroit, Mich., May 15 [Special].—First violence in the three week old strike of 3,300 foremen in 13 war plants in the Detroit area broke out today as the striking foremen remained away from work in spite of a war labor board directive for their return this morning.

At the plant of the Aeronautical Products company five pickets chased Alfred J. Jackson, president and manager of the company, for a quarter of a mile to seize a movie camera with which they said he had been taking pictures of the picket line.

Police dispersed pickets who had surrounded a police car in which two of their number were being questioned at the main plant of the Murray Corporation of America.

War production in plants affected by the strike remained curtailed during the day and national officers of the FAA went into session to consider action on the WLB directive.

Production was resumed today in the rolling mills unit of the Ford River Rouge plant after a short strike by 1,200 CIO United Automobile Workers union employes had closed operations.

20 GIRLS MISS SINATRA, BUT SQUEAL AT KIN

Twenty young girls, bobby socks members of the Frank Sinatra cult, yesterday successively stormed the Stevens hotel and the Dearborn station in a futile effort to glimpse their favorite crooner.

Carrying autograph books and cameras, they pounded on the door of his suite at the Stevens, jammed the approaches to the Santa Fe Chief, on which he had Los Angeles reservations. They squealed in the traditional manner at the sight of his children, their nurse, Sinatra's sister, and Sinatra's manager.

Al Levy, the singer's manager, said Sinatra had been awake all night with a sore throat, stopped at a hospital here between trains for treatment, and probably would board the train at an outlying station. He was joining his wife in Los Angeles, where she has been furnishing their new home.

Dodge Plant Inspected by Mayor and Dunham

Mayor Kelly inspected the Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler corporation at 7400 Cicero av. yesterday, and told company executives he would like to see the automobile manufacturing industry locate in Chicago after the war. The mayor and Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, were guests on the tour of Merrill C. Meigs, chairman of the Chicago Aero commission.

JUDGE J. J. LUPE ON APPELLATE BENCH FOR YEAR

Judge John J. Lupe of Cook county Superior court yesterday was appointed judge of the 1st district Appellate court for one year by the Illinois Supreme court.

Judge John J. Lupe.

He will take office May 20, filling a vacancy created by the leave of absence taken for one year by Judge Oscar Hebel of Wilmette.

Judge Lupe, a native Chicagoan and a Republican, was elected to the Superior bench in 1935, after serving 12 years in Municipal court. Judge Hebel, also a Republican, has been ill for some time.

$10 Fine Imposed on 1 of 3 Seized in Handbook Raid

Verne Kent McKimas, 41, of 6311 N. Albany av., who was arrested with two other men when police raided an alleged handbook "nerve center" in room 1402 at 330 S. Wells st. on May 5, was fined $10 and no costs by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the South State Street court yesterday. The two others, Vincent J. Welsh, 32, and Patrick Walsh, 26, were discharged. Detectives testified they found race information and heard bets being made by telephone.

velt promised the judge an award if the defendants were convicted.

Negroes Are Removed.

During today's proceedings every Negro on the prospective venire was struck from the lists by the defendants. Allegations in the justice department's bill of particulars that propaganda attacking the Negroes and the Jews was an integral part of the alleged conspiracy was the reported reason for this action.

Barring unforeseen developments, 11 of the following 12 persons will be on the jury that will sit during the trial:

1. Walter I. Plant, 63, Washington sales representative for the American Perforator company of Chicago, and father of an FBI agent. Catholic.

2. Nyle B. Eakle, 40, foreman of the meter reading division of the Potomac Electric Power company, who has three brothers in the army, one a prisoner of war in Germany. Not a church member.

3. Henry Aschenback, 42, branch manager for a Washington drug chain. Not a church member.

Woman Phone Operator.

4. Mrs. Alice Jump Billingsley, 38, night chief operator for the telephone company, whose husband is a dispatcher for the local transit company. Methodist.

5. John H. Bahlman, 31, exchange teller for a Washington bank. Catholic.

6. Thomas B. Bailey, 42, service man for the Washington Gas Light company. Catholic.

7. Earle R. Alvey Jr., 22, bank clerk, who was honorably discharged from the navy after he failed in flight training. Catholic.

8. Mrs. Julia Tenny Butt, 57, housewife whose husband is a waste paper dealer. Lutheran.

9. Charles M. Saeger Jr., 50, metallurgist in the bureau of standards and a World War I. veteran. Swedenborgian.

10. Leo F. Diegelmann, 41, druggist and officer of a building and loan association. Catholic.

Acquaintance of FBI Agent.

11. Frederick A. Raulin, 53, a baker, currently is in the housing business. Of German parentage, he said he once roomed with an FBI agent and knows several justice department employes. Lutheran.

12. Ralph I. Egan, 60, department of commerce clerk. He worked for the department of justice in 1906. His wife and daughter work for the war production board. Member of Christian church.

As soon as the jury is completed it will be sworn in and then two alternates picked. Two alternates are being chosen because the trial is expected to last from three to eight months.

PANA'S FORMER POLICE HEAD, 95, SEEKS DIVORCE

Taylorville, Ill., May 15 [Special].—W. C. Proffitt, 95, former police chief of near-by Pana, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court here today from his wife, Louise Jane, 87. He said he married her in 1926 and they separated after living together only three months. He charged desertion.

Menace of Dandelions in City Parks Discounted

Complaints that dandelions are overruning the city's parks, especially Lincoln park, failed to disturb park district horiticulturalists yesterday. Arthur Jackson of the horticultural staff said grass would gradually overcome dandelions, if the dandelion are not allowed to go to seed. Constant mowing will prevent seeding, he added.

'Danger List' .... By Christianna Brand

(Copyright: 1944: By Mary Christianna Lewis.)

SYNOPSIS: Joseph Higgins delivers seven letters accepting service in Heron's Park military hospital. Dr. Gervase Eden, homely but charming, hopes to escape from a fashionable practice. Jane Woods, successful dress designer, gives up her career to become a nurse's aid. Esther Sanson, against the wishes of a neurotic mother, offers her services. Dr. Moon, whose only son was killed in childhood, hopes to escape loneliness. Dr. Barnes, exonerated for the loss of a life under the anesthetic, welcomes a change. Frederica Linley, whose wealthy father remarries, prefers nursing to home. Nurse Marion Bates is in search of romance. The postman doesn't know within a year one of the writers of these letters will die, a self-confessed murderer. Dr. Eden tires of his flirtation with Sister Bates. With Dr. Barnes, it's love at first sight when he sees Frederica. During an air raid, Esther remains on duty to help Frederica. Joseph Higgins is brought in with a fractured femur. Esther looks after him. A second victim arrives. During a lull, Dr. Barnes comes to the booth to see Frederica. He is followed by Dr. Eden, who impulsively kisses Freddi. Sister Bates, finding him in the booth, creates a scene. To protect Freddi, Woods lures Gervase into a flirtation. Esther shows an interest in the younger victim. She is assigned to take Higgins to the operating theater. Dr. Barnes gives the anesthetic. Higgins' reactions are unusual. Oxygen is given but Higgins dies. The orderly tells Maj. Moon, on the night Higgins was admitted to the hospital, a masked figure took the key to the operating theater off its hook. The key was was returned later. Inspector Cockrill questions Esther, Woods, and Freddi.

INSTALMENT XIV.

A DEMONSTRATION.

The inspector looked down at his notes again. "Captain Barnes administered the anesthetic," he said, slowly, "so of course we have to put his name on our list; but apart from him, there were only—six—people in this hospital who had anything to do with the man; in fact, only six who knew that he was here. Major Moon admitted him; you and Miss Sanson were in the ward when he arrived; Miss Woods happened to be in the central hall when he was being carried through, talking to Major Eden and Sister Bates. You have told me yourself that nobody came into the ward after that; several people were in the sister's booth, but Higgins' bed was in darkness and they couldn't have seen who he was. Nobody knew his name. Supposing for the sake of argument, McCoy's story is correct: between 10 o'clock and midnight, somebody went into the main operating theater where Higgins died next day . . . well, Miss Sanson left the ward at about a quarter past ten; she went over to her quarters, but we don't know what she may have done in the meantime . . . Sister Bates was free after she left the emergency theater. Miss Woods says she was sitting in your quarters, Major Moon was in and out of the reception room, Major Eden was wandering about the hospital, and Captain Barnes, tho he was busy giving anesthetics, was not doing that all the time, as you yourself know; besides, Captain Barnes is the anesthetist. I don't say that any of these people killed Higgins, of course I don't; I only say that if anybody killed him, it must have been one of these seven; and that includes you."

"Well, I never left the ward that night," said Frederica, stubbornly.

"Except before Miss Sanson left, to get yourself some food." He said, suddenly: "Where were you that morning — the morning Higgins was having his operation, I mean?"

"I was in bed in my quarters, of course, said Freddi, impatiently.

Barney was also going to the party, and he was not best pleased at being approached by Inspector Cockrill with a request to demonstrate his anesthetizing apparatus. "Wouldn't you rather wait till tomorrow?" he asked, politely.

"No, I want to get back to Torrington tomorrow; I wouldn't have stayed at all if it hadn't been for the air raid. I won't keep you long; I just want to see what you do."

Barney's grave eyes questioned him uncertainly. "If there was anything cockeyed about the man's death, it does seem likely that it may have been connected with the anesthetic, doesn't it?" suggested Cockrill, apologetically. "It's really particularly for your sake that we want to get it straight."

Barnes led the way over to his trolley, switching on the great overhead lights. He sat down on the little round, revolving stool and pulled the trolley between his knees. It was green enameled, about 24 inches square, with a bracket across the top from which hung one clear and two colored glass jars. Barnes flicked them with a fingernail: "Black, nitrous oxide; black and white, oxygen; and green, carbon dioxide."

Cockrill stood with his short legs apart, an unlit cigaret between his fingers. He said at last, gruffly: "Talk plain English."

Barney smiled up at him suddenly, that rare and charming smile of his, that lit up his face into good humor again. He said, apologetically: "Sorry, Cockie; I was being difficult. I'm in a hurry to go to a party"; and elaborated more clearly: "Nitrous oxide is just ordinary gas, like you get at the dentist's. For longer anesthesia we use it with oxygen; those are the two outside cylinders. The green one in the middle is CO2—carbon dioxide; but we needn't bother about it, because we didn't use it on Higgins, and in fact it seldom is used, except in special cases."

"Is that why there's only one tube of it, and two of each of the others?"

"Yes, that's right. There's a spare of carbon dioxide and a spare of oxygen; they're connected up and in emergency you only have to switch on the reducing valve; but again, they don't concern Higgins, because as it happens we were using fresh cylinders of both, so of course we didn't run short."

"No possibility that the reducing valve wasn't turned off?"

"It wouldn't have made any difference; after all, they were still just gas and oxygen and the flow is regulated up here." He glanced at the glass jar on the bracket. "But anyway, they were both firmly turned off, because of course we went over the whole thing afterwards."

Cockie said, rocking backwards and forwards slowly, from his toes to his heels: "What about all these rubber tubes and things?"

Barney turned a tap and bubbles appeared from the first tube at the water line, and spread down to the bottom of the tube as the tap was turned more fully on. "The nitrous oxide," said Barnes. "That's the oxygen. They mix above the surface of the water and pass along a single metal pipe to this corrugated rubber tube. If we used the carbon dioxide, it would bubble out of the center tube; but we didn't."

"So only these two are being used," summed up Cockrill, pointing to the two outside cylinders with the toe of his shoe. "And only the corresponding outside tubes in the jar are bubbling?"

"Yes, that's right."

"And that's all that was used on this man Higgins?"

"Yes, that's right," said Barney again. "You sit down and try."

Cockie sat down, wrinkling his nose in disgust at the sickly familiar smell. "What about all these bits and pieces—bottles and jars and things?"

"O, those are mostly emergency stuff; adrenalin and strichnine and so forth; and the usual collection of gags and tongue clips and what-have-you. This funny, short, fat, red tube is the airway; we put it down the patient's throat when he's well under, to keep it from closing up or getting obstructed."

"Charming," said Cockrill dryly. "Which of these was actually used on Higgins?"

"Well, none of them until things began to go wrong. Then I put in the airway—that's why I mentioned it to you; and of course I used a gag between his teeth while I put it in. After that I gave an injection of adrenalin and after that we gave him a shot of coramine, intramuscularly; finally I gave him some into a vein; but it was all no use."

"And these are literally the only things that were used on him?"

"Yes, definitely; unless you count the injection of morphia and atropine an hour before the operation began?"

LANDON TO SPEAK HERE TODAY AT ROTARY SESSION

Former Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, Republican nominee for President in 1936, will speak at noon today before the conference of the 147th district of Rotary International in the Stevens hotel. His topic will be "A Platform for America."

COURT ABSOLVES TWO FOR HOLIDAY OF PROSTITUTES

Supreme Bench Defines Limits on Mann Act.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Criticizing a "manifestly unfair" prosecution under the Mann act, the Supreme court today reversed the convictions of Hans and Lorraine Mortensen, of Grand Island, Neb., on charges of transporting two known prostitutes across state lines.

While the circumstances of the Mortensen case were dissimilar to those in such recent and widely publicized proceedings as the Charles Chaplin and "Hopkins institute" affairs, the 5-4 majority opinion significantly noted that the government may have been led by previous rulings "into areas of regulations not originally contemplated by congress."

[Charles Chaplin, film actor, was acquitted on a charge of Mann act violation in connection with his relations with Joan Berry. Seven women were convicted May 2 in a Washington, D. C., court on charge of conspiracy to violate the Mann act in connection with the operation of Hopkins institute, a call house.]

Chance for Blackmail.

The present decision, it emphasized, was intended to avoid "even further justification of the fear" that the broad provisions of the Mann act furnished "boundless opportunity to hold up and blackmail."

The majority opinion, read by Justice Murphy, was concurred in by Justices Roberts, Jackson, Rutledge, and Frankfurter.

The minority, Chief Justice Stone and Justices Black, Reed, and Douglas, opined that "courts have no more concern with the policy and wisdom of the Mann act than of the labor relations act or any other which congress may constitutionally adopt."

Holiday for Prostitutes.

In 1940 the Mortensons, keepers of a disorderly house, took with them on an automobile vacation trip two girls employed by them as prostitutes. They motored to Yellowstone National park, Salt Lake City, and then back to Grand Island. The testimony showed no evidence of immorality on the tour but the two girls resumed their work as prostitutes in the Mortensen house upon their return.

The Mortensens were charged with transporting the two girls in interstate commerce for the purpose of prostitution in violation of the Mann act and a jury found them guilty. The conviction was affirmed by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Aims of Mann Act.

In reversing these findings, the Supreme court noted that the Mann act aims to "penalize only those who use interstate commerce with a view toward accomplishing unlawful purposes. . . . Immoral conduct during or following the journey is insufficient. . . ."

"The sole purpose of the journey from beginning to end," the majority opinion stated, "was to provide innocent recreation and a holiday. . . . It was a complete break or interlude in the operation of petitioners' [the Mortensens] house of ill fame. . . . Whatever their faults, petitioners are entitled to have just and fair treatment under the law and not to be punished for transporting girls in interstate commerce for a purpose wholly different from any of the purposes condemned by congress. . . .

"We do not here question or reconsider any previous construction placed on the act which may have led the federal government into areas of regulation not originally contemplated by congress. But experience with the administration of the law admonishes us against adding another chapter of statutory construction and application which would have a similar effect and which would make possible even further justification of the fear expressed at the time of the adoption of the legislation that its broad provisions 'are liable to furnish boundless opportunity to hold up and blackmail and make unnecessary trouble, without any corresponding benefits to society.'"

Interpretation of Law.

The minority contended that congress, in enacting the Mann act, declared "in unmistakable terms" that transportation across a state line of "any woman for the purpose of prostitution" was a felony. The fact that women inmates of a house of prostitution were taken "on a transient and innocent vacation trip" was not incompatible with the conclusion that in bringing them back to Nebraska to resume prostitution, the Mortensens violated the law, according to the minority.

MEDAL FOR LOST SON IS MOTHER'S BIRTHDAY GIFT

Mrs. M. J. Bransfield, 6911 Euclid av., received word yesterday on her birthday anniversary that her son, Lt. [j. g.] Charles M. Bransfield, a navy flyer missing since Sept. 18, had been awarded the navy air medal. Bransfield, a nephew of James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, learned to fly while he was an engineering student at the University of Notre Dame and enlisted in the fall of 1939.

Lt. C. M. Bransfield.

His mother and his fiancee, Miss Vivian O'Neal, have clung to the belief that Bransfield is alive. Mrs. Bransfield said her son told her, "Don't ever give up because I'll turn up."

The medal was awarded for "meritorious achievement" during operations against Japanese forces in the Gilbert Islands, on Sept. 18, 1943." Bransfield carried out four bombing attacks despite intense and continuous anti-aircraft fire, the citation said, and when his plane was hit "skilfully glided to a point four miles south of the hostile base, executed a difficult cross-wind landing and, with cool courage and great resourcefulness, freed his radioman and gunner and released the emergency equipment before his plane sank in less than a minute.

ROBBER TAKES RIDER'S HORSE AND TROUSERS

Harry Wydajewski, 17, of 1722 E. 70th st., told police yesterday that as he and William Walker, 16, of 6816 Ridgeland av., were cantering along a bridle path in Washington park two Negroes appeared and asked the two boys whether they wanted to sell the horses.

Then they dragged Wydajewski and Walker from their mounts, robbed them of $1.07, and took Wydajewski's pants. Wydajewski and Walker walked a mile back to the Armory Riding academy at 5311 Cottage Grove av., from which they rented the horses, and called police.

The horses returned to the academy an hour and a half later.

BURNED BY FLASHLIGHT POWDER.

Webster Zeigler Jr., 16, a Fenger High school student, burned his hands yesterday when he ignited some flashlight powder in the basement of his home at 53 W. 114th st. Later fire started by a spark caused damage of $150 in the basement.

THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD CO.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1943

The 117th annual report of the President and Directors for the year 1943, is being mailed to the Company's stockholders.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following is a summary of the Company's audited income account for the year 1943, compared with year 1942.

	Year 1943	Year 1942	Increase over 1942
Railway operating revenues	$358,142,152.08	$306,254,193.49	$51,887,958.59
Railway operating expenses	250,584,352.63	204,241,198.76	46,343,153.87
Net railway operating revenue	$107,557,799.45	$102,012,994.73	$ 5,544,804.72
Railway tax accruals (including federal income tax)	46,457,958.58	25,054,012.87	21,403,945.71
Railway operating income	$ 61,099,840.87	$ 76,958,981.86	d$15,859,140.99
Equipment and joint facility rents—Net debit	8,932,372.37	7,400,263.88	1,532,108.49
Net railway operating income	$ 52,167,468.50	$ 69,558,717.98	d$17,391,249.48
Other income	8,637,968.62	8,670,683.14	d 32,714.52
Total income	$ 60,805,437.12	$ 78,229,401.12	d$17,423,964.00
Miscellaneous deductions from income	2,035,995.35	1,685,984.95	350,010.40
Income available for fixed charges	$ 58,769,441.77	$ 76,543,416.17	d$17,773,974.40
Fixed interest and other charges	18,647,102.81	19,863,257.08	d 1,216,154.27
Income available for other purposes	$ 40,122,338.96	$ 56,680,159.09	d$16,557,820.13
Contingent interest charges	9,612,858.50	11,356,562.50	d 1,743,704.00
Audited net income	$ 30,509,480.46	$ 45,323,596.59	d$14,814,116.13

(d—denotes decrease)

The decrease in net income of $14,814,116. is the result of:

Loss due to suspension in 1943 of freight rate increases	$ 7,100,000.
Increase in wage rates	9,222,000.
Increase in taxes after non-recurring tax credit of $8,574,214. in 1942	12,801,972.
Total	$29,123,972.

Accruals for all taxes, year 1943, were $46,757,209, absorbing 13 cents of each dollar of total operating revenues, 43 cents of each dollar of net railway operating revenue, and were equal to $14.84 per share on the capital stock.

As of December 31, 1943, the recorded investment in property as related to railway operating income, is $999,678,403, against which $130,406,465 depreciation has accrued, leaving the net recorded investment $869,271,938.

There was no change in capital stock during the year, but there was a net reduction of $58,661,935, in interest bearing obligations of which $57,537,050, were retired through the operation of the sinking fund created by the 1938 Plan for Modification of Interest Charges and Maturities.

AWAIT NEW STEP IN F. M'CORMICK CUSTODY BATTLE

Next Move to Be Decided in 'Week or Two.'

Middletown, Conn., May 15 [Special].—Hugh M. Alcorn Sr., chief counsel for Fowler McCormick of Chicago, president of the International Harvester company, today examined the adoption records by which McCormick's sister, Mrs. Muriel McCormick Hubbard, transferred the custody of her two adopted children to Dr. Frances M. Clarke, principal of a New London, Conn., grade school, last Friday.

After the examination Alcorn said he would take the matter up at once with McCormick. He added that he would be "unable to tell for a week or two what course would be taken." He gave no intimation of what the documents contained.

Judge Changes Mind.

The sealed envelope containing the records was opened by Probate Judge Leonard O. Ryan, following a conference between McCormick's and Mrs. Hubbard's attorneys. Earlier in the day Judge Ryan had dismissed "without prejudice" an oral petition by counsel for McCormick to examine the papers.

Following the inspection of the records, Judge Ryan said the children would remain in the custody of Mrs. Louise Bement at Deerfield, Mass., as temporary custodian.

Neither McCormick nor his sister, who is a corporal in the women's army corps, were present in court.

Charges "Secret Meeting."

Referring to the session at which Judge Ryan approved the adoption of the children by Dr. Clarke, Alcorn characterized it as "a secret meeting of this court," to which the court quickly responded: "I do not think that is fair."

Attorneys for McCormick, who included Austin Wyman of Chicago, expressed a fear that Mrs. Hubbard might be able to regain custody.

"The only interest of my client," Alcorn told the court, "is the welfare of the children. We are concerned about the legality of the proceedings."

Atty. David Riley of New Haven, who filed the adoption agreement between Mrs. Hubbard and Dr. Clarke, denied that there was any plan between the principals under which the children might be returned to Mrs. Hubbard.

Children in School.

The children, who are in school in Deerfield, Mass., are Edith Rockefeller Hubbard, 11, and Elisha Dyer Hubbard, 7, who were adopted by Mrs. Hubbard in 1939, three years after the death of her husband, Maj. E. Dyer Hubbard. Last Friday's adoption was made in accordance with a petition filed by Mrs. Hubbard stating that Dr. Clarke was a proper person to have custody of the children. Mrs. Hubbard denied the charges of intemperance made by McCormick in his original petition seeking her removal as custodian.

Mrs. Hubbard has not been the guardian of the children since March 11, 1943, when she resigned her guardianship to enter the WAC. Her housekeeper, Mrs. Elvira Parsons, was named in her stead by the late Judge Curtiss S. Bacon, Judge Ryan's predecessor. Mrs. Parsons later resigned and last March 4 Judge Ryan appointed Mrs. Bement as temporary custodian.

Mrs. Hubbard, who is stationed at a WAC recruiting post in New York City, and McCormick are the children of the late Harold F. McCormick and the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

FARMERS TO GET $2.98 BLEND PRICE FOR APRIL MILK

Farmers producing milk under the Chicago federal marketing order will be paid a uniform blended price of $2.98 a hundredweight [46.5 quarts] of milk of 3.5 per cent test, f. o. b. 70 mile zone, for all deliveries in April, H. H. Erdmann, acting market administrator, said yesterday.

The price is 11 cents lower than the March blended price and 4 cents above that paid a year ago. Daily production per farm in April rose 5.9 per cent above the preceding month, and was 3.1 per cent higher than that of the same month in 1943.

The blended price is based upon prices paid by dealers for milk supplies, which are classified according to use. These prices ranged from $3.301 a hundredweight for milk used for fluid consumption to $2.527 for milk used in making butter and cheese.

NAB LANDOWNER WHO SHOT AT 4 FISHING NEARBY

Fred F. Prell, who lives three miles south of Fox Lake beside a channel connecting Red Head lake and Brandenburg lake, was arrested by Lake county deputy sheriffs yesterday on a charge of firing seven shots Sunday at four persons fishing under a bridge near his land.

The complainants are Werner Marti and his wife, Irma, 3649 N. Ashland av.; Willard Blume, 1011 Prairie av., Des Plaines, and Benjamin Alajoki, route 2, Des Plaines.

They told Deputy Sheriffs Frank Valenta and Ray Simmers that Prell appeared in a boat while they were fishing on public property, and warned them away, asserting they were on his land. When they refused to leave, they said, he fired seven shots, one of the bullets passing within a foot of Mrs. Marti's head.

Prell swore to complaints charging Marti, Blume, and Alojoki with trespassing. Prell was released on $200 bond and the others on their own recognizance for appearance Saturday before Justice of the Peace William B. Cochrane in Fox Lake.

Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast — and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money — so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO EMIL BLATZ

Milwaukee, Wis., May 15 [Special].—Emil Blatz, 86, Milwaukee philanthropist, died today in Columbia hospital of a heart attack suffered yesterday. He returned Wednesday from a trip to the south.

Mr. Blatz at one time was bookkeeper, cashier, and traveling auditor for the Blatz brewery.

In 1938 he donated $100,000 for the bandshell and amphitheater at Washington park.

Last Nov. 22 it was announced by Edmund Fitzgerald, president of the board of Columbia hospital, that Mr. Blatz had given the hospital money to complete the second floor of its new west wing and for furnishings and equipment. The wing, with 15 beds and facilities, is known as the Emma C. Blatz pavilion, named in memory of Mrs. Blatz, who died in 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. Blatz lived for many years at 3800 N. Lake dr., but after his wife's death, he erected a new home on the south half of his lot.

Mr. Blatz leaves a sister, Mrs. Gustav A. Kletzsch, of Milwaukee.

SOCIALISTS WARN OF LABOR PERIL IN WARD SEIZURE

"Democratic socialization" of Montgomery Ward & Co.'s property was advocated by the Socialist party of Indiana and Illinois in regional convention in Hammond, it was announced yesterday at headquarters here.

"The Socialist party advocates that serious consideration be given to propositions that Montgomery Ward be made a public corporation after the pattern of the Tennessee Valley authority," a resolution stated. "The present owners would receive compensation. Such a move necessitates a board of directors made up of elected representatives of labor and consumers, in addition to government representatives."

The resolution warned workers, however, that reliance upon government intervention and the use of troops "may as easily result in governmental action against the trade union movement as against Sewell Avery."

SCHOOL PROPERTY STOLEN.

Theft of 36 cans of tomatoes, a typewriter, and an electric clock from the domestic science room of Eugene Field school, 7000 N. Ashland av., was reported to police yesterday.

UNION NEGOTIATORS AT WARD'S PICKED; ASK PARLEY TODAY

Leonard Levy, executive vice president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes' union [CIO], said last night that he will try to arrange a meeting with Montgomery Ward & Co. officials today or tomorrow to negotiate a new contract.

A negotiating committee of 15, headed by Henry B. Anderson, president of the union's local 20, which won bargaining rights in an election at the plant last week, was set up last night at a meeting of 80 union stewards in the union headquarters at 518 W. Chicago av.

Union demands, as announced by Levy, will include the union shop, dues check-off, seniority, arbitration, grievance machinery, wage increases, guaranty against discrimination because of race or sex, bulletin board privileges, a 40 hour week with overtime for all hours over eight worked in one day, more liberal vacation policy, a bonus for military service with cumulative seniority and reinstatement on return, and a retiming of production schedules.

James Carey, international CIO secretary and treasurer, attended the meeting and praised the union for its efforts.

DIES CHANGING TIRE.

Edward Orlowski, 50, of 1668 Division st., died of a heart attack yesterday while changing a tire in front of 1722 Winnebago av.

Elizabeth Dunne to Be Bride of Sgt. McCauley Tomorrow

BY JUDITH CASS.

HASTILY telephoned invitations have summoned relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Francis Dunne and of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. McCauley to the wedding at 4 p. m. tomorrow in SS. Faith, Hope, and Charity church, Winnetka, of the Dunnes' daughter, Miss Elizabeth Janet Dunne, and the McCauleys' son, Sgt. Porter Thompson Hubbell McCauley of the army. A reception will follow in the Dunnes' Winnetka home.

Plans for the ceremony were made when Sgt. McCauley arrived Sunday on an unexpected furlough. He is stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he will take his bride. The bride, a granddaughter of the late Gov. Edward F. Dunne, will have her sister, Janet, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Kate Kanaley, Miss Mary Alice Dolan, and Miss Mary Ellen O'Conor.

The bridegroom's father will serve as best man, and ushering will be Sgt. McCauley's brother, Elliott; Arthur Dunne and Maurice Dunne Jr., brothers of the bride, and William J. Corboy. Mr. Dunne Jr. is flying home from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Judge and Mrs. Robert Jerome Dunne, the Frank Doubets, the Arthur Fenners, and Dr. and Mrs. Vincent O'Conor, parents of Miss O'Conor, are giving the bridal dinner tonight at the Edgewater Golf club. Mr. and Mrs. McCauley also live in Winnetka.

Other Wedding News.

From San Francisco, Cal., comes news of the marriage last Saturday of Mrs. Nancy Morse Hooker, daughter of Mrs. George A. Richardson, formerly of Lake Forest, and of Samuel F. B. Morse of Pebble Beach, Cal., to Maj. Kenneth Stewart Walker of the air transport command, son of Mrs. John Y. G. Walker of West Orange, N. J., and the late Mr. Walker of New York. The wedding took place in the home of Mrs. Michael Casserly, a friend of the bride, who served as the only attendant.

Maj. Walker is stationed at Hamilton Field, Cal. It is a second marriage for both him and his bride, who is a sister of Lt. Comdr. John B. Morse of the navy, of Lake Forest; of Capt. Samuel Morse Jr. of the army, and of Mrs. Richard Osborne of Long Beach, Cal.

The marriage of Miss Betty Lang and Joseph Dempsey, son of Mrs. Edwin Dempsey, will take place at 11:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Peter's church, Geneva, with a breakfast following in the Geneva home of the bride's parents, Comdr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Lang. Comdr. Lang will arrive Thursday from California, and the Langs' son, Cadet Midshipman Nicholas Lang, will arrive the same day from the merchant marine academy at Kings Point, N. Y.

Miss Celeste Lang will be her sister's maid of honor, and a younger sister, Terry, will be junior bridesmaid. Lt. Paul Dempsey of the navy will be his brother's best man. Mr. Dempsey, who served as an ensign in the navy until given a medical discharge, and his bride will be at home in Chicago.

On the Calendar.

Members of the Service club have been invited to a cocktail party from 5 to 7 p. m. Friday at the Racquet club that will be purely a social gathering, with no strings. The club will buy one cocktail for each member and her guest, which may be a husband or beau, but further refreshments must be purchased by the guests. There will be music.

Members of the Arts club have been invited to witness the annual performance of the Playwright's theater at 8:30 p. m. May 25, when the professional dramatic members of the club will give their annual program. Three one-act comedies will be presented under the direction of Miss Alice Gerstenberg. Refreshments will be served after the performance. The clubrooms will be closed for the summer after June 15, and will be reopened Oct. 1.

The popular Fortnightly dance series will be continued next winter with six parties, beginning Nov. 24. The dances will be held as usual at the Fortnightly club, with Mrs. Wayne Wills continuing as chairman. The Christmas dance will be held Dec. 22. Mrs. Wills' nephew, Pvt. Arch Ogden of the army, soon will reach an overseas destination. His wife is with her family in the south.

The annual Christmas subscription dance that was held at the Saddle and Cycle club until three years ago when it was moved to the Woman's Athletic club will be given this

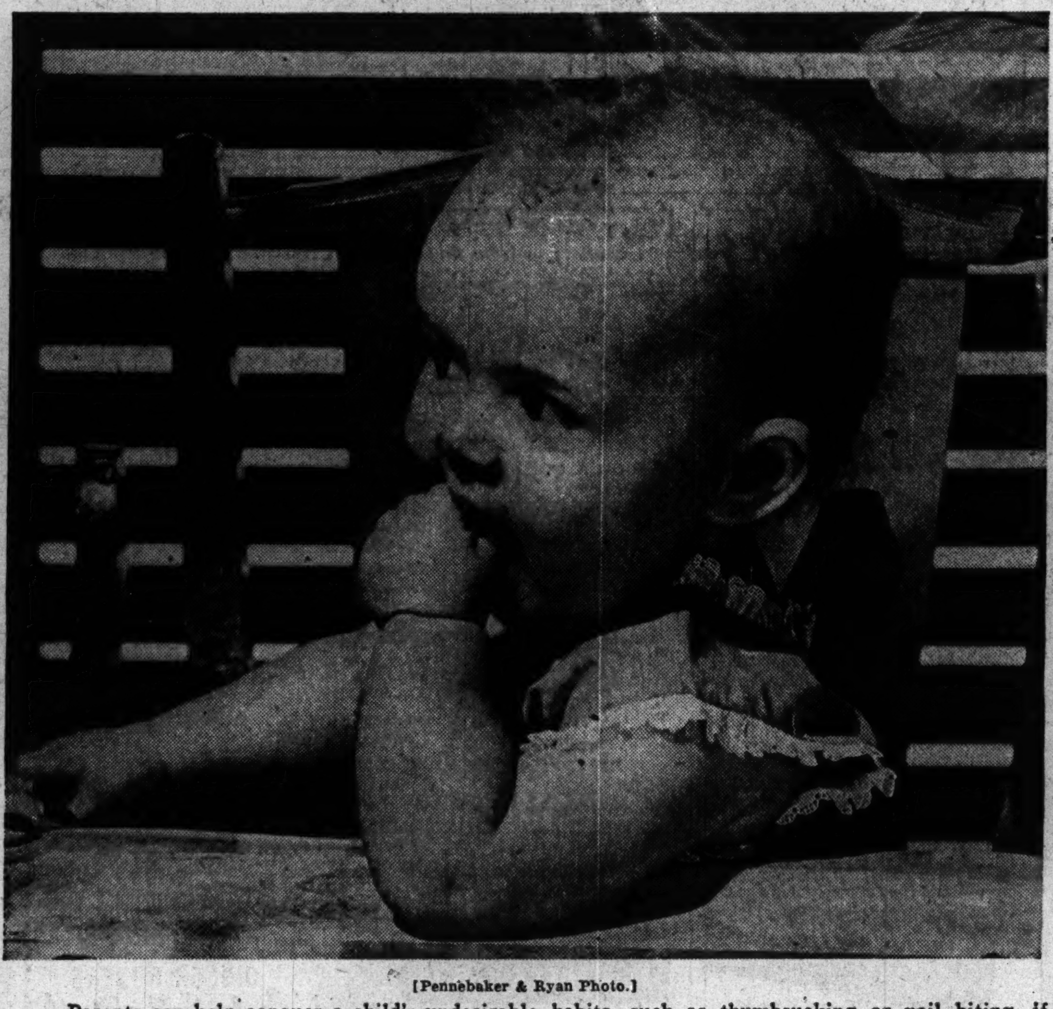
Wise Care Helps Cure Child's Bad Habits



[Pennebaker & Ryan Photo.]

Parents can help conquer a child's undesirable habits, such as thumbsucking or nail biting, if they will not exaggerate the importance of such habits nor display a reproachful attitude.

Finding Causes of Baby's Acts Also Important

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Among the habits that usually fret parents are nail biting, thumb sucking, and bedwetting.

If your child doesn't seem to be outgrowing the undesirable habit you bemoan, and occasional attempts to break it do not seem to bring results, let us see what can be done.

First there's your attitude, and this is important. In fact, if the attitude is right, sometimes the habit will just clear up of itself. So you must not exaggerate the importance of the habit in your own mind, as this leads to a feeling of anxiety which communicates itself to your child. In this way your child's attention is focussed on what is really a negative act.

Nor must you allow yourself to feel censorious, so that he is conscious of living under a cloud of blame or guilt. These reproaches on your part again focus his attention on the act, and are decidedly negative in their effect. So much for your attitude. Now for what to do.

First, look for physical defects. These may be general, as low muscular and nervous tone, some organic or functional trouble. Or they may be specific, as in the case of local irritation. A physical checkup is a good thing anyhow.

Next look for psychological causes. Is your child unhappy or jealous? Does he need more attention, is he lonely, are you and he at odds, are there family rubs or serious emotional upsets that he senses? Then do what you can to straighten these things out.

Now it may be that removing causes—emotional or physical—if you have the patience to wait, does the trick. But often it is wise to try to replace a bad habit with a good one, to substitute positive activity for negative. So it is effective usually to see that a child's life has in it fuller activities and interests.

After all a child is full of desire to do, and his whole development is helped if he is given opportunity to express that desire. A little girl, for instance, who had a chronic nail biting habit was found to be obviously adored, overindulged, and constantly entertained and kept amused by her grownups. An impersonal but friendly kindergarten teacher saw that she had rich opportunity for self-activity and this proved to be the chief factor in a cure.

The next point of attack on an undesirable habit lies in gaining the child's coöperation, but this can be only when the child is old enough and does not apply to all undesirable habit formation. But it is successful, coupled with the other approaches, if a child's pride or sense of no longer "acting like a baby" can be appealed to. Encouragement and praise are great levers and build up a child in his own esteem. He visualizes himself as successful, a positive image.

Thru the Looking Glass

One of the nicest foundations we've come across in months is packaged in a slim, light plastic case, about the size of a cheek rouge container, that you can carry in your pocketbook or keep in the minimum space in your desk drawer.

This isn't like most of the foundations you've been seeing lately. It isn't cake and it isn't liquid. It's a cream, but it's not to be confused with the heavy or runny creams we used to have when foundations first became fashionable. It's blended so well that, altho it's firm in the container, when you scoop up a bit of it you'll find that the cream spreads excitingly over your skin. You use no more than four or five dots of it as a base. These dots, spread gently with the fingers until the whole face is smoothly filmed, will give you a foundation that is flattering, softening, and, at least in our opinion, infinitely kind to dry, thin skin.

We like this foundation for several reasons, not the least because it isn't drying. It isn't oily, tho it vanishes instantly into the skin and remains invisible, even after hours of wear. Your makeup lasts and stays fresh.

There are no trick shades in this to trip you into an unflattering choice; it's so easy to apply that a child could use it skilfully; it's flattering to the weatherbeaten complexion texture, and it's not too expensive.

Baby Aid Given 40,000 Service Wives a Month

Washington, D. C., May 15 [Special].—America's war time bumper baby crop is bringing 40,000 cases a month into the children's bureau emergency maternity and infant care program, Miss Katherine Lenroot, chief of the bureau, told reporters today.

A guest at Mrs. Roosevelt's press conference along with her assistant, Dr. Martha Eliot, Miss Lenroot said the program would cost $29,000,000 for the present fiscal year, "not because we underestimated the costs of the program but because we underestimated the number of mothers that would use it."

A total of 309,000 cases have been approved since the program got under way last March, Miss Lenroot said, with 40,000 cases reported for April and 47,000 estimated for this month.

All women whose husbands are in the four lowest grades of the military services are eligible for aid, which includes payment of doctor fees for pre-natal and post-natal care, as well as hospital service and special child care if needed.

About 85 per cent of the women eligible are applying for the service, which they may have regardless of their personal financial situation, Miss Lenroot said. However, she continued, some prospective mothers do not know about the service or how to apply. Any local health department, the Red Cross, a social service agency, or local doctors are equipped to give the information, she asserted.

The costs average $82 for each maternity case and $50 for each child care case, Dr. Eliot reported.

The program is operated thru the state health departments which are reimbursed by the bureau for the costs.

Shops Offer Glamor Garb for the Bride

BY REA SEEGER.

Trousseau shoppers are enjoying all the romantic things in the lingerie and negligee collections. The rosy tinted sheers, the snowy white, and sky blue stuff is here, ready for June and summer weddings. The all white negligees are tops, including dull crepes lavishly encrusted with eyelet patterned coarse lace, fine val lace, and effective thread lace, and the knockout model hung with deep long fringe along the shoulder lines and short sleeves. The fringed negligee buttons down the front, the others tie at the side with an ample wrap over front. The edges of the rollover collars that form a deep vee in front, and the turn back cuffs are trimmed with lace or the appliqued heavy lace. All are most appealing trousseau items with interesting price marks.

Cool white nightgowns of sheer or semi-sheer material are exquisitely made with lace insertions and wide bands of lace appliqued to the edges, and some with entire bodice tops of lace. One has a shirred sheer bodice attached to the gleaming satin skirt, and dozens of sentimental white satin baby ribbon bows are fastened among the shirred rows of sheer. Matched sets of gown, costume slip, and French panties come in cool white or in white with effective fine applique design of pale blue ivy leaves. Others with lace or with distinctive fagoted bands are exciting alternates for the more heavily lace trimmed models.

The demand for all white is also met in crisp white pique housecoats, trimmed with unusual simulated Irish crochet lace around the cuffs, the fake apron panels on the skirt and the neck line. This is a house coat that will tub smoothly and easily all summer long, appearing just as crisp and charming at the end of the season as after the first sudsing.

Thin white sheers with pale pastel dots, dull crepes in a clinging simple silhouette, and some with contrasting applique of deep roses in colors complete the white beauties expressly designed for the summer bride.

Paper Salvage Champions Tell Their Methods

The city's champion collectors of waste paper gathered in the Morrison hotel yesterday to eat ice cream, sing "Mairzy Doats," and trade stories on methods of waste paper gathering. They were guests of the Chicago waste paper campaign committee.

They numbered 50, and their ages ranged from 8 to 15. They were citation winners from various school collection contests and representatives of the public and parochial schools which accumulated the greatest tonnage of waste paper in a recent contest sponsored by the waste paper campaign committee.

A highlight of the gathering was the presentation of a $500 check to the Rev. Stanley Stoga of the Catholic school board in behalf of the prize winning parochial schools: Transfiguration, St. Thomas the Apostle, St. Gall, Immaculate Conception, St. Bridget, and Our Lady of Good Counsel. Presentation to the public school winners was made during a recent radio broadcast.

Waste paper collections among the city's parochial schools in the five week contest totaled more than 2½ million pounds. Collections in the public schools for the same period reached an estimated 5,840,000 pounds.

Dolores Bistine, 15, of 2637 W. 21st st., told how she rounded up a total of 4,446 pounds, for one of the largest individual collections in the contest. She said she found a factory where the management was aware of the vital part waste paper plays in the war, and the management combed the factory clean of its scrap paper and provided the transportation to deliver it to her school, the Hammond. Other children described how they made house to house calls in pursuit of waste paper.

One of the youngest collectors was 8 year olds Ronald Jawl, 4253 N. Keystone av., of St. Edward's school, who gathered 3,844 pounds in the five week contest. Another contest is now in progress.

Miss Edwards Bride in N. Y. of Lt. Conover

Miss Marjorie Ruth Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnway Edwards of Evanston, and Lt. [j. g.] Luther William Conover II. of the coast guard reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie Bell, also of Evanston, were married yesterday in New York City. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain R. D. Frederickson of the navy in the St. Regis hotel. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. James Francis Devine of New York. Lt. Conover and his bride will live in New London, Conn., while he studies at the coast guard academy.

Mrs. George Arnold Knapp of Hinsdale, and her daughter, Miss Lillian Alice Knapp, will go to Dothan, Ala., for the marriage there Saturday of Miss Carolyn Monrotus and Mrs. Knapp's son, Maj. Knapp III. Miss Knapp will serve as maid of honor. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frederick Monrotus of Little Rock, Ark., attended Little Rock Junior college and Southern college in Lakeland, Fla. Maj. Knapp, whose late father was a widely known Chicago architect, attended Purdue and Cornell universities. He and his bride will live near his post, Camp Rucker, Ala.

Following their marriage April 22 in Christ church, Cranbrook, Mich., Capt. John Friece Adamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Adamson of Glencoe, and his bride, the former Joehanna Suffrin, are at home at Camp Polk, La., where Capt. Adamson is stationed with the army. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Suffrin of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Breen of Arthur av. have announced the marriage April 14 of their daughter, Rezelda, to Rex H. Fairburn of the navy, son of Mrs. Loren B. Fairburn of Bellingham, Wash., and the late Mr. Fairburn. The bridegroom is stationed at San Diego, and he and his bride are at home in North Hollywood, Cal.

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Miss Betty Jane Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hoffman of South Pasadena, Cal., to Lt. John L. Davidson of the navy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Davidson of Pasadena, Cal., formerly of Chicago. Lt. Davidson, a graduate of Dartmouth, and his bride are at home in New York.

Announcement is made of the marriage April 29 in Los Angeles of Miss Jeanne Lucille Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Rowe of Downers Grove, and Ensign Robert Vincent Mathison of the coast guard, son of Mrs. John H. Mathison of Evanston. Ensign Mathison and his bride attended Northwestern university.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kohn announce the marriage April 27 of their daughter, Lenore, to Sgt. Chester S. Goldstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goldstein of Kenosha, Wis.

'IT HAPPENED TOMORROW.'

A United Artists picture, directed by Rene Clair, featuring Dick Powell, Linda Darnell, and Jack Oakie, and presented at the Chicago.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

So you'd like to peer into the future, would you?

Before going to any lengths to satisfy that urge, this department suggests that you survey "It Happened Tomorrow" and think well over what did befall a young news hound, Larry Stevens, obit writer for a metropolitan newspaper, who, shortly after the story opens, has been promoted to the status of full-fledged reporter and, with his fellows, is celebrating that event. . . . The lads get to talking about time. An aged pensioner on the paper say smilingly that time is just an illusion. . . .

That evening, after having ended the celebration at a night spot where Larry has become smitten with the "medium" niece of a popular clairvoyant, "Pop" pops up out of the fog and hands Larry a newspaper. . . . It proves to be a tomorrow's edition of today's paper—which states that it snowed yesterday. . . . Yesterday being today. . . . You're getting dizzy? Stick aroun', mah fran'.

Gist is that Pop keeps appearing out of the nowhere and handing out tomorrow's papers today. . . . Larry, knowing today what's going to happen tomorrow, acquires a colorful reputation. . . . He and the lady he loves experience strange adventures. . . . Then, one fair morn, Mr. Stevens' doggy eye beholds the story of Mr. Stevens' demise tomorrow night. What doth he do? Well —he has a golden wedding anniversary. [I always thought Miss Tinée was a little off and now I know the poor thing has gone batty.]

You've said it. This is the straw that broke the back. Just the same, "It Happened Tomorrow" is fun—well acted, directed, dialoged, and photographed. Even if it does set you talking to yourself—you could probably talk to worse.

See you tomorrow.

West led the king, then the queen of diamonds. Declarer ruffed, cashed the heart king, led a low heart to the ace, and then, depending on the fact that East had bid a spade, took the finesse to the queen in that suit. He was both shocked and hurt when West calmly produced the spade king and returned the diamond ace. Now it was impossible to reënter dummy for the club finesse, and consequently South had to lose two tricks in that suit. Down one!

South did not have to rely on the specious point that East had mentioned spades in responding to the opening diamond bid, nor did he have to make a good guess as to which suit, spades or clubs, might permit a winning finesse. The sure way to 10 tricks was to ruff the second diamond lead, cash the heart king, lead to the heart ace, and then give West the diamond jack, discarding the low club from the closed hand. [Surely, West was marked unmistakably with the diamond ace.] Now West would have to lead a spade or a club up to the ace-queen, or a diamond that would give South a ruff and a discard.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 15.—If Uncle Sam doesn't get him first, Gene Kelly is a cinch to play Jerome Kern in "The Clouds Roll By." Not only is he Arthur Freed's choice, but Kern's as well. . . . There's no holding Lionel Barrymore since Eugene Ormandy conducted his compositions. They were good, too. . . . It took Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle 30 seconds to bomb Tokio, but it looks as tho it's going to take 30 years to film it. Technical problems are terrific. For a week Van Johnson, Bob Walker, and Tim Murdock have been in and out of mud, rain, and slush, wet to the skin all day long. Mervyn Leroy says they've done it without a complaint. . . . It is reported that Loretta Young is selling all her property, including the house she is living in. It's not true. She has sold one house to Greta Garbo. Garbo is planning to do one of the bedrooms in red and white, with red predominating.

Costumes for "Don Juan."

I'm not surprised Orry-Kelly will design Errol Flynn's wardrobe for "Don Juan." Jack Barrymore's costumes for the same picture were magnificent. I know—I was in it, and watched Jack on the set as he tried to drape a white opera cape. It wouldn't hang to suit the "great profile." After an hour he flew into a rage and tore it into shreds. Lucky the film was silent. He used some language in our scenes I'd never heard before—or since. . . . Alfred Hitchcock is off to Alta Lodge in Utah, which is near Garden of the Snow. He'll have to toboggan in and will shoot that background for a sinister murder for "The House of Dr. Edwards." . . . Glen Tryon directs Bob Crosby's Columbia picture, "Meet Miss Bobby Sox." Seventeen year old Bob White, from the New York "Kiss and Tell" company, is also in it.

Items from Here and There.

Red Skelton reports to Fort MacArthur May 25. He'll be 31 July 18, which means no more rides with that cute redhead in that miniature red car. They were quite a picture dashing by. . . . Edward Ludwig directs "Three's a Family" with Charlotte Greenwood. John Golden wanted Charlotte to do the New York play, but she loves her California. . . . Walter Slezak's last portrayal of a nasty Nazi was in "Lifeboat." Since then he's done only comedy parts. Now it's to be a comedy villain in "Princess and the Pirate." . . . Al Jolson's first production for Columbia will be Jinx Falkenburg in a sarong. . . . No wonder Judy Garland moved out of Mary Martin's house. When word got around it was for sale, folks came, not to buy, but to get a good look at Judy and Mary's belongings. . . . Since Keenan Wynn is doing radio guest spots, he's being considered for his own show. Wonder if papa Ed won't be a "mite" jealous.

California Has a Rival.

The Joe E. Browns' first night club appearance was at the Clover club. They went not only to see the "Town Criers" but the opening of Betty Garrett. . . . Frances Goldwyn saw Virginia in the spring and has fallen hard for it. She went there to visit Sammy Jr. His school is near Charlottesville. . . . Salvador Dali remains at Del Monte until he comes here to finish Mrs. Jack Warner's portrait. In the meantime, a wealthy refugee who makes her home here is paying $5,000 for her portrait. A friend has nicknamed it "The Iron Butterfly." . . . When chewing the fat with Ed Sedgwick, he said, "Remember the picture we made years ago with Jimmy Durante, Buster Keaton, and Ed Brophy? It could be done today as a musical." The title was "Speak Easily," and all Metro has to do is dust it off, put on a couple of new writers and get to work.

The Prop Man Who Never Failed.

It isn't often a prop man gets himself written up in a national magazine, but George Elder has served Metro for 25 years and rates it. I think George was "props" on "The Garden of Allah" which the late Richard Boles-Lavsky directed. The picture was made in the Arizona desert, and Marlene Dietrich, Charles Boyer, and the rest of the company bet that "props," who delivered anything, couldn't furnish fresh flowers next day. The following morning the director ordered flowers. "Props" thought a minute, then said, "Give me four hours, boss." He commandeered a car, motored a hundred miles to the railway station, flagged down an express train, jumped on, ran thru the cars yelling, "It's a holdup!" He found the diner, grabbed flowers off each table as he went by, jumped out the other end of the train, and was on his way back to location before trainmen discovered it wasn't a holdup. He got the hundred dollars.

Opera Auditions Chorus.

The Chicago Opera company announces auditions for a new chorus to be placed in training at once for the season scheduled to open next fall at the Civic Opera house. Selection of singers will be under the supervision of Fausto Cleva, artistic director of the company, due in town this week for that purpose. Application for appointment should be made by telephoning Dearborn 8724.

Schwartz Extends Engagement.

Maurice Schwartz has extended his Studebaker engagement in "The Family Carnovsky" thru Sunday evening, May 28, the last possible extension, because "A Connecticut Yankee" takes over the theater May 29. The star and director of the Yiddish Art theater, who has presented such favorites as Paul Muni, Joseph Bulow, and Stella Adler, says he found his talented juvenile, Paul Leavitt, as counselor at a summer camp. Paul, who is 16, has one brother in the navy and another in the air forces. He had no theatrical ambitions, but is glad he listened to Mr. Schwartz's advice.

New Director.

"School for Brides," opening at the Civic theater Friday, May 26, has called in a new director whose name will be on the playbill. He is Ralph Murphy, long a movie director, whose more recent pictures include "The Fleet's In," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and "Night Plane to Chungking."

Operatic Ringmaster.

This year's billing of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's circus credits Robert Ringling with the staging. Back in 1930, when Mr. Ringling was new on the Chicago Opera's baritone list, he had one of his gayest roles as Springer, director of the traveling circus, in "The Bartered Bride."

Ado Annie's Future.

When Pamela Britton deserts "Oklahoma!" for the movies, her first job will be in "Anchors Aweigh" with Frank Sinatra . . . The Shuberts are trying to sign Jan Kiepura and his wife, Marta Eggerth, for a revival of "The Chocolate Soldier." . . . Irene Bordoni is considering a show for the fall. It would be her first since "Louisiana Purchase."

Topical Play.

Jed Harris has acquired for immediate production a play by Fritz Kortner about Nazi prisoners of war in this country. . . . Taylor Holmes will have the leading role in "A Strange Play," due in New York June 1. . . . Jimmy Savo will play Mr. O'Malley in "Barnaby," a play with music being devised from the comic strip.

Sorry, but you can't save that ham indefinitely and eat it, too—without endangering your health. From the number of inquiries received in my department recently about the length of time that hams may be kept safely at home, it seems that homemakers want to go back to the days when smoked meats hung in the woodshed for months at a time. The truth is that modern smoked meats should be stored just as carefully as fresh ones.

Improvements in curing meats to produce mild, uniformly flavored hams have increased the need for more careful storage. Hams no longer require overnight soaking and pre-cooking, but they do need careful refrigeration. Uncooked, smoked, or tenderized hams will keep for only two weeks at the most under these conditions and cooked, table-ready hams can be kept in the refrigerator for no longer than a week.

The belief that cooking meat increases its keeping qualities is false, for cooked meat dries out and spoils readily. Cooked or leftover meat should be covered to prevent rapid drying out, placed in the coldest part of the refrigerator, and used as quickly as possible. It is advisable to cut up or grind cooked meat just before ready to use, rather than before storing.

Ground, uncooked meat, variety meats, and fish should be cooked within 24 hours after their purchase, since they are more perishable than larger cuts of meat. Steaks, chops, and roasts may be kept up to three days in the meat compartment or just below the freezing unit of the refrigerator. Or they may be frozen in the following manner:

Wrap the meat well in waxed paper, separating individual portions, and place in ice tray. To freeze quickly, place tray on bottom shelf of freezing unit and turn control to the lowest temperature. Reset the control to just below normal temperature for continued storage after freezing. Frozen meat usually is thawed before cooking, but it may be cooked in the frozen state if more time is allowed for cooking.

Always remove the wrapping paper from meat as soon as it comes from the market. Do not wash, wipe with a damp cloth, cut, or chop the meat until ready to use. Store the meat without wrapping if the refrigerator has a covered meat compartment. Otherwise, wrap it loosely in waxed paper, leaving the ends open to allow air to circulate around the meat. Store as near the freezing unit as possible.

Unlike meat, poultry should be cleaned and washed before refrigeration. It is best to cut up birds just before using, for the whole bird will keep better than a disjointed one. Chicken may be frozen like meat, if desired.

TURN IN WASTE FATS FOR POINTS AND PENNIES!

White Collar GIRL

Share the Cab.

The most nonplussed woman of the fortnight was the mild-mannered occupant of a taxicab who abruptly found herself, in the midst of a downpour, sharing a cab with a buxom matron bent on piling cartons of one size and another into the cab. There was scarcely room for the passengers when all the cartons were in and the door slammed shut. By this time, our friend protested quietly that please . . . please . . . she merely wanted to go to the Englewood station and would hate to miss her train. The portly one brushed this aside and snapped out directions: "Stop at the rear of the Windermere East" . . . then on to the Shoreland . . . and so on. Up and down alleys, in the rain, they clipped, picking up more cartons at each stop while our friend pondered. What were they collecting? Fat? Laundry? Silverware? She figures she'll never know.

In Desperation.

In spring and fall, winter, summer,
She gets me down—the Office Hummer.
We all do like a happy soul,
But hummers make me lose control,
So much that I, tho meek today,
Am apt to go berserk and slay!

Casting aside established rules so his inconsistency is bewildering.

Showing anxiety for fear something is being done he doesn't know about.

Starting the day wrong for all his employes no matter how cheerful the "Good morning" before he enters the office.

Failing to give us the chance to call our boss a true executive.

N. U. Changes Its Bachelor of Arts Program

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

A new bachelor of arts program at Northwestern university, which aims to correct some evils of the elective system yet permits the student freedom of choice after basic discipline has been acquired, was announced yesterday by President Franklin B. Snyder.

Instead of the "course" system, the new program substitutes "units of study," employing four units for each of the four years. Those for the freshman year include English, one modern or classical language, mathematics, and the bases of social life. Second year units will be literature, biological science or mathematics, the chosen language continued, and modern society.

The third year requires philosophy, music, graphic and plastic arts; social science or philosophy; work in a field of special interest, and a unit selected by the student outside the field of special interest. Seniors will devote two study units to work in a field of special interest, with one unit in "problem or area study" and another in tutorial correlative reading.

"Since modern society is composed of many interrelated elements," said President Snyder, explaining the program, "the preparation of the student should be broad and integrated rather than specialized and disparate." The new program, unanimously adopted by the senate of the university, is designed to acquaint students with the disciplines that, in science, have enabled man to adapt himself to his environment and to give him a basis, founded on the humanities, to form realistic judgments.

"In recent years," said Prof. Fred D. Fagg, dean of the faculty, "the demands of professional training have intruded so far into programs of study in the liberal arts that colleges are in danger of producing narrow specialists with culture insufficiently broad beyond their restricted fields."

The new program, Dr. Fagg explained, seeks to give the student a broad general knowledge, with opportunity of emphasis in one field of studies; to stress basic principles rather than aggregates of facts, and to develop an active understanding rather than a passive accumulation of knowledge.

The program will go into effect this fall.

Youth's Side of Delinquency Story Is Told

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In a recent meeting at which youth was given a chance to voice opinions on the juvenile delinquency problem, one young girl said, "If a person can't make friends he won't go home to his parents and say, 'I can't make friends.'"

Another young one said, "Parents are backward. They haven't grown up with the children; they live in another era."

"Parents make you feel embarrassed about a lot of things," a youth volunteered.

The consensus among the youth group is that the chief factor in juvenile delinquency is parental neglect, and they added with wisdom beyond their years: "The home is the most important influence."

As if the above statements were not enough to be held against parents, another angle shows up. It is the youngsters' attitude toward grade advisers, a resentful attitude, because these school instructors, they feel, prove inadequate in the rôle of moral and spiritual advisers.

Naturally there is reflection here on the paucity of home training, direction, character building in the home. And, no doubt, their judgment on the grade advisers stems directly from those parents who feel they can shift their responsibility to others' shoulders without qualm or question. In that parents are wrong. It's their moral duty to establish standards, morals, character, the teachers playing a healthy secondary rôle.

We are touched by the comment of the young person who confides he will not tell his parents he cannot make friends. Again, you have parental failure here. Somewhere they've failed the youngster who is ostracized by his contemporaries, by virtue, mayhap, of nonsocial traits in themselves; anyway, by failure to encourage in the child the social graces and qualities that appeal.

Yes, we parents have criticism coming to us, serious criticism, and who has a better right to direct it our way than these young victims of our casual, indifferent, or downright neglectful upbringing?

$5 PRIZE RECIPE

Pecan Lace Cookies.
[Three to four dozen.]

- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ⅛ cup sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- Dash salt
- 1 to 2 cups chopped pecans

Cream margarine and add sugar; add eggs and vanilla. Stir in dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Add pecans. Batter will be very thin. Drop by half teaspoonfuls, 2 inches apart on greased and floured cookie sheets. Bake in moderately hot [375 degrees] oven until browned around edges, about 8 minutes. Remove cookies from pan at once, handling carefully. If cookies stick to pan before all can be removed, return to oven for half a minute to warm pan.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

"At least 2,000 additional Red Cross nurses' aids are needed immediately in the hospitals of the Chicago area."

This statement was made by Brig. Gen. Percy J. Carroll. As commanding officer of Vaughan General hospital, Hines, he knows at first hand the drastic nurse shortage and the even more urgent need for aids to assist in hospital operation.

"With more than 2,000 registered nurses from the Chicago area already serving in the fighting forces, nurses' aids can render an important war service in their home community by assisting the remaining nurses in caring for the sick," Gen. Carroll continued.

Hospital officials testify that trained nurses' aids, by assuming many nontechnical hospital duties, enable one graduate nurse to do the work of six.

Gen. Carroll has asked the Red Cross for the services of as many nurses' aids as can be spared from present duties. Army hospitals will accept only aids who already have served 150 hours or more in civilian hospitals. Aids who go to Vaughan will leave behind them vacancies which must be filled by new daytime volunteers.

Registration for nurses' aid training is being conducted now at Red Cross headquarters, 529 S. Wabash av., for classes to begin June 5, Mrs. Arthur H. Spiegel, volunteer chairman of the nurses' aid corps, announced yesterday.

The accelerated course, to cover a period of five and a half weeks instead of the regular seven, has been arranged in order to train school teachers, students returning from college, and other qualified applicants. Women between 18 and 50, who have the equivalent of at least a high school education, are eligible and must pass a physical examination.

Chicago headquarters of the American Women's Voluntary Services, 160 N. La Salle st., will accept applications thru tomorrow for enrollment in a new course to train 16 volunteer physical therapy assistants, beginning May 31.

The American Physiotherapy association has prepared the material covered in the course, which will be conducted by experts in physical therapy from medical schools and Chicago hospital staffs. Miss Helen Lindau, chairman of the instruction, announces that the primary training will consist of eight lectures, followed by six hours of supervised practice work at Wesley Memorial hospital, after which trainees will work 45 hours as volunteers in hospitals in Chicago.

Following the training period, volunteers will serve nine hours a week in Mercy, County, Passavant, St. Luke's, and Wesley hospitals.

Accepted volunteers will be interviewed by Mrs. S. Allen Mackler, chairman of hospital education for the AWVS. They must be high school graduates between 18 and 45.

At home in Maywood on leave from her work as a photographic laboratory assistant at the marine corps' air station at El Centro, Cal., is Corp. Annamarye Greene, who enlisted in the women's reserve last August.

Corp. Greene received her basic training at Camp Lejeune, N. C., after which she was assigned to El Centro. Her brother, Pvt. George P. Greene Jr., is attached to an antiaircraft outfit at Camp Haan, Cal.

Before enlisting, Corp. Greene worked as an information clerk at the Union station. She was graduated from Trinity High school, River Forest, and the Chicago Teachers' college. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Greene Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott J. Dow Jr. [Louise Badgerow] of Wellesley Hills, Mass., formerly of Chicago, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Georgia, last Friday. The baby's grandmother, Mrs. Harve G. Badgerow of Winnetka, went east to welcome her granddaughter, who was named after her uncle, Lt. Col. George Dow of the army air forces, now stationed in England. The baby's two brothers, Harve, 12, and Scotty, 9, probably will spend the summer with the Badgerows at their Egralharve farm on West Okoboji Lake, Ia., where the Badgerows will go June 15. Mr. and Mrs. Winston Lewis May Jr. [Susan Badgerow] also may send their daughter, Linda, to the farm this summer. The Mays live in New Canaan, Conn.

Today's Events.

A large audience is expected in Fullerton hall of the Art institute at 2:30 p. m. today to hear Charles Sterling speak on "War Time Adventures of the Louvre Masterpieces." The institute and France Forever are presenting the speaker, who formerly was associate curator of painting at the Louvre in Paris, and who now is senior research fellow at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. He was in charge of the evacuation of masterpieces from the Louvre as the Germans approached Paris.

Henry A. Colgate, president of The Seeing Eye, Inc., is arriving from Morristown, N. J., home of the Seeing Eye school, to speak at the final report meeting of the Chicago Seeing Eye membership enrollment meeting at 11 a. m. today at the Woman's Athletic club. Following his talk, Miss Alice Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Holmes of Highland Park, will give a short piano recital. She will be accompanied by her guide dog, Patsy.

MEAT RATIONING TO BE RESUMED, BOWLES THINKS

Foresees Possibility in 30, 60 or 90 Days.

Washington, D. C., May 15 [Special].—Price Administrator Chester Bowles told the house banking committee today that a return to general meat rationing is possible within 30 days.

" I'm quite confident we will have to have rationing again on meat in 30, 60, or 90 days, or maybe it will be January or February," Bowles told the committee.

Rep. Gamble [R., N. Y.] interrupted the price administrator to suggest, "It's not going to be before election?"

Resents Implication.

"I resent the remark that politics figure in this program," Bowles answered. "We're convinced the public knows we are operating on a clean basis."

Bowles said the rate of shipments by farmers and ranchers and the amount of feed available for animals will be controling features in fixing a date for a return to rationing.

Simultaneously with Bowles' prediction, the return to active army service and consequent retirement as the office of price administration's deputy administrator for rationing was announced for Col. Bryan Houston, whose last major OPA assignment was the working out with Bowles of plans that eliminated most meat rationing.

Phillips Is Successor.

Col. Houston was succeeded in the rationing job by Charles F. Phillips, who has been a director of automotive supply rationing since June 22, 1942, and who was a professor of economics at Colgate university before he joined OPA. Phillips took a leading part in developing the initial rationing program which regulated the sale of tires.

An OPA spokesman said there is no ground for speculation that Houston is stepping out of OPA because of any feeling that the lifting of meat rationing regulations may have had an adverse effect on home front morale by giving the impression that the war was virtually won and food regulations no longer considered necessary.

Houston Loaned to OPA.

On the contrary, the spokesman said, Houston's return to army duty was definitely slated to become effective when Houston and Bowles worked out the program. Houston was loaned to OPA by the army last Nov. 1 and his leave was extended at Bowles' request, it was said.

With the war program being stepped up both in Europe and the far east, Houston, who is a member of the general staff, is now urgently needed for army duty, it was said. He is regarded as one of the war department's experts on contract termination, a phase of the war production program that is expected to become increasingly important.

Houston is known to have taken to the OPA the view that rationed articles should be made point free as rapidly as possible. During his six months tenure rationing of many food items was discontinued, typewriters were taken off the ration list and automobile tires were made more easily available.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

May 15, 1944.

THE most luxuriant crop that can be raised on any cultivated field at the farm is quack grass. The alfalfa field south of the machine shed has been engulfed by this pest and drastic action is indicated.

This one field always has caused trouble. For several years now the quack grass infestation has become increasingly worse. To whip the weeds, the manager now plans to cut the field once, plow it up, and fallow it for the rest of the summer.

Summer fallowing consists of keeping the ground worked, constantly and bare of any crop. About every two weeks a disc will be run over the ground. This will tear up the quack grass and expose its roots to the sun, which kills it quickly.

Can't Be Smothered.

The infestation is so heavy this year it is doubtful if it would be possible to smother it out with such a crop as soybeans or buckwheat. The field also is too large to be grazed by sheep, altho they could rid a smaller patch of the weed by grazing it down to the roots.

The farm's "war worker of the week" award goes this time to a Muscovy duck. The white fowl is nesting in one of the sheds in the duck park and is sitting on no less than 26 eggs. The bird has made a neat nest of straw and down plucked from its own breast. The nest measures 5 inches deep and about 6 inches wide. It is packed full of warm eggs that should hatch in another week.

The flockmaster does not claim the entire output for the one duck. He has a hunch a few lazy Muscovys laid their eggs in the nest and are letting the foster mother do all the work. This motherly duck resents any intrusion into her maternity ward and will peck sharply at any one trying to lift her from the nest.

When the New Calf Comes.

Out in the Shorthorn barn there is a new bull calf. The dark red youngster was born last week and already is frisking about the lot like a 4 month old calf. New additions are expected any day to the Angus herd and a close watch is being kept over the heifers.

In the woodlots, the shagbark hickories are putting out their big white buds, which will open soon under the stimulus of the warm sun. At the side of the hickories are the reluctant oaks which just now are getting around to producing some buds and leaves. They still have some of last year's leaves clinging to them.

★ The GARDEN ★

GARDENERS who have onions in their plots should now be cultivating their rows as often as possible, at least three times a week. Onions develop best in a soil kept loose and pliable, and cannot reach maximum size if the topsoil is packed or crusted. For this reason it is advisable to use a hand cultivator to pulverize the soil not only between the rows, but also as close as possible to the bulbs. Since onion roots extend downward from the bottom of the bulb, there is no danger of damaging the plants by disrupting feeder roots, altho naturally gardeners should be careful not to bruise or prick the bulbs while cultivating.

"The Gardener's Diary," a compilation of the garden articles published in this space last season, is on sale by The Tribune Public Service offices, 435 N. Michigan av. and 1 S. Dearborn st. The cost of the booklet is 15 cents over the counter, 18 cents by mail.

HUSBAND KILLS HIMSELF AFTER WOUNDING WIFE

Robert Jarke, 44, of 1320 N. Claremont av., shot and killed himself yesterday after critically wounding his wife, Helen, 41. Lt. Charles Moore of the North avenue police said Jarke left a note pinned to his chest in which he accused his wife of relations with other men. Mrs. Jarke, wounded in the chest, is in a critical condition in St. Elizabeth's hospital. The couple had seven children. Jarke was a stationary engineer.

ILLINOIS QUOTA IN 5TH LOAN PUT AT $1,107,000,000

A quota of 1 billion 107 million dollars has been assigned to Illinois for the fifth war loan campaign beginning June 12 and ending July 6, Renslow P. Sherer, chairman of the state war finance committee, said yesterday.

This is the highest quota for Illinois of any of the war loans. Of the total, 405 millions will be allotted for sale to individuals, and 702 millions to corporations.

LINCOLN FIELDS OPENS 29 DAY MEETING TODAY

Sportsman's Ends Fine Session.

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

Bright, active little Sportsman's Park in Cicero, which surpassed all its previous records for attendance and wagering during the 14 day spring session ending yesterday, today passes on the baton to its big brother, Hawthorne Park, the site of the Lincoln Fields meeting for the next 29 racing days.

A crowd of 12,426 gave Sportsman's quite a farewell party as they poked $649,475 at the ticket sellers and raised the mutuel handle for the two weeks of fast moving entertainment to $8,479,245. It was the fourth largest gathering of the meeting and ran the total attendance to 166,316, an average of 11,879. The average daily betting for the meeting was $605,660.

Jamerica Takes Feature.

The 1943 spring meeting drew 108,407 customers and $5,040,779 went thru the ticket windows. Lincoln Fields in 1943 attracted 293,861 for 30 days, an average of 9,795 daily, and the mutuel business for the meeting was $14,386,173, or $479,539.10 per day, considerably less than the figures boasted by Sportsman's Park the last two weeks.

The feature race yesterday, the National Jockey club handicap for a purse of $2,500, was won by Jamerica, owned by Marion Brink and C. V. Carr and ridden by Willie Gillespie. Clyde Troutt's Cerberus, with Marcos Pena up, took second in the mile and five-eighths event. Starcress, piloted by Jack Martin, came in third in a field of eight. The winner was the favorite and refunded $4.60.

Pena Wins Jockey Prize.

Pena, who rode two winners yesterday, finished far in front in the riders' competition for $1,650 in war bonds. He closed with 156 points and earned the top prize of $750. Eddie Franklin was second with 121 points for $400; Martin took third with 120 points, worth $300, and Andy Lo Turco was fourth with 82, good for $200.

The Lincoln Fields meeting, which will be the second away from its home plant at Crete, has for its opening feature the Grand Crossing handicap, a $1,500 event for 3 year olds and up at six furlongs. Ten thorobreds, headed by the Brolite farm entry of Roman Sox and Full Cry, and the Creech and McIlvain entry of Sales Talk and Bright Willie, are entered.

Hawthorne, a regulation mile track, is located in Stickney, just across the line from the Cicero half mile establishment, and its schedule calls for six $5,000 added stake races, the first of which will be the Crete handicap for 3 year olds and up Saturday.

SOUTHPAW KNUCKLER!

Mary Nesbitt, knuckle ball expert, and southpaw at that, shows Coach Johnny Gottselig just how the knuckler is delivered by softball experts in her home town of Chattanooga, Tenn. Miss Nesbit and 119 other girls reported for spring training of the All-American Girls' Professional Ball league in the twin towns of Peru and La Salle, Ill., yesterday.

120 GIRLS START SOFTBALL DRILL

Former Baseball Leaders Direct Tryouts.

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peru, Ill., May 15.—There was Marty McManus without the familiar chew of tobacco. Marty McManus, the Chicago boy who played big league baseball a few years ago and managed the Boston Red Sox. There was Max Carey, the National league's base stealing king of two decades ago. There was Claude Jonnard, the old New York Giant pitcher; Bert Niehoff, who played second base with the Phillies 30 years ago; Jack Kloza, a Milwaukee boy, who was with the Browns. Completing this part of the picture was Johnny Gottselig, whom Chicago fans last saw in a Blackhawk uniform in the Stanley cup finals.

McManus had no chew because he's in a different kind of game now. He and Carey and Jonnard and Kloza are newcomers to the managerial ranks in the All-American Girls Professional Ball league, a child of the war. Today it was launched on its second season as spring training opened here and it was quite an occasion in the twin towns of Peru and La Salle.

17,000 Attend Golf School's Third Lesson

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

That splendid, withal whimsical, fellow known as the weather man last night collaborated with the officials of the 12th annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE by giving the oldest and biggest system of group instruction in the history of the game its second consecutive night of handsome atmospheric conditions. As a result, a total of 17,000 men, women, and children flocked to the four courses of the Chicago park district to take the gratis lessons in golf's A B C's from the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

The Diversey and Columbus classes attracted audiences of 5,000 each, while 4,000 turned up for the lesson at Jackson park, oldest of the district layouts, and 3,000 were on hand at Marquette, the southwest side classroom. This enrollment for the third lesson boosted the total for the first eleven and three-quarters sessions of the school to 449,000.

Last Lesson Friday.

The fourth and final lesson of the school will be given next Friday night by the same faculty at the same hour—7:15 o'clock—on the same four park courses—Jackson, Diversey, Marquette, and Columbus. The Illinois P. G. A. members will review all of the previous tips on the grip, the stance, and the address, as well as winding up their instructions on the swing, topic of the final two lessons.

ALENO'S HOMER IN FIFTH INNING WINS FOR REDS

Clyde Faces 28 and Walks Only One.

Cincinnati, O., May 15 (AP).—Clyde Shoun pitched the second no hit game of the major league season today as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Boston Braves, 1 to 0.

The losing pitcher was Jim Tobin, the one other major league pitcher with a no hitter this year, and Jim was the only Brave to get on base. He drew a walk in the third inning and first base was as far as he went.

Even tho yielding the mathematical minimum of hits to the Braves, Shoun, a relief and spot pitcher last year, barely got his game, for a homer by Rookie Chuck Aleno in the fifth was all the Reds could produce to support him. Shoun got two of the Reds' five hits, one a double, to round out his day.

The Yankee Marine.

A Yank marine was captured in the war
And when the Germans locked him in a cell
He made the guards around him pretty sore
By shouting: "We sure gave you Germans hell!"
And so they made him wear a Nazi suit
And swear allegiance to the fatherland,
And then they told him: "You're a new recruit
In Adolph Hitler's desperado band."

"Since I've been made a Nazi now," said he,
"I feel that all we Germans ought to speak
Most truthfully and most unflinchingly
Of those things that occurred to us last week."
And then they heard the fellow loudly yell:
"Didn't those Yankees give us Germans hell?"

I've been reading only today,
That all who hear them may pause where they are
And for those in grave danger pray.

BY EDWARD BURNS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 15.—Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees, having heard about Jim Dykes' masquerading White Sox batsmen, this afternoon brought one Walter [Monk] Dubiel out of the mothballs to pitch against the Chicagoans in the opener of the four game series. Dubiel, et al, pushed over the Sox, 10 to 2.

Dubiel, whose endeavors as a Yank previous to this afternoon had been confined to a start on the second day of the season, which he lost, and three subsequent innings of relief work, yielded two singles in the first inning to account for one of the Sox runs. He gave up one more single in the second and one in the third. Thereafter the punchless Chicago pack went hitless until John Dickshot knocked a pinch single with two out in the ninth.

Sox "Rally" Nets a Run.

The Chicagoans' second run was made in a more or less typical Sox rally in the eighth. Wally Moses, Thurman Tucker, and Hal Trosky walked, loading the bases. Then Guy Curtright walked, forcing Moses across the plate.

Ed Lopat, native New Yorker and former movie palace usher here, started out as tho he were going to put on a "home town boy makes good" performance. He retired the first nine Yankees to face him. Trouble overtook the young lefty in the fourth inning, however.

The home fourth started with a pass to George Stirnweiss. Bud Metheny followed with a single to right, Stirnweiss taking third, whence he scored the tying run on Ed Levy's fly to Tucker. Nick Etten fouled to Trosky, then Don Savage hit a homer, scoring behind Metheny.

Yanks Score 5 in Seventh.

In the next two innings Lopat held the opposition to a double by Levy with two out in the ninth. Then the ex-usher's house of cards really fell on him in the seventh. Savage was safe on Tony Cuccinello's error, first of three misplays perpetrated by the Sox infield. Johnny Lindell was safe when Skeeter Webb allowed his pop fly to plunk on his toes for a spurious single. Mike Milosevich singled to center, scoring Savage and putting Lindell on third. Rollie Hemsley also singled to center, Lindell scoring and Milosevich stopping at second. Johnny Humphries replaced Lopat. Dubiel sought to sacrifice but forced Milosevich. Then there were singles by Stirnweiss and Metheny, making the Yankee production for the inning a total of five runs.

The Yankees added two runs in the eighth without a hit. Humphries passed three and this, mixed with a sacrifice and an error by Leroy Schalk, accounted for the pair of tallies.

SIMMONS WINS OVER RYAN IN MARIGOLD RING

Robert Simmons, 148¼, of Indianapolis, won an eight round split decision over Johnny Ryan, 150, of Detroit last night in Marigold Gardens' outdoor arena.

Referee Dave Miller and Judge James Lynch voted for Simmons and Judge James McManus called the bout a draw.

Collins Brown, Robert Earl, and Del Cockayne, all Golden Gloves graduates, scored victories in supporting matches. Collins, 1944 Chicagoland Golden Gloves middleweight champion, made a success of his professional debut with a two round technical knockout over Mike Edwards; Earl, former city Golden Gloves lightweight title holder, defeated Pvt. Dave Bruce, Baer field, Ind., in six rounds, and Cockayne, ex-Des Moines sectional Golden Gloves winner, beat Sam Scully, Chicago 135 pounder, in five.

Willie Moon, erstwhile Catholic Youth organization champion, stopped Dickie Miller of Peoria in the fourth round of the opener.

A crowd of 1,502 contributed a gross gate of $3,502.

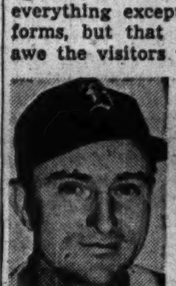
VISITORS POUND ED HANYZEWSKI AND 3 OTHERS

North Siders Dealt 17th Setback.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs, who did right nobly for themselves by grabbing a slice of the double header the day previous, fell back into eighth place habits yesterday, and the result was distasteful for everybody except Brooklyn's touring Dodgers.

Charley Grimm's cellar tenants again showed a lack of just about everything except presentable uniforms, but that wasn't enough to awe the visitors who delighted themselves with a 14 to 3 decision. It was the Cubs' 17th defeat and they have only 134 more to play.



Paul Waner.

Frenchy Bordagaray.

If nothing else the Dodgers weren't partial about where, when or how their 17 hits were expended. They clipped Eddie Hanyzewski and made short work of a rescue effort by Claude Passeau. They also manhandled Bill Fleming and Johnny Miklos, who made up the remainder of the Cubs' staff for the day.

Give It Comedy Touch.

But the first named pair bore the brunt of the assault. They were present in the sixth when the Dodgers gave the party a comedy touch by assembling a batch of seven runs.

The Cubs reached a five hit total against Hal Gregg, once having a 3 to 2 lead but it probably is more important to point out some of the feats accomplished by the Dodgers.

Granddad Paul Waner got into the affair late but not too late to prevent him from driving in four runs. Dixie Walker, the league's leading hitter, and Luis Olmo each uncorked a pair of hits in the turbulent sixth.

Both Score in First.

Both factions scored in the first inning despite a scarcity of hits. The Dodgers got theirs on a single with which Frenchy Bordagaray opened the show. He went to second on a passed ball and the remainder of the way on two infield outs.

The Cubs did even better in their half. They didn't produce even one hit. Bill Schuster walked and was forced by Phil Cavarretta, passes to Ival Goodman, and Bill Nicholson following. Cavarretta got home on Dom Dallessandro's fly.

A pass to Bill Hart and singles by Bob Bragan and Gregg boosted the Dodgers into a 2 to 1 lead in the second.

Get Victory Hallucinations.

This wasn't disturbed until the fifth when the Cubs came up with their two run blast that for a few all too short moments gave them victory hallucinations.

With one out Hanyzewski walked and went to third on Schuster's double. Cavarretta was purposely passed but the strategy failed because Goodman plunked a double into right, Hanyzewski and Schuster scoring. Nicholson also was purposely passed and this time the trick worked, Dallessandro grounding into a double play.

The seven run storm in the sixth began with singles by Walker, and

RUBINO STARTS DRILL FOR BOUT WITH WILLIE PEP

Brooklyn Boxer Shows Speed and Punch.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Frankie Rubino, Brooklyn junior lightweight, yesterday opened boxing drills in the South Annex gymnasium in the Coliseum by going two rounds with Jimmy Santora, Chicago lightweight. He displayed an aggressive, two fisted style that should make Willie Pep step fast all the way when they meet in a 10 round bout heading Jack Kearns' second offering in the Coliseum Friday.

Indications are the impending encounter will be the hardest Pep has faced since being given an honorable discharge from the navy on Feb. 15. Willie, recognized as featherweight champion by the New York athletic commission, has beaten Leo Francis, Snooks Lacey, and Jackie Leamus in that order in the last six weeks.

Pep did light loosening up exercises yesterday for the second straight time because of a shortage of sparmates.

Henry Armstrong, only boxer to hold three championships simultaneously, has been matched to meet Willie Joyce, Gary junior welterweight, in a 10 round bout in Chicago Stadium June 2, Co-Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun said last night. It will be the second show held in the Stadium this year, Jack Lamotta, New York middleweight, beating Sgt. Lou Woods of Camp Grant in the main event of the first one on March 31.

MILWAUKEE HAS STRONG TEAM IN SOFTBALL MEET

Milwaukee's Rustic Gardens, who twice won the metropolitan championship of that city, will be among the seven softball teams which will compete in the spring tournament of the U. S. Major league on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights in Perichy stadium, Harlem av. and Harrison st.

Milwaukee, Fort Wayne, Aurora, Chicago, Peoria, Joliet, and Kenosha make up the field, which will compete for the Commissioner John Owen trophy.

AMUNDSEN, 1-0 LOSER; RETAINS SECTION LEAD

Amundsen, which had won 11 games in the City league's north section, was defeated yesterday by Von Steuben, 1 to 0, in River park but still retained its lead.

Each team got only one hit, made two errors, and Marvin Rotblatt, winning pitcher, and his rival, Bob Kuhlman, each struck out 12.

The lone run was scored in the second inning when, with two out, Jerry Rotblatt walked, stole second and scored when the throw to get him at second went into the outfield.

Homer Wins in Eighth.

Crane scored the winning run in the first half of the eighth inning on a homer by First Baseman Bob Kokosczka to beat Wells, 3 to 2, on Smith field. It was the seventh victory for Crane.

Tilden moved into second place in the central section by trimming Lindblom, 13 to 0, on Byrne field.

Fenger chalked up its eighth victory in the south section by beating Harper, 13 to 6, in Sherman park.

Hits Homer in 10th.

A home run by Joe Indurante, Foreman catcher, gave his team a 9 to 8 victory over Austin in the tenth inning in Columbus park in the west section.

In the Private School league, University High went into a three way tie for second place with North Shore and Concordia by defeating the latter club, 2 to 1, on the University High diamond. Capt. Johnny Sharp scored the winning run when he stole home.

MORTON WINS, 9-1

Morton, Suburban league title holder and defending state champion, won its first district test yesterday by routing Argo of the south Suburban circuit, 9 to 1, in Oak Park.

Evanston and Proviso, also of the Suburban league, won their first games. Evanston, playing in Waukegan, defeated Northbrook, 13 to 3.

Proviso traveled to Franklin Park and turned back Leyden by an 11 to 5 score.

Bloom of Chicago Heights traveled to Blue Island and defeated the home club, 8 to 2.

Girl Softball League Opens Spring Drills

four pitchers, two catchers, five infielders, and four outfielders.

Salary is from $40 to $85 a week and unlike in baseball pay begins on the opening day of training. Those who are not retained will be given two week's severance pay and transportation back home. P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, and the main sponsor of this league, believes that girl ball players—and masculine ones—for that matter, should get the same treatment as any other type of employe when services are no longer required.

2 More Teams in '45.

Last year's attendance hit 200,000 in the four pioneer towns, but half of the total was marked up in the final month, which is considered a healthy sign.

Ken Sells, a young man in the Wrigley organization, is president of the league. Today he predicted that in 1945 perhaps two more teams would be added and that if all goes well, another league in a different area will be organized the following year.

The idea behind the league, Sells explained, is to combine feminine attractiveness and athletic skill. The muscular, boyish type is out, no matter if she's a potential Babe Ruth or Bob Feller. Uniforms with flared skirts are part of the plan to present the girls as they really are.

No. 1 among the league's don'ts is the one barring the gals from wearing slacks. Each team has a chaperon. In a few days the girls will attend personality classes designed to make them more feminine than ever.

Gottselig, who never played professional baseball, surprised his rivals last year with a daring, unorthodox system of play. He had a fast and hard running team, the girls forgetting their drawing room manners once the action started. He had, and has, the only girl knuckle ball pitcher in the sport. She's red haired Mary Nesbitt from Chattanooga, left handed, and winner of 28 games last season.

Youngest girl in camp is Anna Meyer, a 14 year old Indiana farm girl.

Evanston professional who has won the national P. G. A. and Western Open championships, was the guest star at the Marquette park class. The faculty there, consisting of Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, Maurice White of La Grange, and Red Denison of Midlothian, devoted their lesson to an open forum in which students were urged to ask questions on the game and its etiquet and rules.

Contribute to Fund.

The Columbus park classroom produced the most unusual feature of the evening. Bill Gordon of Tam o' Shanter, tournament chairman of the Illinois P. G. A., was supported by a teaching staff composed of Eddie Bush of Oak Park, who gave the shotmaking demonstration of the night; Charley Penna and Laddie Jukunec of Medinah, Byron Harcke of Twin Orchard, Johnny Holtz of Tam o' Shanter, Johnny Walker of Keller's Fairways, and Hank Foley of the home club. Gordon introduced Foley, who asked the students to contribute to the Chicago District Golf association's dime-a-round fund. Three girls passed thru the audience and collected $24.70 toward the fund which the C. D. G. A. annually turns over to the Chicago service men's center.

Jerry Glynn of Park Ridge found his boyhood course—Jackson Park—with its largest class in several years. He was aided by Johnny Bird and Bob Shires of South Shore, Chuck Tanis of Olympia Fields, George Knox of Calumet, and Bruce Herd and Frank Lovrine of Flossmoor.

The Diversey class, conducted by Jerry Cooke of Edgewater and Alex Cunningham of North Shore, was the biggest in the history of the north side layout. Jerry and Alex were assisted by Errie Ball, seaman 1st class and former professional at Charlottesville, Va.; Storekeeper 1st Class Howard Atten, George Smith of Onwentsia, Art Fladoos of North Shore, and George Gammon of Wisconsin.

Chicago Nine Defeats George Williams, 9 to 8

ATHLETICS, 6; TIGERS, 2.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 15 (AP).—Frank Hayes hit his second home run in two days and led the Athletics to a 6 to 2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in Shibe park today before 5,921.

The Tigers had tied the score at 2 to 2 in the first half of the ninth and Bob Gillespie had two men out and the bases loaded when Hayes drove the ball into the stands in the last half of the inning. The homer was his fifth of the year.

Olmo. Galan lined to Don Johnson after which Howie Schultz doubled to drive in the two runners.

Passeau, Waner Arrive.

Hart was purposely passed and Bragan caromed a hit off Hanyzewski's shin, Olmo scoring. Passeau came in at this point and so did P. Waner who singled for Fred Ankenman, scoring Schultz and Hart. Gregg did nothing but Bordagaray singled and so did Walker for the second time. These hits accounted for two more runs and also finished Passeau. Rescuer Fleming was greeted by a single off Olmo's bat and thus the seventh run was accounted for.

Fleming's three run difficulties in the seventh got under way with a single by Schultz and Johnson's error on Hart's grounder. After Bragan had been dispatched on a fly ball, P. Waner came back for his second shot and this time uncorked the triple that sent in two more pals. Grandpa Paul scored a moment later on another Bordagaray single.

This disturbance was followed by Olmo hitting his No. 1 homer off Miklos at the start of the eighth and by a ninth inning in which Bordagaray and Walker hit again, one run scoring.

MAY 1 STORED MEAT TOTAL AT 24 YEAR PEAK

Stocks Slide from April 1 Figure.

Stocks of meat in storage thruout the country declined in April for the first time in six months, but on May 1 were at the highest level for that date since 1920, the war food administration reported yesterday. Lard stocks broke all records.

The statistics reflected the storage space shortage which prevailed prior to the office of price administration order of May 3 making all meat except steaks and beef roasts point free.

Packing interests said the congestion remained nearly as severe as before the OPA order, and expressed disappointment at the failure of the government order to clear adequate storage space for incoming supplies, especially of pork.

Two Packers Close Monday.

Two large Chicago plants discontinued Monday slaughter of hogs because of the jam in freezer space, the reluctance of slaughter crews to work longer hours, even at premium pay rates, and other factors.

Previous government orders disrupting normal distribution machinery were blamed when sales to civilians failed to clear storage space as quickly as the government had expected.

Packers whose civilian allotments had been cut under the OPA quota system were reported encountering difficulty in finding delivery trucks and adequate sales forces. The meat "peddler," formerly an important factor in the distribution scheme, especially to smaller butchers, was virtually frozen out months ago by government regulations that made profits slim and encouraged wholesale desertions to higher pay war plant jobs. Those who would like to return to business cannot obtain trucks.

Storage Stocks Listed.

On May 1 meat in storage totaled 1,215,501,000 pounds, against 1,251,470,000 on April 1 and 714,612,000 on May 1, 1943. Lard holdings were 466,270,000 pounds, including 362,624,000 owned by the government, compared with 403,151,000 on April 1 and 141,579,000 a year ago. Shell and frozen eggs in storage set all-time highs for the date; total case equivalent for both was 12,802,000, compared with 8,415,000 April 1, and 10,735,000 a year ago.

HOG RECEIPTS DIP

Altho yesterday's hog receipts at principal packing centers were the smallest for Monday in three weeks, congestion at the Chicago stock yards was the worst for Monday since mid-January. When trading closed, about 13,000 hogs remained, the heaviest Monday carryover in four months.

Receipts of 22,500, including direct shipments to packers, compared with 32,300 Monday of last week, but volume was augmented by 12,000 held over from Saturday, the biggest week-end holdover in the yards' history. Twenty major markets handled 174,000, compared with 246,000 a week earlier.

The rule, effective yesterday, which included hogs down to 180 pounds in the $13.75 a hundred pounds floor price, resulted in a rise of 25 cents to $1 in the quotations for stock just under 200 pounds, and down to 180 pounds.

Cattle met good demand at stronger prices. Some advanced 25 cents. Lamb prices dipped 25 tot 40 cents to the lowest since mid-January.

Walkout by 600 Closes 3 Maryland Plate Mills

Baltimore, Md., May 15 (AP).—All three plate mills at Bethlehem Steel company's Sparrows Point plant were closed today because of a walkout of approximately 600 workers, management spokesmen said. Farm Machine Crisis Laid to '42 WPB Rule

BY GAIL COMPTON.

If the nation's food supply is in peril it is because of a lack of man power rather than a shortage of farm machinery, as farm leaders have charged in Washington, D. C., a survey of equipment manufacturers and farm experts indicated yesterday.

A shortage of equipment does exist, but the farm machinery industry is turning out new equipment as rapidly as lack of man power and material will allow. Government allotted quotas will be filled in most instances, and farmers are getting more machinery than last year, officials of one company said.

The manufacturers asserted their trouble and the present shortage result from the order issued in 1942 by Joseph Weiner, Russian born New York lawyer who was head of the division of civilian supply of the war production board. Weiner ordered production of farm machinery cut to 20 per cent of the 1940 output.

Employes Drift Away.

As a result, manufacturers in many cases ceased production of some items and converted their factories to other work. Employes drifted away.

The companies now are producing 80 per cent of the 1940-'41 average and, under a directive effective July 1, will approach 100 per cent. It has been difficult to hire new employes and step up production in war time, officials said.

The International Harvester company will meet its government quotas this year on all but three of the 60-odd machines it makes, company officers said. The company will not fill its quotas on grain drills, one row mounted corn pickers and self-propelled combines.

311 Tractors Every Day.

In no case, however, will it fall below 90 per cent of the quota. Tractors are being turned out at the rate of 311 a day, compared with 46 a day in 1942, officials said.

"People have the mistaken idea that the nation depends upon new equipment to effect a harvest," one official said. "If this were true the nation would starve. The main reliance is upon machines already in the field."

Iowa farmers have received 6,500 tractors this year, compared with 4,633 in 1943, Iowa State college reported. Tractor companies have been granted another 60 days to fill the tractor quota of 9,336.

C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm adviser, said the farmers in this area have enough machinery to get by, and more than last year.

COURT DECISION IN CERTAIN-TEED FIGHT DELAYED

Baltimore, Md., May 15 (AP).—Judge Emory S. Niles in Superior court today postponed decision until next Monday in the latest effort of a group of Certain-teed Products corporation stockholders to force election of company officers at a thrice adjourned annual meeting over objections of the management.

After a day long session of receiving testimony from attorneys for the management, the stockholders' group headed by Rawson G. Lizars of Chicago, the SEC, and the inspectors of election, Judge Niles directed that the annual meeting, scheduled to reconvene Wednesday, be confined to routine and that no effort be made to go thru with an election. The meeting then would be reconvened Wednesday, May 24.

U.S. GUARANTEE OF PEACE SHIFT LOAN PROPOSED

Bills Ease Reserve Lending Rules.

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—Legislation to authorize federal reserve banks to guarantee more than 500 million dollars of loans by private financial institutions to business for reconversion to civilian production was introduced today in the house and senate.

Separate bills were proposed by Chairman Wagner [D., N. Y.] of the senate banking committee and by Chairman Spence [D., Ky.] of the house banking committee. They said the government guarantee would stimulate private lending to business returning to peace time operations.

Many Will Need Aid.

Wagner said numerous enterprises will be unable to resume peace time operations without assistance, especially companies which have invested heavily in plant facilities and equipment.

Besides the reconversion feature, Spence explained that contractors desiring to acquire government owned plants or equipment after the war could obtain credit under the proposal.

"Such guarantees would be available for any types of loans made by financing institutions to business and industry," Spence said. "Such loans could be made on a short term or long term basis and provide either working capital or facilities."

Law Now Curbs Reserve.

Present law limits federal reserve system loans to those providing working capital for established business with maturities limited to five years.

The two chairmen said a treasury fund of 129 million dollars already established by congress would be transferred under the legislation to the federal reserve system to be utilized to pay any losses on loans the system may guarantee.

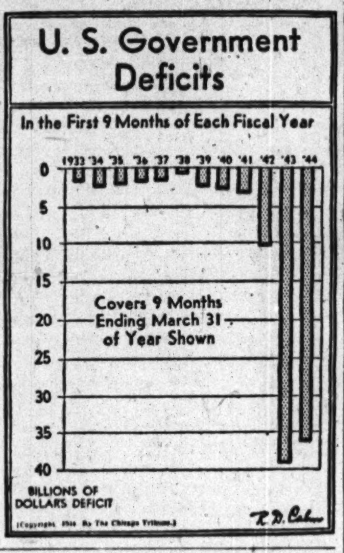
They estimated the funds would permit "guarantees of loans in an aggregate amount outstanding at one time of at least one-half billion dollars."

UPTOWN NATIONAL TO DOUBLE CAPITAL, INCREASE SURPLUS

Plans to increase the capital stock of the Uptown National bank from $300,000 to $600,000 thru the sale of 12,000 shares at $35 a share to the bank's stockholders, in the ratio of one new share for each share held, were announced yesterday by H. F. Wuehrmann, president. Par value is $25.

The directors have called a special meeting of the stockholders for June 12 to vote on the proposal. Of the proceeds, amounting to $420,000, $300,000 will be added to the bank's capital and the remainder to surplus account. The subscription warrants will be issued if approved by the stockholders and the controler of the currency.

It is the intention of the directors to continue the present dividend rate of $2 a share a year on the increased stock, Wuehrmann said.



Charges War Firms Hunt Oil to Trim Taxes

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The house banking committee was told today by Rep. Patman [D., Tex.], that some war contractors, instead of channeling excessive profits into the treasury, are using the money to explore for oil.

Rep. Sumner [R., Ill.], a committee member, suggested that the ways and means committee, which deals with the tax laws, investigate the situation.

"Funny" There Are Not More.

The legality of such operations was not questioned. Sumner commented that the way the law is drawn "it's funny we have anybody with excess profits not exploring for oil."

Patman told the committee many war contractors, some without any previous experience with oil explorations, are spending large sums looking for wells, charging these sums against operating costs and reducing or eliminating their tax liability.

OPA Aid Says It's True.

"If they hit oil," Patman said, "then they are in a position to make a killing. They would be allowed a 27.5 per cent depletion on their earnings from the oil property, on which they would pay no income taxes."

Orville D. Judd, OPA petroleum price executive, confirmed that such oil exploration investments are being made by "munitions makers," and at the committee's request agreed to supply the names of the companies.

STOCKS HIGHER, BUT SALES DROP TO 8 MONTH LOW

New York, May 15 (AP).—Specialties led the stock market in a small advance today. Turnover of 337,030 shares was the smallest since Aug. 30. When only 721 issues appeared, the market was the narrowest since that date. The Associated Press 60 stock average was up 0.1 at 51.7.

RAIL BONDS GAIN.

New York, May 15 (AP).—Most rail bonds gained today altho other corporate loans failed to advance. Volume declined to $5,132,900, against $8,980,400 Friday.

CHICAGO LIST MIXED.

Prices were mixed in yesterday's trading on the Chicago Stock exchange, with advances slightly outnumbering declines. The volume leaders, Chicago corporation, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Commonwealth Edison, and Utah Radio Products, rose fractions.

WPB APPROVES ELECTRIC IRON OUTPUT BOOST

Eight More Firms Get Go Ahead.

BY CHARLES GOTTHART.

The war production board yesterday authorized the manufacture of an additional 376,768 electric irons, bringing the authorized total to 769,338, but cautioned housewives that substantial numbers of irons would not be available at the stores until autumn. The only midwest firm sharing in the newest authorization to eight manufacturers is the Metalware corporation of Two Rivers, Wis., which was allotted 16,500 irons.

Twelve manufacturers already had been given permission to turn out electric irons from materials not needed in war production and in areas where their manufacture would not interfere with war work. The firms were reported still placing their orders for raw materials, and the WPB said another three months would be required before fabrication is under way in volume.

1944 Output Delayed.

The agency said the 1944 program still calls for the manufacture of 2 million irons, altho production has been delayed since the schedule was first announced several months ago. Manufacturers said the office of price administration's failure to act on virtually blanket requests for higher price ceilings had been the principal delaying factor.

DeWitt Emery, president of the National Small Business Men's association, Chicago, asserted that rigid adherence to an inflexible price policy would defeat the government's aim of controling inflation. Declaring manufacturers' experience in dealing with OPA had been unsatisfactory, he said:

"Small companies are not asking for permission to increase their profits, but merely seek an opportunity to stay in business. Obviously they cannot manufacture and sell their product under pre-war price ceilings and pay 25 per cent more for labor and raw materials.

Declares Bottleneck Near.

"If OPA persists in its refusal to adjust prices when higher ceilings are clearly necessary, a bottleneck will be created damming up needed supplies of refrigerators, washers, and other items that the war has made scarce. Such items made available now would drain off the surplus purchasing power that economists fear may lead eventually to severe inflation.

"Little business of America was heartened when the WPB removed the bars against civilian goods production in plants employing 100 or fewer people, where such production would not interfere with war work. But the OPA must help or the program will not succeed."

Chicago officials of the Smaller War Plants corporation said there would be no blanket release of materials for a return to civilian goods production, but promised to expedite appeals made on an individual company basis. Seventy per cent of the requests had been granted in the last two months under a system allowing the Chicago office wider independence from Washington in deciding the appeals, and this ratio will probably rise under the more liberal WPB program, the officials said.

Materials heretofore restricted to war uses are cleared for civilian production thru the regular WPB machinery, and more consideration is being given smaller plants regardless of the products they made before the war, the SWPC reported.

Second Wood Waste Alcohol Plant Is Authorized by WPB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 15.—WPB Chairman Nelson today announced WPB approval of a $2,247,000 project under which the Willamette Valley Wood Chemical company will build a plant near Eugene, Ore., to produce industrial alcohol from wood wastes.

This is the second authorization WPB has given far western projects to utilize wood wastes for alcohol. Last February the agency agreed to permit the Puget Sound Pulp and Timber company to erect a plant near Bellingham, Wash., where alcohol will be made from sulphite liquor obtained from wood pulp. This is the process which THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE pioneered at Thorold, Ont., a year ago.

Jeffers Gave Aid.

When the agency rejected a priority for materials for the Thorold plant the Canadian government cooperated with THE TRIBUNE, and William M. Jeffers, then rubber program administrator, aided in getting necessary materials. Alcohol produced from the waste was used to manufacture Trib-buna tires, which were successfully tested last year in cross-country driving.

The Tribune plant, owned by the Ontario Paper company, the newspaper's paper making subsidiary, has an estimated capacity of 700,000 gallons of alcohol a year and it is estimated that if all the sulphite liquor now wasted in America were similarly processed the annual potential yield would be 90 million gallons of alcohol.

The successful operation of the Thorold plant was cited by Rep. Coffee [D., Wash.] in obtaining WPB approval of the Bellingham plant, which is expected to get into production this fall.

The Eugene plant will utilize waste other than wood pulp in obtaining alcohol. Nelson said the project had been approved on the basis of its exploratory value. Successful development of a method for large scale industrial alcohol production from wood wastes would represent a form of national insurance against any future raw materials shortages, he asserted. Feed and food grains, sugars from the subtropics, and petroleum presently form the basis of the nation's current record industrial alcohol program, which calls for production of 611 million gallons a year.

Can't Produce Before 1945.

Nelson said the Oregon plant, with a capacity of 4,100,000 gallons a year, presumably cannot be placed in production until next spring and therefore cannot make any immediate contribution to the war program. It was because of this, he said, that a previous request for approval was turned down.

Nelson said there is enough suitable wood waste to make more than 100 million gallons of alcohol a year by the Eugene type of operation if it becomes necessary to give up the use of grain because of its need as food.

WMC PUTS CEILING ON EMPLOYMENT OF MALES IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., May 15 (AP).—A ceiling on male employment in the Detroit area became effective today by order of the WMC affecting nearly 1,000 firms employing approximately 800,000 workers. The WMC regional offices estimated that by July 1, the program will affect virtually 90 per cent of all employers in the Detroit area and more than 1.2 million workers.

The ceilings are to be set as of the pay roll period nearest to May 1, and working forces in any instance above this base must be reduced thru normal losses, no worker to be discharged, laid off, or graded down to bring about the reduction.

As of May 15, employers of 200 or more may not replace male labor losses until male employment has been reduced to 97 per cent of the base period figure, and as of July 1, they will be able to hire men only if male employment has fallen to 95 per cent of the May 1 figure. Beginning July 1, the rules apply to employers of 50 or more.

MINNESOTA TAX ON NORTHWEST PLANES UPHELD

State Line's 'Home,' High Court Rules.

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The Supreme court, in its first decision involving state taxation of interstate air commerce, today laid down the principle that the home state of an air line has the right to tax all property which does not remain continuously out of the state during the tax year.

The five-to-four opinion by Justice Frankfurter upheld a personal property tax which Minnesota levied in 1939 against the entire fleet of Northwest Airlines, which has its headquarters in St. Paul.

Four Rulings on Taxes.

The decision was one of four on state taxation in which the court also:

1. Upheld a decision which denied the International Harvester company the right to recover gross income taxes collected by Indiana in 1935 and 1936.

2. Ruled that a company outside of Arkansas was not required to pay the state's 2 per cent sales tax on orders obtained by solicitors or by telephone and mail. The five-to-four opinion by Justice Frankfurter declared that for Arkansas to impose a tax on such transactions "would be to project its powers beyond its boundaries and to tax an interstate transaction." Justices Douglas, Black, Murphy, and Rutledge dissented.

3. Upheld the validity of an Iowa law imposing a 2 per cent tax on personal property bought for use in the state and making a retailer responsible for collection of the levy. Justice Frankfurter wrote the seven to two opinion which said the tax is a "non-discriminatory excise" and that it is a "familiar and sanctioned device" to make the retailer a tax collector for the state. Justices Jackson and Roberts dissented.

Minnesota Held Business Home.

In the Northwest Airlines case, Justice Frankfurter said the company's domiciliary state was Minnesota because the company's principal place of business is in St. Paul.

"The relation between Northwest and Minnesota—a relation existing between no other state and Northwest—and the benefits which this relation affords are the constitutional foundation for the taxing power which Minnesota has as-

6 RAIL STOCKS

Our rail analyst has selected six issues believed to have lagged in view of their marked reduction in debt and savings in fixed charges. This study also shows the improvement in working capital and possible benefits from lower post-war taxes.

MEN'S CLOTHING BUYERS SEEKING STANDARD ITEMS

Avoid Substitutes; Most Supplies Are Short.

"Hysteria buying" by dealers which characterized the 1943 showing of men's and boy's fall and winter apparel was absent yesterday at the opening of the Chicago clothing show in the Merchandise Mart, exhibitors reported.

"The buyers know this year that they will receive their allotment regardless of what day they arrive at the show, and there is no rush to get ahead of the other fellow," said Maurice L. Heller, show chairman and vice president of Swank, Inc. Heller reported two other trends which were not present at the previous show.

Shun Sub-Standard Items.

One was that merchants were seeking "standard items" wherever possible against the time when civilian production controls would be eased and the buying public would be less eager to accept "substandard or substitute items." The other was a full attendance by salesmen whose territories cover at least six midwest states in order that there be no doubt what their allotments should be. Last year some salesmen were on the road during the show.

Shortages in men's and boys' furnishings continue, exhibitors said. Supplies depend upon the availability of labor, goods, and the extent of military and lend-lease demands. Customer allotments in pajamas, sport and dress shirts, sweaters, and hosiery ranged from 50 to 75 per cent of their 1943 allotments, they reported.

Underwear Supply Low.

The underwear supply was reported low. One dealer said he could not book any winter lines as they were not ready. Supplies of yarns and the weights which will be available is indefinite, he said.

The outlook for sweaters was dimmed by a recent war production board order which forbade—effective last Saturday—the spinning of worsted yarn except for government orders.

In the heavier lines, a Chicago manufacturer of men's suits reported brisk business and said allotments were about 75 per cent of 1943 deliveries.

BIGELOW-SANFORD.

May I have a report on the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company, Inc.? —N. D.

Answer: The company is the largest domestic manufacturer of rugs and carpets. Output is widely diversified as to quality and price. Plants have been converted to the production of army blankets, cotton duck, and other war fabrics, as well as for the production of machine tools. Manufacture of carpets and rugs has been sharply curtailed because of the shortage of imported wools, but the supply situation has improved considerably.

Altho sales have been at a high level during the last two years, low profit margins resulted in a decline in earnings. For the year ended Dec. 31, 1943, net income was reported at $937,572, or $2.48 a share on common stock and included $650,000 representing a credit for refund of 1941 federal income taxes because of the carry back of the 1943 unused excess profits credit. Net for 1942 was $1,261,553, or $3.52 a share, compared with $6.01 for 1941, $6.11 for 1940, and $6.45 for 1939. A loss was reported for 1938.

Capitalization consists of 26,403 shares of $100 par value 6 per cent preferred stock and 313,609 shares of no par common. Common dividends were omitted in 1935 and 1938. Subsequent payments were: 1939, $1; 1940, $3; 1941, $4; 1942-'43, $2.

Current assets of $19,490,216 at the end of 1943 included $2,659,119 cash and $1,050,000 of United States bonds, and compared with current liabilities of $2,229,206.

LA SALLE U. BUYS LOOP BUILDING; TO MOVE IN JUNE

BY AL CHASE.

La Salle Extension university, Chicago business school established 36 years ago, yesterday bought the 11 story Plymouth building at 417 S. Dearborn st., and after a $50,000 remodeling program will move in June from its present location at the southeast corner of Michigan av. and 41st st. Altho the price was not disclosed, it is understood that thru an adjustment of a mortgage held by the New England Life Insurance company the university paid $100,000 cash.

City Buys Former Site.

The Michigan-41st corner, improved with a three story fireproof building, 150 by 160 feet, which the university has occupied with its correspondence courses since 1908, was sold to the city of Chicago for $150,000, county records disclosed.

The building is to be remodeled by the board of education at a cost of $150,000 from plans by Architect John C. Christensen, and opened in the fall as a public school. Work will be rushed, Christensen said, to relieve a shortage of school facilities in the neighborhood. It will accommodate 1,600 pupils, it was said.

Other Building a High School.

L. G Elliott, president of La Salle Extension, said the two story building at 4046 S. Michigan av. recently was sold to the Catholic bishop of Chicago, for $37,500. It is being used as a high school.

La Salle will consolidate all of its correspondence facilities in the Plymouth building and in additional rented space in the Mergenthaler building, 431 Plymouth court. It also maintains a business school at 9 W. Washington st.

MINNESOTA LEVY ON NORTHWEST'S AIR FLEET VALID

State Is Line's 'Home,' High Court Rules.

serted," Justice Frankfurter said. "On the basis of rights which only Minnesota originated and Minnesota continues to safeguard, she alone can tax the property which is permanently attributable to Minnesota and to no other state."

Payments by Northwest of personal property taxes in 1939 to other states on a portion of its fleet did not abridge Minnesota's power of taxation as the home state of the fleet, the opinion held.

Commerce Clause Violated.

Chief Justice Stone, in a dissent joined by Justices Roberts, Reed and Rutledge, contended the tax violated the commerce clause of the constitution. The court's decision subjects a new and important industry to essentially discriminatory state tax burdens "to which other interstate carriers are not subject and which it was the very purpose of the commerce clause to avoid," he said.

In the International Harvester case the company paid taxes on gross receipts from three classes of sales and then sought a refund on the ground that the assessments constituted a burden on interstate commerce. The Indiana Supreme court upheld the legality of the taxes.

In a seven to one opinion by Justice Douglas the Supreme court said that where a state seeks to tax gross receipts from interstate transactions completed within its borders, "its power to do so cannot be withheld on constitutional grounds where it treats wholly local transactions the same way." Justice Jackson dissented. Justice Roberts took no part in the case.

Patent Decision Set Aside.

Acting on a complaint that fraud was practiced upon the third federal Circuit court the Supreme court set aside a decision by the lower tribunal which declared valid a patent held by the Hartford-Empire company, Hartford, Conn. Justice Black delivered the five to four opinion to which Chief Justice Stone and Justices Roberts, Reed, and Frankfurter dissented on technical procedure for disposing of the case.

The patent covered an improvement in mechanical glass bottle blowing. The Circuit court held the patent valid and decided it had been infringed by Hazel-Atlas company.

Hazel-Atlas appealed, asserting that a trade journal article entered in the trial record had misled the court. Hazel-Atlas said the article apparently was written by a disinterested labor union official, but actually was prepared by a Hartford-Empire attorney.

The court ordered reargument in the first week of its October term of a case involving justice department charges that a group of glassware companies had violated anti-trust laws by conspiring to obtain a monopoly. Involved are the Hartford-Empire company, Corning Glass Works, Empire Machine company, Owens-Illinois Glass company, Hazel-Atlas Glass company, Thatcher Manufacturing company, Lynch corporation, Ball Brothers company, and the Glass Container association. Federal District court at Toledo sustained government charges and issued decrees.

LABORITES URGE NATIONALIZING BRITAIN'S BANKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 16 [Tuesday].—Government control of banks, including the Bank of England, was advocated by the national executive committee of the Labor party last night in a report outlining its plans to maintain full employment after the war.

"The report, which will be submitted at the forthcoming Labor party conference in London, insists that the war time system of financial control must continue in peace until a more permanent arrangement can be made. It declares that the present position of the Bank of England, "which is in effect no more than a section of the treasury subject to the direction of the chancellor of the exchequer and the cabinet," must be made permanent.

The chancellor, the report urges, should have "the statutory power that has been voluntarily agreed upon during the war to require any bank to lend him any sum he likes for as long as he likes and on what terms he likes."

TERMS MIDLAND REVAMP OUTLINE 'A CONSPIRACY'

Philadelphia, Pa., May 15 (AP).—Clarence U. Carruth Jr., New York, representing holders of Midland Utilities company's 6 and 7 per cent prior lien preferred stock, told the securities and exchange commission today that the Midland United-Midland Utilities joint plan of reorganization is "not a true compromise, but more in the nature of a conspiracy." The commission's staff, in attempting to justify the plan, has gone far beyond its functions and is attempting to exercise powers of the District court."

Today's oral argument brings closer to solution the complicated intercorporate financing of the Insull empire, in litigation under the bankruptcy act for 10 years. Nearly 15,000 pages of testimony and several thousand exhibits have been taken in court and SEC hearings. Thirteen briefs were entered previous to the argument.

Carruth termed the plan "an agreement of certain parties to divide the Utilities estate among themselves, to the detriment of other parties." Counsel for the two companies argued in favor of the plan.

BAN ON FREIGHT RATE INCREASES EXTENDED BY ICC

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The ICC ruled today that an order suspending railroad freight rate increases should remain in effect until Jan. 1, 1945.

Trucking interests and other shippers had suggested modification to permit earlier collection of the higher rates.

The commission said added revenue from the increases authorized in April, 1943, was "not necessary or justified" under present conditions and that current revenue would meet the objectives of the national transportation policy.

Deadline Set for Filing Rock Island Objections

Federal District Judge Igoe yesterday set June 15 as the deadline for filing objections to an interstate commerce commission plan for reorganization of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway. June 23 was set for hearing such objections.

GRAIN FUTURES DIP ON IMPROVED CROP PROSPECT

Clear and warm weather over the grain belt improved the agricultural outlook and created bearish sentiment yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Reports that wheat and other small grains were making rapid advancement and plowing for corn was being pushed to the limit caused general selling of all grain futures.

Wheat futures closed ¾ to 1⅛ cents a bushel lower. Rye was ⅞ to 1¾ cents lower. Oats lost ⅝ to 1⅛ cents and barley closed 1¾ to 2⅝ cents lower. December wheat, oats, and rye sold at new seasonal low prices and the active near-by futures of wheat and rye were lowest since late last year.

The break was paced by the Winnipeg rye market where futures finished 3⅝ to 4⅛ cents lower on selling attributed to American interests.

Contends Willys Has 1st Claim to Name 'Jeep'

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—Eugene M. Rice, a sales representative, insisted at a federal trade commission hearing today that his company, Willys-Overland Motors, holds an original claim to the name "jeep." He appeared to answer a complaint the company misrepresented the vehicle's development in advertising. The commission contends the name was the idea of the American Bantam Car company of Butler, Pa.

HILLMAN CALLS FOR RE-ELECTION OF ROOSEVELT

Tells His CIO Unionists Where Duty Lies.

"Altho President Roosevelt is tired from his 11 arduous years in office, he will see his duty, because he has never shirked his duty in the past, and it becomes our responsibility to reëlect him Nov. 7," Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO political action committee and president of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union, told the 974 delegates to the union's 14th biennial convention in Hotel Sherman yesterday.

Mayor Kelly and the Very Rev. Msgr. Reynold S. Hillenbrand, director of St. Mary of the Lake seminary, also spoke at the first session of the convention, which will continue thru the week. Samuel Levin, vice president of the union and manager of the union's Chicago joint board, presided at the opening meeting. The delegates represent 325,000 members.

Mayor Eulogizes F. D. R.

Kelly eulogized President Roosevelt and called him the "greatest humanitarian in the world."

While the clothing workers were in session, Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed in Washington, D. C., that she planned to come to Chicago Thursday to address the convention, which she referred to as "Sidney Hillman's convention."

Hillman emphasized that it was the duty of every citizen to register and vote in the Nov. 7 elections because, he said, "if they don't find time they may find nothing but time when they are without work after the war."

Hillman Backs New Deal.

The CIO leader praised the New Deal administration on both the home and foreign fronts, but sharply criticized the present 78th congress, which he charged with attempting to nullify the President's program for national economic stabilization on the home front.

"The country wants not less of the New Deal, but wants more of the New Deal," Hillman shouted.

"Remember, if we lose Nov. 7, we have lost everything."

Hillman read a telegram formulated by the union's executive board to Gen. Eisenhower, expressing confidence in his leadership and in the "skill, determination, and bravery of his troops" in the great offensive to come.

Third Swift Generation Honored

World War Veteran

Louis F. Swift Jr., grandson of Gustavus F. Swift, founder of Swift & Co., meat packers, yesterday received a 25 year service pin from his uncle, Charles H. Swift, chairman of the board, upon completion of his 25th year with the firm. He joined the company in 1919 when he was mustered out of the army as a first lieutenant. He is engaged now as a calf buyer for the firm.

ILLNESS DELAYS MAYOR'S ACTION AGAINST TAVERN

Mayor Charles Portilia of Highwood was confined to his home with pneumonia yesterday and, pending his recovery, the tavern at 53 Highwood av., which the state liquor commission is only 86 feet from the Highwood Methodist church, continued to operate. License for the tavern was granted by Fidel Ghini, acting mayor, during Mayor Portilia's absence in Rochester, Minn., to Ghini's brother-in-law, Harold Snavely. Ghini said the tavern is more than 100 feet, the legal minimum, from the church.

PACKING LOCAL SUES TO ENJOIN UNION BOSSES

Judge John J. Lupe in Superior court yesterday referred to John J. Kelly, master in chancery, a petition for a temporary injunction to restrain the CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America from removing D. J. Williams, president, and 12 other officers recently elected by local 25. The petition brought by the local stated that the international union was attempting to remove the officers on the ground that more time should have elapsed between the primary and the election. Williams has been president for four years.

COUNTY OBTAINS $198,954 IN '44 FOR PATIENTS' CARE

Cook county received $198,954 for the care of patients at County hospital and Oak Forest infirmary up to April 30 this year, compared with $182,859 for the the entire year of 1943, Joseph L. Moss, director of the county bureau of public welfare, said yesterday. Part of the increase, he said, resulted from an amendment to the state pauper law by the last legislature, providing for the payment of some cases from relief funds instead of county funds.

ILLINOIS COURT GRANTS REVIEW OF AIRPORT CASE

Springfield, Ill., May 15 (AP).—The Illinois Supreme court today granted a rehearing of its March decision which knocked out as unconstitutional the 1943 municipal airport authorities act.

The court ordered filing of supplementary arguments in June and July, during the court's vacation period, thus making possible a new opinion or an affirmation or modification of the first decision after the tribunal reconvenes Sept. 11.

Chief Justice June C. Smith who wrote the opinion declaring the act "purports to authorize the authority to levy and collect taxes for a non-corporate and private purpose," today issued a statement of instructions.

Additional Briefs Ordered.

"Both parties are directed to file additional briefs on the questions presented in the original briefs and in the petition for rehearing, and on whether the acquisition, maintenance, and operation of an airport in the manner provided in the act will constitute the acquisition, maintenance, and operation of a public municipal airport," the statement said.

"Also on the further questions of the effect of the act as purporting to confer on an airport authority the power to levy taxes for the acquisition, maintenance, and operation of an airport on property located within an existing municipality having power to levy taxes for the same purpose, and the validity of subsections 6 and 7 of section 8, insofar as they purport to authorize the taking of property already devoted to a public use."

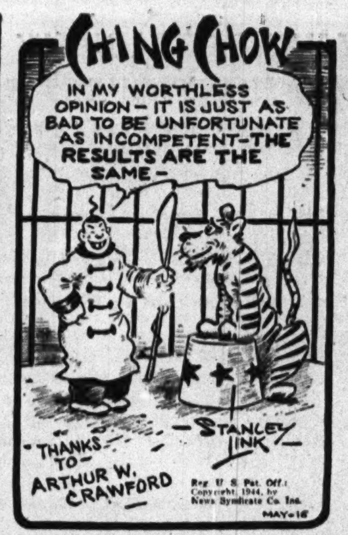
The constitutional challenge was brought to the court by several taxpayers against the Springfield airport authority.

Cities' Motions Dismissed.

The court dismissed motions by 41 downstate cities, three other airport authorities, and the city of Chicago to file briefs supporting the Springfield authority.

The motions had contended airport plans of at least 45 downstate cities had been halted by the decision and that a legal cloud covers all Illinois legislation governing acquisition and operation of municipal airports.

The city of Chicago had maintained provisions of the outlawed act were substantially the same as provisions of the revised cities and villages act, under which the Chicago municipal airport has been established and operated.



CONVICT DRAFT AID OF FRAUD TO DEFER SON

Felix Paul Stella, 51, of 2939 Van Buren st., former member of draft board No. 39, at 2124 Van Buren st., was found guilty by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday on charges of improper deferment of registrants and filing false affidavits.

Edward Arthur Chill, 47, of 2650 W. 23d pl., former secretary of the board, testified for the government that he had helped Stella prepare a false affidavit to enable one of Stella's son, Frank, 19, to obtain classification as an essential war worker. Chill has pleaded guilty to a charge of classifying registrants improperly and counseling them on how to evade service.

Judge Igoe referred the case to probation officers and told Stella that the question of his punishment would be determined at a hearing June 16.

FEDERAL QUERY SERVICE SHIFTS TO WABASH 5500

The telephone number of the federal government information service, which answers 400 to 500 queries a day ranging from how to enroll a pup in dogs for defense to where to find some scarce chrome molybdenum steel, has been changed from ANDover 3770 to WABash 5500, it was announced yesterday.

Philip L. McDonough, regional director of the division of central administrative services, said his office had been handling the calls for a year altho it is not part of its regular program, but that the office of civilian defense information bureau at 209 W. Jackson blvd. had agreed to take over the task.

NAVY REQUESTED TO SPUR OUTPUT OF ELK HILLS OIL

Washington, D. C., May 15 (AP).—The joint chiefs of staff have asked the navy to more than quadruple the oil output of the Elk Hills [Cal.] reserve to meet increasing requirements in the Pacific war, congress was advised today.

Ralph A. Bard, assistant secretary of the navy, made the disclosure to the house naval affairs committee during consideration of a measure to redefine arrangements between the navy and the Standard Oil company of California for joint working of the field.

Bard suggested that speedy action opening the Elk Hills fields to greatly expanded production was so necessary that a temporary measure should be considered.

65,000 Barrel Output Urged.

He urged adoption of a congressional resolution authorizing the navy to expand the output from 15,000 barrels to 65,000 barrels a day.

The resolution would allow the reserve to be tapped of 30 million barrels of petroleum prior to the end of 1945.

"A large increase in production is imperative," Bard declared.

Rep. Vinson [D., Ga.], committee chairman, told the committee he was "unalterably opposed" to the contract idea worked out for Elk Hills by the late Navy Secretary Knox, and that a so-called "unit plan" whereby the navy and Standard Oil together would develop the the field as one unit had too many loopholes in it.

Opposes Loss of Control.

Vinson said his primary objection was that the terms of the bill Knox proposed would remove the reserve from the jurisdiction of congress.

He suggested legislative action to:

1. Require the secretary of the navy to have congressional approval for the quantity of production.

2. Forbid the navy to advance or lend its oil to the Standard Oil firm.

3. Put all the financing of the entire reserve directly under congress. The navy would not be permitted to sell oil and operate on those proceeds, but it would have to submit a budget annually.

"The navy has agreed that these principles should be embodied in any contract," Vinson said.

Y Secretary in Kankakee Gets Post in Elkhart, Ind.

J. E. Robertson, for the last 14 years general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Kankakee, has been appointed executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Elkhart, Ind. He assumes his new duties June 15.

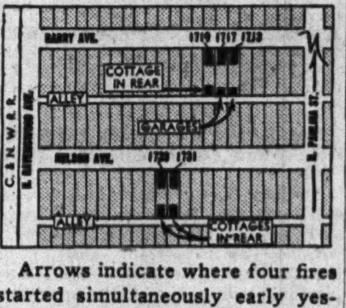
(Story in adjoining column.)



Arrows indicate where four fires started simultaneously early yesterday. The cottage in rear of 1719 Barry av. also was slightly damaged.

DODGE WORKERS VOTE IN RELAYS FOR OFFICERS

In a large tent erected across the street from the main offices of the Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler corporation, 7401 Cicero av., thousands of members of local 274 of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union, began voting yesterday to elect officers for the first time since the union won a national labor board election April 18.

The election, held in relays, will continue until 11 a. m. today. Then the polls will close until 11 a. m. tomorrow, when the voting will be resumed. The polls finally close at 11 a. m. Thursday.

Among the candidates are: Robert Wright, former regional director of the CIO-AUW, opposing George Schreck and Henry Tough for president; Robert Hardy, Dan Rolfs, and Irving Simenovich for first vice president; Louis Wagner and Michael Ferrandino for financial secretary, and Mary Murray, Joseph Jagar, Anthony Mazzarella, William McElligott, and Robert Compton for treasurer.

Local 274 won the bargaining rights among production and maintenance and machinists workers. More than 12,000 members of the union are eligible to vote for the candidates nominated for the 12 union offices, said Pat Greathouse, international representatives of the UAW.

Sailor Visitor's Pockets Picked; Woman Is Fined

Mrs. F. S. Foster, 40, of 611 N. Dearborn st. was fined $200 and costs by Judge Frank E. Donoghue in Women's court yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge. R. L. Schulze, 40, of 54 W. Ohio st., a merchant sailor, said two $1,000 war bonds and two checks for $137 were stolen from his coat pocket when he visited Mrs. Foster recently.

FIREBUG SOUGHT AS 6 ARE HURT IN MYSTERY BLAZE

Police and fire department investigators are searching for a firebug who early yesterday started a fire at 1733 Nelson st., in which six persons were injured. At or about the same time fires started also in garages in the rear of 1713 and 1717, and a cottage in the rear of 1719 Barry av., adjoining the Nelson st. address.

Those hurt in the Nelson st. fire, indirectly or directly as a result of the blaze, were: Jerry O'Steen, 1; his mother, Mrs. Dorothy O'Steen, 21; her father-in-law, Enos O'Steen, his wife, Kate; Mrs. Lena Kareton, 45, of 3048 N. Ashland av., and Frank Struck, 40, of 1737 Nelson st.

The fire started in the O'Steen home, then spread next door to 1731 Nelson. The injuries occurred as follows. Jerry O'Steen suffered possible internal injuries in being thrown 18 feet by his mother into the arms of her brother, J. P. Olds. Mrs. O'Steen leaped, fracturing her wrist, and Struck suffered a shoulder wrench in catching her. Mr. and Mrs. Enos O'Steen suffered burns. Mrs. Kareton suffered a broken knee cap in tripping over a hose.

WEST BUS LINE HEARING DRAWS TOWARD CLOSE

Hearings on the Blue Bird Motor Coach company case before the Illinois commerce commission were reported drawing to a close yesterday. Examiner Benjamin Morris and Robert Friedlander said that one or two more sessions should be enough to finish testimony and legal arguments.

The Blue Bird company for some years has operated a bus service from Berwyn to the loop and carries approximately one million passengers a year. The commerce commission authorized establishment of the company, an action opposed by the Chicago and West Towns Railway company. The commission was upheld in Circuit court, but the Illinois Supreme court ordered the regulatory body to hear more testimony.

When the evidence is all in, the commission will make another ruling. Residents of the western suburbs have urged retention of the Blue Bird service.

BURGLARS MAKE $4,000 HAUL.

Sylvan Joss, 5004 N. California av., general manager of H. Piper company, wholesale bakers at 1610 N. Wells st., told police last night that thieves stole $400 and two rings valued at $3,600 in a burglary of his home.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

"HAM AND EGGS PARTY" SURPRISED!

This amusing incident is described elsewhere in The Tribune in today's instalment of "God on a Battle Wagon," by Chaplain James V. Claypool.

Reproduced from a painting by Gary Sheahan, Tribune artist, the picture above illustrates a humorous detail of Capt. James V. Claypool's experiences as chaplain of the battleship South Dakota. Sailors of the vessel were enjoying a secret "ham and eggs supper" in the ship's library after "lights out" when the chaplain walked in on them. How it all happened is disclosed in Captain Claypool's own story "God on a Battle Wagon" as told to Carl Wiegman. For particulars see today's instalment of the story which is appearing serially in The Tribune.
